Part E – Executive Summary

Part E.1

The United States Coast Guard (CG) is the only military branch within the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). Its 56,000+ military and civilian workforce supports and operates a multi-mission, interoperable fleet of 243 cutters, 201 fixed and rotary-wing aircraft, and more than 1,600 boats. The mission of the CG is to ensure our Nation's maritime safety, security, and stewardship. The CG achieves this mission through the management of six major operational mission programs: Maritime Law Enforcement, Maritime Response, Maritime Prevention, Marine Transportation System Management, Maritime Security Operations, and Defense Operations. These operational mission programs are further subdivided into 11 statutory missions codified in the Homeland Security Act of 2002.

Part E.2, A -F – Reports the CG Activities within the U.S. EEOC's Essential Elements Framework

The outcome of the CG's FY21 self-assessment, using the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's (EEOC) standards for meeting the six essential elements of a model Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) program, remained the same as FY20. As before, the assessment showed a high compliance rate of 97.44%, with full compliance in elements A, D and F respectively, Demonstrated Commitment from Agency Leadership, Proactive Prevention, and Responsiveness and Legal Compliance.

The CG made notable progress to correct the weaknesses previously identified correlating to essential elements B, C and E, Integration of EEO into the Agency's Strategic Mission, Management and Program Accountability, and Efficiency. The weaknesses are related to the CG combining and reporting its appropriated and non-appropriated fund workforce (NAF) demographics, in addition to maintaining applicant flow data in the new 2.0 format required by the EEOC. The CG was able to prepare NAF workforce demographics data according to the EEOC's requirements. However, as will be explained, the CG remains unable to blend NAF with other workforce data due to lack of system ability. The CG will continue to implement its plans as reflected in Part H of this report to attain compliance with these deficiencies.

A three-year trend analysis¹ of workforce data affirmed triggers among multiple demographic groups in various categories including overall workforce participation, new hires, awards, and separations. Specifically:

- Women, and especially, Hispanic or Latino and White women, participated below the civilian labor force rate (CLF).
- Within paygrades GS-13 – SES, women and minority men and women participated below their rate in the permanent workforce.

¹ The trend analysis included Coast Guard appropriated fund civilian workforce data reported fiscal years 2018 - 2020.

EEOC FORM
U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
FEDERAL AGENCY ANNUAL EEO PROGRAM STATUS REPORT

- Women new hires overall, and specifically Hispanic or Latino and White women, participated below the CLF rate.
- Quality step increase (QSI) average award levels for Hispanic or Latino men and women, African American men, and Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander men and women occurred below the average of these benefits given to all employees.
- Women in general, and specifically White and Hispanic or Latino women, and Black or African Americans men and women separated at rates higher than their participation in the permanent workforce.

Part I of this report shows the CG's plans to investigate the triggers to determine if any barriers exists.

The CG continues to engage in activities that set the path to attaining the "Model EEO Program" set by standards in this directive. CG activities align with each essential element as described below.

Essential Element A: Demonstrated Commitment from Agency Officials

The CG Commandant (agency head) annually issues Equal Opportunity and Anti-Discrimination/Anti-Harassment Policy Statements reaffirming the CG's stance against unlawful discrimination and informing the workforce of their rights. These statements were released to the workforce on August 23, 2021, sent to each CG unit for display, and remain posted throughout the Agency. EEO and anti-harassment information are located on the CG's official websites. These policies are reinforced to the workforce through in-person facilitated Civil Rights Awareness (CRA) training (required triennially) and computer-based Preventing and Addressing Workplace Harassment training (required annually), Sexual Harassment Prevention training (required annually), and the DHS Notification of Federal Employee Anti-Discrimination and Retaliation (No FEAR) Act and Anti-Harassment course (required biennially).

The CG continued to utilize survey results, including the Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey (FEVS) and the Defense Organizational Climate Survey (DEOCS), to assess workforce perceptions and to proactively identify and address concerns and problems.

Essential Element B: Integration of EEO into the Agency's Strategic Mission

The CG remains committed to EEO as an integral part of the Agency's strategic mission. One major strength of the CG is the reporting structure of its Civil Rights Directorate. As such, the Civil Rights Director is a direct report to the Agency's head (Commandant), providing the appropriate line of authority and structure to support resources for effectively carrying out a successful EEO Program.

