"OPERATION SAIL" EVENTS
NEW YORK HARBOR--WORLD'S FAIR
JULY 12 to 19, 1964

PRE-VIEW OF "OPERATION SAIL" OFF BERMUDA, JULY 10, 1964--

"OPERATION SAIL" STARTS FROM BERMUDA AFTER THE FINISH OF BRITAIN'S SAIL TRAINING ASSOCIATION'S TRANS-ATLANTIC RACE FROM LISBON, PORTUGAL TO BERMUDA--THE FIRST RACE IN HISTORY OF SQUARE RIGGERS. THESE SHIPS ARE JOINED HERE BY THEIR U. S. HOSTESS, THE U. S. COAST GUARD ACADEMY TRAINING BARK EAGLE, TO SAIL TO NEW YORK HARBOR FOR THE GRANDEST MASSING OF TALL WIND-POWER'D SHIPS EVER SEEN IN HISTORY. PARTICIPATING IN THE MARINE PARADE ARE 82 MAJOR SAIL SHIPS AND 11 SMALLER SCHOONERS FROM 13 COUNTRIES.

United States hostess for "Operation Sail", the 295-ft. 1,816-ton, three-masted U. S. Coast Guard training bark EAGLE, joins square riggers from foreign countries for the 697-mile trip to New York Harbor from Bermuda. Under command of Captain William K. Earle, USCG, the EAGLE departed New London, Conn., on June 5th, on a cadet practice cruise to San Juan, P. R., and after spending three days there proceeded to Bermuda to await the sail ships competing in the trans-Atlantic race.

USCG EAGLE, 295-ft. three-masted training barque of the Coast Guard Academy, sports a new look in preparation for "Operation Sail-1976." After a face lifting at the Coast Guard Yard, Curtis Bay, Md., the EAGLE, en route home to New London, Conn., is seen here off Annapolis with the new identification racing stripe and Coast Guard lettering on her sides. She also wears a new gold-leafed eagle figurehead under the bowsprit and a new pilot house cleverly built into the superstructure so as not to spoil her lines of a barque. The EAGLE previously was the only vessel in the Coast Guard not wearing the stripe and lettering on the hull.
