THE NATION'S EMS CERTIFICATION™

December 7, 2011

US Coast Guard – Petaluma
EMS School

The National Registry of Emergency Medical Technicians has recognized branches of the US Military, including the US Coast Guard as a Designated Authority (State) since the mid 1980's.

The NREMT relies on the partnership between State EMS offices to verify currently authorized initial EMS education institutions or programs. The Coast Guard EMS School is currently recognized as an authorized initial education program.

If you have any additional questions, please feel free to contact our office.