The recruitment, hiring, retention and development of a highly qualified and diverse workforce inclusive of Persons with Disabilities (PWD) is one of the CG's top priorities. Accordingly, the

FEDERAL AGENCY ANNUAL EEO PROGRAM STATUS REPORT

CG adopted DHS's hiring goals of 12% for Persons with Disabilities (PWD) and 2% for Persons with Targeted Disabilities (PWTD). CG exceeded both hiring goals for PWD and PWTD with a rate of 36.04% and 4.44% respectively. The FY21 hiring rates increased compared with previous participation of 30.47% for PWD and 2% for PWTD.

In FY21, the CG deployed the Diversity & Inclusion (D&I) Foundations Virtual Training Course, which is comprised of six modules: Diversity, Inclusion and Belonging in USCG; Civility in the Workplace; Emotional Intelligence; Micro-aggressions; Unconscious Bias; and Generational Diversity. These computer-based trainings are designed to increase D&I acumen across the total workforce with the ultimate goal focusing on the transfer of knowledge from information to actionable steps to further fostering an inclusive work environment.

Essential Element C: Management and Program Accountability

Based on policy that CG issued in 2009, all units are required to complete an annual EEO self-assessment to support requirements in Part (G) of this report. Units with 50 or more personnel must administer the assessment and develop action plans to respond to any noncompliant elements. For FY21, 270 commands evaluated their workplaces against EEO regulatory requirements. This tool, termed The EEO Command Checklist, is a best practice that affords the CG MD-715 working group the ability to timely and accurately complete the required annual report.

Essential Element D: Proactive Prevention

The Persons with Disability Program Manager (PWDPM) conducted training for human resources personnel on the Reasonable Accommodation (RA) process, the requirements outlined in Section 501 of the Rehabilitation Act, and Personal Assistance Services (PAS). Additionally, the mandatory CRA training includes topics on RA and PAS with 490 civilian managers and supervisors, and 2,438 employees completing this training during FY21.

The CG continued to provide equipment for employees, applicants and visitors with short-term impairments through its Mobility Program. This is an assistive service that provides motorized scooters and wheelchairs for short-term use for individuals recovering from surgery, illness, or injuries. These accommodations allow individuals to move about Coast Guard facilities and to return to the workplace sooner than would otherwise be possible.

In FY21, the CG provided 199 members reasonable accommodations (RAs) for disabilities or medical conditions and reported $29,111.10 in related expenditures. Typical RA purchases included but were not limited to: modification of equipment or devices; mobility scooters and wheelchairs; and special furniture, such as stand-up desks or ergonomic chairs.

The average processing time for accommodations in FY21 was 8.6 days. This was an improvement compared with the average of 12.6 days for the previous reporting period. The CG attributes this improvement to a greater awareness of reasonable accommodation procedures and ongoing efforts to enhance the process. CG Civil Rights Regional Directors provided reasonable accommodation training to more than 400 supervisors and managers. In addition, the Commandant issued a communication to the workforce that emphasized the importance of utilizing the appropriate program code for reasonable accommodation expenditures and supervisors are responsible for ensuring that related procurements are processed within 10 business days of approval.

The CG updated its Anti-Harassment and Hate Incident (AHHI) policy in FY21. Enhancements included the requirement to assign independent investigators and standardized training. Over 450 volunteers completed the training during this reporting period and were added to the pool of investigators. Additionally, the CG published its first Sexual Harassment Transparency Report, spotlighting the number of allegations of sexual harassment and the resulting outcomes of the investigations. The agency-wide announcement of the report emphasized accountability for the offenders and effects of sexual harassment on the victims, including decreased productivity, retention, and mission readiness.

The CG proactively supports EEO Special Emphasis Programs (SEP) and promotes the workforce's active participation. During this period, the CG Headquarters sponsored activities including 8 observances. The CG policy requires units with 50 or more civilian employees to assign an SEP coordinator for the federally mandated programs: Federal Women's Program, Hispanic Employment Program, and Persons with Disabilities Program. Across the agency, SEP coordinators and/or Leadership and Diversity Advisory Councils (LDACs) work collaboratively to plan local static displays, ethnic celebrations, professional development opportunities, and other events in support of SEP tributes. Additionally, CG units were encouraged to stage activities that helped educate the workforce about the respective groups' contributions through commemorating Asian American and Pacific Islander Heritage Month, National Native American Heritage Month, National African American History Month, Hispanic Heritage Month, Women's History Month, Martin Luther King Jr. Day, LGBTQ+ Pride Month, Juneteenth, Women's Equality Day, and National Disability Employment Awareness Month.

