- d. Candidates must meet the Special Assignments criteria outlined in reference (b).
 - e. Meet the Coast Guard's weight standards set forth in reference (c).
5. In addition to the eligibility requirements, the candidates' records of service must demonstrate an adherence to the Coast Guard's core values of Honor, Respect, and Devotion to Duty. Failure to conform to these core values will disqualify a candidate from further consideration.
6. I want to add a personal note reflecting my concerns about the Special Agent screening process. Assignment as a Special Agent represents the highest level of trust and confidence we place in our people. Those selected must reflect the highest standards of conduct, integrity, capability, attitude, and military bearing. A Special Agent invariably becomes involved in situations requiring immediate action and making unpopular decisions. These challenges can only be met by people with sound character who have demonstrated a true commitment to the Coast Guard. If we are to be successful in recruiting and retaining a quality work force in the investigative field, we must ensure only the best candidates are selected for this important position. As an organization we must strive to place the most responsible enlisted members into positions as Special Agents. You and the panel members are the principal guarantors that the proper balance of pride, dedication, discipline, moral ethics and professional skills abide in our Special Agents. You have been very carefully selected to accomplish this task.
7. The candidates you select must be capable of building on their past Coast Guard experience and/or training, to meet current missions and operational tempo. The Coast Guard is firmly committed to equality of treatment and opportunity for all personnel without regard to race, creed, color, gender, national origin, or occupational specialty. Your selectees must be able to help the Coast Guard provide superior public service across all missions of the Coast Guard Investigative Service and foster cohesiveness in our workforce. They must have the ability to form effective partnerships within and outside of the service.
8. The goal of this screening panel is to produce a rank-ordered list of fully qualified personnel. Members who meet all minimum requirements shall be considered fully qualified, but may not necessarily be selected for additional screening based on Service need. The members at the top of the rank-ordered list that are most prepared for assignment as a Special Agent shall be noted by the panel. CGIS staff will use this list to determine members selected for additional, more rigorous screening.
9. The panel will be provided with the necessary records and clerical assistance. A member of PSC-epm-1 will brief you on the nature of the records.
10. The panel shall submit a written report to me.
11. At the end of the panel, all members must be able to say that each successfully screened candidate is, in the opinion of at least a majority of the members of the panel, fully qualified for assignment as a Special Agent. The recommendation of the panel shall be kept confidential until the report is approved and the names of screened candidates are released to the Service via ALCGENL.
