GRAND ISLE

WELCOME ABOARD PACKAGE

COAST GUARD STATION GRAND ISLE

Address –453 Admiral Craik Dr, Grand Isle, LA 70358

Coast Guard Station Grand Isle is located on the NE corner of the island, about 2 and a half hours south of New Orleans. STA Grand Isle is a small boat station consisting of two 41' UTB boats, two 33' SPC-(LE)boats, and two 24' SPC-SW boats. Nearby Coast Guard Operational units include Sector New Orleans, Station New Orleans, Air Station New Orleans, Station Venice, and several other Coast Guard stations and cutters. Station Grand Isle is staffed by one LT (CO), one BMC (XPO), one MKC (EPO), one HS, one MK1, four MK2s, five MK3s, three FNs, four BM1s, four BM2s, six BM3s, four SNs, one SK1, one EM1, one EM3, one FS1, and two FS3s.

Station Grand Isle is located in Jefferson Parish at the southern tip of LA Hwy 1. Grand Isle is the only inhabited barrier island in the state of Louisiana. The primary businesses for island residents are tourism, the seafood industry, and oilfield related professions. Originally inhabited in the early 1700's, Grand Isle is a relatively small community with a population of approximately 1,500 people. However, during the summer when vacationers begin flocking to the island, it is occupied by more than 12,000 tourists taking part in activities such as the Grand Isle International Tarpon Rodeo and Fourth of July festivities. The wide beaches of the Gulf serve as excellent place to decompress after a long work week. The area has been rated one of the top "10" spots in the country to sport fish.

The remote location poses unique challenges to arriving members. We are 45 minutes from any services, retail stores, and restaurants. The town has one supermarket, two gas stations, two marinas, three restaurants, and a few shops. There are no daycare facilities on the island. The closest fast food restaurants and Walmart are located "up the bayou" in Galliano, a 45 minute drive. The town of Houma has all the retail stores, restaurants, and services you would expect to find in a small city. Houma is 90 minutes from the station. Members carpool, pick items up for each other, and schedule weekly trips to these areas.

The heat in Louisiana can be oppressive during the summer, with extremely high levels of humidity. Since the unit is located on marshland, there is an abundant mosquito population almost year round. Hurricanes have left their mark on this island and evacuations are often necessary. Arriving members will receive a detailed hurricane package and briefing.

Station Grand Isle is one of the three priority "3" CONUS small boat stations in the Coast Guard. It is a true multi-mission station with a considerable workload.

Congratulations on your orders and joining the STA Grand Isle Team.

Base History

1919: The first Coast Guard unit in the Grand Isle area was commissioned in 1919 as Barataria Bay Station 214.

1960: The first 82 foot cutter assigned to Grand Isle was United States Coast Guard Cutter (USCGC) POINT YOUNG (WPB 82303) from 1960 to 1965.

1965: USCGC POINT YOUNG was assigned to Coast Guard Squadron One, Division 11 and deployed to Vietnam from 1965 to 1970. On March 16, 1979, POINT YOUNG was decommissioned as a Coast Guard cutter and transferred to South Vietnam as HQ 714.

1966: The second 82 foot cutter assigned to Grand Isle was USCGC POINT SAL (WPB 82352) commissioned on December 5, 1966 and faithfully served the Grand Isle area for the next 35 years.

1968: The current station of Grand Isle was commissioned on November 1, 1968 as Coast Guard Group Grand Isle which also included a LORAN "A" Station and Rescue Small Boat Station. Coast Guard Group Grand Isle had operational and administrative control of USCGC POINT SAL, home ported and collocated with Group and Station Grand Isle, USCGC POINT LOOKOUT (WPB 82341) home ported in Pascagoula, MS, USCG Station Grand Isle (collocated with Group Grand Isle and POINT SAL), Aids to Navigation Team (ANT) Dulac, LA and ANT Berwick, LA.

1980: The LORAN Station was closed on December 31, 1980

1987: The Coast Guard made an administrative consolidation of the units in this area and reassigned all units to Coast Guard Group New Orleans. On July 2, 1987, Group Grand Isle was decommissioned leaving only Station Grand Isle and USCGC POINT SAL located in Grand Isle.

2001: On May 29, 2001, POINT SAL was decommissioned and transferred to Columbia as part of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 designed to transfer to foreign nations excess boats and cutters that have been decommissioned or otherwise removed from service. The POINT SAL was replaced with an 87 foot cutter USCGC STURGEON (WPB 87336) commissioned on September 28, 2001.

