1. This message is to provide instruction to all enlisted women that desire to compete for an afloat assignment in AY13. EPM is directing enlisted women who are requesting any afloat positions on their respective shopping lists to submit their E-Resume prior to 29 October 2012. This submission process will achieve the following:

A. Provide preliminary identification of candidate pools across all ratings to align berthing vacancies with open positions onboard cutters at one fixed point in time at the beginning of the assignment season.

B. Improve EPMs ability to address AY13 unit Command Concerns regarding berthing availability and gender diversity.

C. Provide parity in the assignment process by better aligning member desires with the available berthing and positions for assignment.

2. Women who are tour complete or anticipate being above the cut for advancement that desire an afloat assignment in AY13 should:

A. Contact MKC Claflin, the Women Afloat Coordinator, as soon as possible to discuss afloat opportunities.

B. Contact their respective Assignment Officers for career counseling before 31 August 2012.

C. Complete their E-Resume prior to 29 October 2012 IAW Ref (A). The AY13 shopping list is scheduled to be published on or about 17 September 2012 IAW Ref (B). Women who are considered sea duty candidates, need sea time to advance, or highly desire afloat assignment should prioritize cutters at the top of their E-Resume in order to increase their competitiveness for each cutter assignment.

3. Further guidance, FAQs, and updates are provided in the Assignment Tools Tab of Ref (C), the EPM Women Afloat Portal. The Portal will be used to provide the most up-to-date information and should be regularly accessed for information.

4. Commands are reminded that IAW Ref (B), Command Concerns are due to EPM NLT 17 August 2012. However, specific requests to convert cutters to mixed gender crews may be submitted to the POC listed below NLT 29 October 2012.
