

COMMANDER JAMES "BRETT" MILLICAN

Commander Brett Millican graduated from the U.S. Coast Guard Academy with a B.S. in Management in 1992. His first tour was as Deck Watch Officer and Supply Department Head aboard CGC VIGILANT in Port Canaveral, Florida. He then served as Executive Officer aboard CGC NUNIVAK at Naval Station Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico.

After selection to the Financial Management Postgraduate Program, he attended George Mason University in Fairfax, Virginia where he earned an MBA. Upon graduating in 1998, he served as a Contract Specialist and Budget Analyst in the Major Systems Acquisition Contract Support (G-ACS) and Commandant's Budget Offices (G-CBU) at Coast Guard Headquarters in Washington, D.C. From there he served as Executive Officer aboard CGC SUNDEW in Duluth, Minnesota from 2001-2003, Chief of Training and Readiness at Pacific Area Operations Headquarters from 2003-2007, and Operations Officer aboard CGC BOUTWELL in Alameda, California. CDR Millican began serving as Comptroller at ISC Portsmouth in July 2008, and in September 2009 he added the duties of the Executive Officer of BSU Portsmouth.