Essential Element E: Efficiency

In FY21, the CG processed 68 pre-complaints, compared with 77 in FY20, with 100% completed timely. Additionally, the CG investigated and completed 100% of its formal complaints within the regulatory timeframe, exceeding the federal average of 83%. The CG average for completing investigations improved, decreasing to 114.4 days as compared with 128.7 days achieved the previous reporting period. The decrease was below the regulatory allowance of 180 days and significantly below the federal average of 189 days. CG attributes its performance to a best practice of utilizing the DoD application, DoD Secure Access File Exchange (SAFE), that protects and quickly transmits complaint files electronically to complainants and investigators, improving the timeliness. The CG offered Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) to 100% of individuals who initiated complaints in FY21 with 39% of those individuals electing to participate.

EEOC FORM

Essential Element F: Responsiveness and Legal Compliance

The CG AHHI policy outlines the procedures for reporting and combating all prohibited harassment, including sexual harassment. This process includes a prompt inquiry, corrective action, and swift elimination of any harassing behaviors. CG investigation into AHHI reports slightly increased in FY21 compared with those in FY20. CG civilian employees filed 65 claims of harassment in FY21, an increase of 3.17% compared with FY20 (63 claims filed). In FY21, CG commands substantiated nine (9) cases compared with FY20 during which time 15 cases were validated by management.

Part E.3 - Executive Summary: Workforce Analyses²

In FY21, the CG appropriated fund civilian workforce increased by 2.80%; it was comprised of 8,955 permanent employees plus 146 temporary civilian employees totaling 9,101 compared with 8,853 in FY20. In addition, the CG civilian workforce also included 1,420 non-appropriated fund (NAF) employees. The total civilian workforce was 10,521 members.

The CG uses the federal benchmark, the National Civilian Labor Force (NCLF), to analyze its civilian workforce data. Below, PWD, PWTD, and five of the 16 NCLF groups are highlighted. The CG will further examine the participation of these groups in FY22.

(1) Persons with Disabilities (PWD) participated at 31.53% and Persons with Targeted Disabilities (PWTD) participated at 3.68%, both exceeding EEOC's goal of 12% and 2%, respectively.

(2) Women participated at 30.28% (2,756) in FY21 compared with 30.40% (2,691) in FY20. Women, in general, were significantly below the 48.30% NCLF rate. This group increased by 65 employees in FY21, with a net change of +2.42%.

(3) In FY21, White women participated at 17.49% (1,592), significantly below the 31.80% NCLF. The participation rate in FY20 was 17.63% (1,561). This group increased by 31 employees, with a net change of +1.99%.

(4) Hispanic men participated at 4.60% (419) compared with the 6.80% NCLF rate. In FY20, the participation rate for Hispanic/Latino men was 4.62% (409). This group increased by 10 employees in FY21, a net change of +2.44%.

(5) Hispanic women participated at 1.82% (166) compared with the 6.20% NCLF rate. In FY20 their participation rate was 1.97% (174). This group decreased by 8 employees in FY21, a net change of -4.60%.

² The analysis included Coast Guard appropriated fund civilian workforce data for fiscal year 2021.

FEDERAL AGENCY ANNUAL EEO PROGRAM STATUS REPORT

(6) Individuals of Two or More Races participated at 0.84% (77) compared with the 2.10% NCLF. In FY20, the participation rate was 0.83% (74). This group increased by 3 employees in FY21, a net change of +4.05%.

Part E.4 - Executive Summary: Accomplishments

CG Civil Rights Directorate continued implementing its Civil Rights Strategic Plan 2020-2025 (CRSP 2025). The CRSP 2025 methodology includes federal benchmarks and staff performance standards that measure 35 elements. These activities include measuring actions toward achieving a model workforce, such as workforce awareness of civil rights mission, civil rights training satisfaction, workforce training rate, workforce access to civil rights policy, command checklist compliance, MD-715 compliance, EEO pre-complaint timeliness, investigation timeliness, ADR offer rate, resolution rate, EEO review rate, and reasonable accommodation timeliness, etc.

In FY21, the CG hosted the EEOC's virtual barrier analysis training for its Barrier Analysis Working Group.

