reviewing applicant records. The individuals screened must be leaders who consistently demonstrate a commitment to excellence, service to nation, and duty to people. In addition, they must cultivate and promote positive command climates and work environments, and display the strength of character to hold subordinates accountable for lapses in performance and/or behavior. Specifically, those members determined to be fully qualified and recommended for assignment must have a long standing record of superior leadership, conduct, professional expertise, attitude, military bearing, and concern for the enlisted workforce. Time in grade should be considered in assessing a member's readiness to serve as a CMC or CSC.

6. The Coast Guard is firmly committed to equality of treatment and opportunity for all personnel without regard to race, creed, color, gender, or national origin. The applicants you select must be able to help the Coast Guard provide superior public service across all missions and foster cohesiveness in our workforce while strengthening the development of diversity. They must have the ability to form effective partnerships within and outside of the service, and to support the innovations needed to more effectively and efficiently manage the Coast Guard's resources. A member's successful completion of a tour of duty in the Special Assignments community, particularly as a Company Commander, Recruiter or Instructor, should be viewed as a positive commitment to Service need and enlisted workforce diversity, strength and stability. Above all, applicants must have consistently demonstrated and taught the Coast Guard's core values of honor, respect, and devotion to duty throughout their career.

7. Members who meet the eligibility criteria set forth in references (a) and (b), and who are determined by the panel to be capable of performing all duties and functions required by those references, shall be deemed fully qualified. Furthermore, the panel shall rank order all fully qualified members based on the criteria set forth in reference (b) and this precept. The members at the top of the rank-ordered list that are most prepared for assignment to a Gold Badge position shall be noted by the panel. I encourage the panel to evaluate and comment on the specific strengths, background, or other experiences of particular members which might prove valuable while serving as a CMC or CSC, and that should be considered when determining assignments.

8. The panel will be provided with the necessary records and clerical assistance by the PSC-epm staff. Each member's entire military record will be available for review by the panel. Upon completion of your deliberations, deliver your report to me.

9. The panel shall be sworn. The recommendations of the panel require a majority of the voting members. The results shall be kept confidential until approved. You shall direct the members not to divulge any information related to the proceedings and deliberations of the panel.