Current: Coast Guard Station Grand Isle is currently billeted for 46 active duty personnel (1 commissioned officer and 45 enlisted members) and 4 enlisted reservists. The station operates:

Two 41' Utility Boats (UTB),

Two 33' Special Purpose Craft-Law
Enforcement (SPC-LE),

Two 24' Special Purpose Craft-
Shallow Water (SPC-SW)

Our base encompasses 29 acres and 35,000 square feet of operational and multi-purpose buildings including 24 government houses for personnel assigned with families and a nine room unaccompanied personnel housing (UPH) facility for single active duty members. In August of 2005, the base was ravaged by Hurricane Katrina and needed extensive to repair. The re-opening ceremony was held in October of 2006.

Living on the Island

Grand Isle is many things to many people. Thousands of summer visitors see it as sunny beaches, quaint town with interesting shops, and a variety of entertainment opportunities. Physically, Grand Isle runs along the Gulf for 10 miles. Northwest of it lies Port Fourchon, which is one of the fastest growing ports in the US.

Fishing

Grand Isle has been rates one of the top “10” fishing destinations in the country. All types of fishing, including game, bottom, and surf are excellent on Grand Isle.

Boating

There are several harbors where boats can be moored. Many people trailer their boats to one of the many public or town ramps that are on both sides of the Island. Several marinas and coves provide shelter and services to the large number of boaters that gather every summer. Boaters should make themselves aware of registration requirements, and required safety equipment before venturing out.

Hunting

The Grand Isle area is abundant in migratory birds and waterfowl that can be taken in season. There are also deer to be hunted north of Grand Isle. State licenses are required and federal bird stamps to hunt migrating waterfowl.

Beaches

Thousands of vacationers head for the Grand Isle’s 10 miles of sandy beach each year. Surfing is gaining popularity in the area, with fun knee to waist high waves being ridden year round.

Fire Pit & Pavilion

The unit has a large fire pit and pavilion area for unit shrimp/crawfish boils and bonfires.

Paintball

The station has inflatable paintball bunkers that are used to play at the base and there is also a small wooded course located on the island.

Movies

For movie fans, a Netflix subscription or a Blockbuster movie pass is essential to living on the island. You can mail your movies from the mailbox at the station, there is normally a three day turn around.

UNACCOMPANIED PERSONNEL HOUSING (UPH)

Rooms are available for single Coast Guard personnel adjacent to the station. The rooms are single occupancy, with a small fridge, bathroom, bed, and closets. When barracks space is unavailable, single personnel are eligible to live on the economy.

STA Grand Isle personnel who desire assignment to UPH must first check in with the XPO. They will be assigned a duty room if one is available, and will be placed on a waiting list for UPH. For more information about UPH, contact the XPO at (985) 787-2136.

PET Registration

STA Grand Isle housing policy states that no more than two pets are permitted per household. All pets must be registered, and an up-to-date shot record is required on all pets. Although there are no veterinarian facilities on base, the closest veterinarian facilities are South Lafourche Veterinary (985) 632-4500 or Lafourche Animal Hospital (985) 632-3333. (Neither as of 2009 are taking new clients—the closest is Animal Kingdom in Houma). If you have questions about pet owner responsibilities please feel free to contact XPO (985) 787-2136.

Employee Assistance Program (EAP Office)

The Employee Assistance Program (EAP) is part of the Coast Guard's Work Life Program. Each Integrated Support Command (ISC) has a Work Life Office and an EAP Coordinator. This program provides short-term counseling services and information referral to all active duty, family members and retired military personnel.

The EAP coordinator helps develop proactive and preventive programs that promote family wellness and enhance family functioning. Our services can provide you help with problems such as:

Emotional
Relationship
Family
Alcohol

Financial Job Concerns
New Job Assignment
PCS Moves

For information or to request services, contact the EAP at 1-800-222-0364.

Grand Isle Public Schools

Grand Isle School is unique... Grand Isle High School presented its first twelve-year diploma in May of 1942, to a class of one. Although the school's programs and campus have changed drastically over the last 63 years, the class sizes have remained delightfully small. Our student-teacher ratio is less than 15 students per teacher. This statistic is only one of many things that make us "one of a kind". We are a K-12 school. Over 33% of our faculties have a M.Ed. or better. Our faculty tenure is extremely stable as represented by an average of 18 years of teaching at Grand Isle School. We are a "rural" school in a large metropolitan school system. And last, but certainly not least, our "front yard" is the beautiful Gulf of Mexico. There is a Head Start preschool program located at the school for preschool children ages 3, 4 and 5. They can be reached at \(985\) 787-2577.

Educational Opportunities

For those interested in starting or continuing their college education while stationed in Grand Isle, services available include testing, counseling, and educational referrals/liaison with local colleges. Local colleges include Nicholls State University, 906 E 1st St, Thibodaux, LA (985) 446-8111, Southern University at New Orleans, 6400 Press Dr, New Orleans, LA (504) 286-5000.