During this reporting period, the CG closed-out a 2013 identified barrier, lack of an individual development plan (IDP) requirement for employees in career ladder positions. The CG published the new IDP "Form" (CG-5357) December 1, 2020, and the revised IDP Policy (COMDTINST 5357.1B) April 12, 2021. The policy includes IDP completion for civilian employees.

In FY21, the CG improved its average timeframe to 8.6 days for processing reasonable accommodation requests compared with 12.6 days in FY20.

The CG converted six (6) of 45 or 13.33% of eligible Schedule A employees to permanent positions in FY21.

The CG continues to exceed the goals for employment of Persons with Disabilities (PWD) and Persons with Targeted Disabilities (PWTD). The participation rate for PWD was 31.65% and 3.66% for PWTD. The CG also exceeded the grade-level cluster benchmark participation rates of 12% for PWD and 2% for PWTD recently established by the EEOC. Participation rates in grades GS-1 to GS-10 were 35.36% and 5.06% and in grades GS-11 to SES were 32.24% and 3.59%, respectively.

The CG developed and formalized its D&I Education and Awareness Program (DIEAP). The USCG DIEAP consists of over a hundred diverse D&I "Change Agents" (Military, Civilian, Reservist and Auxiliary). The participants completed a six-month developmental and credentialing process that equipped them with knowledge and skills to serve as D&I Advocates, Certified D&I Coaches and D&I Facilitators with the goal to build common ground for meaningful dialogue about civility, equity, diversity, inclusion and cross-cultural relationship building.

Part E.5 - Executive Summary: Planned Activities

The following represent some of the planned activities in place to respond to EEO program deficiencies and workforce barriers.

The CG will continue to work to resolve the challenges relating to consolidating and reporting its appropriated fund and non-appropriated workforce demographics and applicant flow data to comply with the MD-715 reporting requirements.

CG stakeholders will work collaboratively to prioritize and refine Part I plans and examine triggers revealed among multiple demographic groups relating to overall workforce participation rates, new hires, awards, and separations.

In addition, CG stakeholders will continue to work to implement plans to further investigate triggers identified in the FY20 Part J. In FY21, the CG noted a few new triggers. As such, new hires qualified applicant pool rate for PWD was 21.67% for promotions to executive positions, qualified internal applicants' rate for PWD was 15.79 % for executive positions, qualified internal applicants' rate for PWD was 13.17 % for promotions to manager positions, and new hires qualified applicant pool rate for PWD was 6.67% for promotions to executive positions. However, they were not among those selected.

The Selective Placement Program Coordinator will continue to provide a list of Schedule A employees eligible for conversion to the appropriate office for dissemination to management at the end of each quarter.

CONCLUSION

The CG continues to strive toward achieving a Model EEO Program and is committed to focusing on initiatives that foster equity, diversity, and inclusion. The CG prioritizes a proactive approach to identifying and addressing workforce triggers, deficiencies, and barriers largely through its Barrier Analysis Working Group. The CG will take immediate action to analyze and rectify deficiencies and/or barriers identified to eliminate and/or mitigate the impact on recruitment, hiring, training, advancement, and retention, ensuring the CG remains an agency of choice for employees and applicants for employment.

CERTIFICATION of ESTABLISHMENT of CONTINUING EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY PROGRAMS

I, Terri A. Dickerson, Director, Civil Rights Directorate, SES am the Principal EEO Director/Official for Department of Homeland Security, United States Coast Guard

The agency has conducted an annual self-assessment of Section 717 and Section 501 programs against the essential elements as prescribed by EEO MD-715. If an essential element was not fully compliant with the standards of EEO MD-715, a further evaluation was conducted and, as appropriate, EEO Plans for Attaining the Essential Elements of a Model EEO Program, are included with this Federal Agency Annual EEO Program Status Report.

The agency has also analyzed its work force profiles and conducted barrier analyses aimed at detecting whether any management or personnel policy, procedure or practice is operating to disadvantage any group based on race, national origin, gender or disability. EEO Plans to Eliminate Identified Barriers, as appropriate, are included with this Federal Agency Annual EEO Program Status Report.

I certify that proper documentation of this assessment is in place and is being maintained for EEOC review upon request.

