“LogTows” tolerant Flotilla 66

Dean Wimer, Glenn Smith, Paul Billick & Sheila Langué answered the call for help from the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation and Washington County Parks in cleaning up Hagg Lake in Oregon. They safely corralled & towed logs & other dangerous debris from the lake, depositing them on sites where loaders removed them. The Auxiliary team safely completed ten towing evolutions, each towing up to eight or ten large chunks of wood or two or three logs at a time. The total effort (Auxiliary & others) resulted in excess of 50 truck loads of material being hauled off with still more to be completed.
