

RESOLUTE'S DAUNTLESS TASK

Crewmembers from Coast Guard Cutter Resolute, homeported in St. Petersburg, Fla., are taking care of the Coast Guard Cutter Dauntless while it is moored in St. Petersburg. The Dauntless' crew, homeported in Galveston, Texas, is attending to the needs of their families in the devastating aftermath of Hurricane Ike. Many of the crewmember's homes and vehicles were damaged when the storm made landfall Sept. 13.

LEFT: Seaman Ryan Mac-Glaughlin, a Resolute crewmember, wipes dirt from Dauntless' stern before fresh paint is applied.

ABOVE: Seaman Matt McCorcle runs a deck grinder to remove non-skid from the cutter's fantail.

RIGHT: Seaman Francisco Rodriguez hammers remaining non-skid left over from the deck grinder.

Photos and layout by PA3 Rob Simpson