MD-715 - PART G
Agency Self-Assessment Checklist

The Part G Self-Assessment Checklist is a series of questions designed to provide federal agencies with an effective means for conducting the annual self-assessment required in Part F of MD-715. This self-assessment permits EEO Directors to recognize, and to highlight for their senior staff, deficiencies in their EEO program that the agency must address to comply with MD-715's requirements. Nothing in Part G prevents agencies from establishing additional practices that exceed the requirements set forth in this checklist.

All agencies will be required to submit Part G to EEOC. Although agencies need not submit documentation to support their Part G responses, they must maintain such documentation on file and make it available to EEOC upon request.

The Part G checklist is organized to track the MD-715 essential elements. As a result, a single substantive matter may appear in several different sections, but in different contexts. For example, questions about establishing an anti-harassment policy fall within Element C (Management and Program Accountability), while questions about providing training under the anti-harassment policy are found in Element A (Demonstrated Commitment from Agency Leadership).

For each MD-715 essential element, the Part G checklist provides a series of "compliance indicators." Each compliance indicator, in turn, contains a series of "yes/no" questions, called "measures." To the right of the measures, there are two columns, one for the agency to answer the measure with "Yes", "No", or "NA;" and the second column for the agency to provide "comments", if necessary. Agencies should briefly explain any "N/A" answer in the comments. For example, many of the sub-component agencies are not responsible for issuing final agency decisions (FADs) in the EEO complaint process, so it may answer questions about FAD timeliness with "NA" and explain in the comments column that the parent agency drafts all FADs.

A "No" response to any measure in Part G is a program deficiency. For each such "No" response, an agency will be required in Part H to identify a plan for correcting the identified deficiency. If one or more sub-components answer "No" to a particular question, the agency-wide/parent agency's report should also include that "No" response.

Statement of Condition That Was a Trigger for a Potential Barrier:

Source of the Trigger	Specific Workforce Data Table	Narrative Description of Trigger
		In exit interviews, 83% of those who listed advancement as a reason for leaving the CG ranked it as either the most significant (50%) or second most significant (33%) reason for leaving. Review of workforce data indicates that within the CG, 78% of males and 70% of females hired in non- competitive promotions (career ladder) are advanced after 25+ months in excess of the minimum months, impacting retention of employee groups. African American (73%) and Hispanic women (76%) served 25+ months in excess of the minimum months before advancement. Employees are eligible to apply for advancement to the next grade level at other federal agency at 12 months. Low participation rates in career development programs; Agency policy makes it mandatory for IDP for military employees.

Description of Policy, Procedure, or Practice
Application for and availability of opportunities for employee development such as training, developmental assignments, details, rotational assignments, cross training, and career development counseling is not well known among employees.
Lack of an Individual Development Plan (IDP) requirement for employees in career ladder positions leaves agency vulnerable to high turnover of certain groups due to an unclear path to advancement.

	1b. Completed. The CG continues to leverage external resources to provide rotational opportunities including formal courses that offer shadowing and rotational assignment opportunities. Rotational assignments opportunities also exist, and are locally advertised within specific career-fields (e.g. acquisitions). In addition, a listing of DHS-wide rotational assignment and detail opportunities currently available to Coast Guard members via the DHS Rotational Assignment program has been posted on the Leadership Office website and social media sites. Three additional FTE were provided and has been assigned on a detail basis to address civilian career development needs within the Coast Guard, including codification of existing CG rotational assignment opportunities.
FY17	1c. Completed. CG-12C completed a substantial re-design of its portal, web, and social media presence to advertise leadership development opportunities to civilian employees and their supervisors. This includes program sites on the CGWeb, LDC Facebook page, and LinkedIn showcase page. We are also leveraging website announcements, civilian supervisor e- mail distribution lists, LDAC and LEAD Council distribution lists, and local communication tools (i.e.: special notices). As a result of this extensive engagement, the number of applications to key civilian leadership programs increased from approximately 45 in 2016 to over 270 in 2017.
FY18	1d. Completed. The CG is leveraging the DHS Rotational assignment database to post all detail opportunities within the NCR. A link to this database was posted on the Office of Leadership web-page in June of 2018.
FY19	2a. In 2017, the Coast Guard's Leadership Development Center completed an analysis of legacy IDP tools and made recommendations to improve the products. A working group was formed to incorporate the recommendations into the existing IDP tools. A new policy that will identify forms and processes for completion of IDPs for employees is currently under development.
FY20	2.b. The IDP Form CG-5357 was completed on July 29, 2019. 2.c. The new IDP policy completed on September 18, 2020, completed CG concurrent review and is in the final publication stage.