Weapons Registration

On base, weapons may only be in your vehicle while being transported for legitimate reason (i.e. en route hunting or target range). At other times the weapon may be stored in family housing or off-base quarters. Individuals that will be living in the barracks must keep their weapons in the base armory. Please contact the OOD at Station Grand Isle for any more information.

Permissive Orders For House Hunting

Permissive orders for “house hunting trips” consist of up to ten days authorized absence to search for a new residence at the new duty station. This is specifically for the benefit of members with PCS orders. The five days absence is issued at the discretion of the Commanding Officer of the old duty station. It may be combined with leave or liberty to extend the period, but may not be combined with any travel, proceed time, or leave incident to PCS orders. Article 7-A-10.b(7) of the Personnel Manual allows the Commanding Officer at the gaining unit to grant administrative absences during circumstances (such as distance, cost, or TAD) for up to five working days when the member is unable to make use of permissive orders for house hunting prior to departing the last unit.

The City Of New Orleans

Grand Isle is only a 2 ½ hour drive from New Orleans, 'the big easy'.

New Orleans, the birth place of jazz, has a vibrant night life and eclectic music scene. Whether you wish to check out a national pop/rock/country act at the house of blues, local jazz musicians at snug harbor, or the weekly open mic/poetry readings at the maple leaf bar, there is something for every taste. New Orleans also hosts several music festivals throughout the year from the essence festival in early July to the voodoo music experience in late October.

Most notable is the a seven day festival (over two weekends in late April/early may) drawing attendees from around the globe to sample local cuisine, shop local artisans, and take in such diverse musical acts as Jimmy Buffett, Ani DiFranco, Tim McGraw, Bruce Springsteen and New Orleans' own Harry Connick Jr. For more info check out www.nojazzfest.com

Many people come to New Orleans for the signature cuisine: gumbo, muffulettas, crawfish etouffee, fried catfish po boys and many more culinary delights are available to tempt your appetite. Suggested dining experiences include visits to the acme oyster house, commanders' palace (where Emeril Lagasse got his start), any of Emeril's three restaurants and of course Café Du Monde for beignets and Café Au Laut.

Some people come for the architecture and unique neighborhoods. You can take a street car down St. Charles Ave to see the grand mansions of the garden district or stroll the streets of the historic French Quarter, shopping at the many jewelry and art shops on Royal Street. Just a few blocks from the Vieux Carre (as the locals call the French Quarter) is the Fauborg Marigny, a bohemian neighborhood with book shops, coffee houses and frequent street art exhibits/sales.

Steps away from the superdome are the warehouse/arts district featuring art galleries and museums. If you are looking for a break from the city, head to City Park: a 1300 acre oasis of walking paths, meadows and sports facilities. City Park is also home to the New Orleans museum of art and sculpture garden. For the children: check out the Carousel Gardens amusement park and Story Land playground. During the winter holiday season, city park's celebration in the oaks light display is always a popular event. For more city park info go to www.neworleanscitypark.com

Nestled on the Mississippi river bend of uptown New Orleans is the Audubon zoo, home to over 2000 animals from all over the planet and rated one of the top five zoos in the country. Season passes are available. Throughout the year the zoo sponsors various functions such as earth fest (in connection with earth day) and swamp fest, a two day festival of Cajun cuisine, crafts, and music headlined by Grammy award winning band beausoleil. The Audubon nature institute also runs the aquarium of the Americas featuring the country's largest collection of sharks and jellyfish. The aquarium is also home to the rare white gator. Co-located on the southeast corner of the French Quarter with the aquarium is the Entergy Imax theatre a 354 seat, 5 ½ story tall screen showing localized films such as 'hurricane on the bayou' which chronicles hurricane Katrina and it's effect on the wetlands of southeast Louisiana. The Imax theatre also presents first run films such as recent box office hits 'Beowulf', '300' and 'Spiderman 3'. For the sports lover, New Orleans is home to the NBA hornets, Zephyrs baseball (a New York Mets AAA affiliate), Voodoo (arena football) and the  NFL saints. All teams offer season tickets.

Of course, one cannot discuss New Orleans without mention of Mardi Gras and carnival season. Beginning each year on the feast of the epiphany (Jan 6) and running until Mardi Gras day (fat Tuesday- the day prior to ash Wednesday), carnival season is a period of parties, parades, king cake, and merriment leading up to lent. Two weeks before Mardi Gras day the parades roll nightly as well as throughout the day on weekends, featuring marching bands and brightly colored floats with masked riders throwing plush animals, krewe doubloons and beads of all shapes and sizes. On Mardi Gras day grab a costume and head to the French Quarter for possibly the biggest street party in America, but at midnight the party ends as police on horseback ride down Bourbon Street signifying an end to the festivities until next year. More Mardi Gras info and yearly parade schedules can be found at www.mardigrasguide.com