Special Program Plan for the Recruitment, Hiring, Advancement, and Retention of Persons with Disabilities

To capture agencies' affirmative action plan for persons with disabilities (PWD) and persons with targeted disabilities (PWTD), EEOC regulations (29 C.F.R. § 1614.203(e)) and MD-715 require agencies to describe how their plan will improve the recruitment, hiring, advancement, and retention of applicants and employees with disabilities. All agencies, regardless of size, must complete this Part of the MD-715 report.

Section I: Efforts to Reach Regulatory Goals

EEOC regulations (29 C.F.R. § 1614.203(d)(7)) require agencies to establish specific numerical goals for increasing the participation of persons with reportable and targeted disabilities in the federal government.

1. Using the goal of 12% as the benchmark, does your agency have a trigger involving PWD by grade level cluster in the permanent workforce? If "yes", describe the trigger(s) in the text box.

a. Cluster GS-1 to GS-10 (PWD)	Yes	No X
b. Cluster GS-11 to SES (PWD)	Yes	No X

2. Using the goal of 2% as the benchmark, does your agency have a trigger involving PWTD by grade level cluster in the permanent workforce? If "yes", describe the trigger(s) in the text box.

a. Cluster GS-1 to GS-10 (PWTD)	Yes	No X
b. Cluster GS-11 to SES (PWTD)	Yes	No X

3. Describe how the agency has communicated the numerical goals to the hiring managers and/or recruiters.

The goals are communicated from the Department of Homeland Security Strategic Recruitment Diversity and Inclusion to the Coast Guard. The goals are then provided to

Section II: Model Disability Program

Pursuant to 29 C.F.R. §1614.203(d)(1), agencies must ensure sufficient staff, training and resources to recruit and hire persons with disabilities and persons with targeted disabilities, administer the reasonable accommodation program and special emphasis program, and oversee any other disability hiring and advancement program the agency has in place.

A. PLAN TO PROVIDE SUFFICIENT & COMPETENT STAFFING FOR THE DISABILITY PROGRAM

Has the agency designated sufficient qualified personnel to implement its disability program during the reporting period? If “no”, describe the agency’s plan to improve the staffing for the upcoming year.

Yes X No

The CG designated sufficient qualified personnel to implement its current disability program during the reporting period. However, in future years, the CG may need additional personnel to properly implement compliance relating to section 501, section 504, as well as the planned expansion of the reasonable accommodation program.

Identify all staff responsible for implementing the agency’s disability employment program by the office, staff employment status, and responsible official.

Has the agency provided disability program staff with sufficient training to carry out their responsibilities during the reporting period? If “yes”, describe the training that disability program staff have received. If “no”, describe the training planned for the upcoming year.

Yes X No

All CG employees are required to undergo Civil Rights Awareness training on a triennial basis. In addition, the CG provides mandatory training to managers on hiring PWDs and PWTDS through the Cornerstone Leadership Training. The CG also provides training opportunities for managers and supervisors on providing reasonable accommodations. The CG promotes “Schedule A” training that is available for supervisors through the CG’s automated learning management system. In addition, the CG disability program staff attended the District of Columbia’s Department on Disability Services Disability Awareness session on “Persons Who Are Blind and Low Vision.” The CG’s disability staff also attended the DHS

B. PLAN TO ENSURE SUFFICIENT FUNDING FOR THE DISABILITY PROGRAM

Has the agency provided sufficient funding and other resources to successfully implement the disability program during the reporting period? If “no”, describe the agency’s plan to ensure all aspects of the disability program have sufficient funding and other resources.

Yes ☒ No

The CG provided sufficient funding and other resources that aided in successfully implementing its disability program. The CG has partnerships with and uses the Department of Transportation, Computer Accommodations Program, and the Disability Resource Center to provide reasonable accommodations and personal assistance services.

Section III: Plan to Recruit and Hire Individuals with Disabilities

Pursuant to 29 C.F.R. § 1614.203(d)(1)(i) and (ii), agencies must establish a plan to increase the recruitment and hiring of individuals with disabilities. The questions below are designed to identify outcomes of the agency’s recruitment program plan for PWD and PWTD.

A. PLAN TO IDENTIFY JOB APPLICANTS WITH DISABILITIES

1. Describe the programs and resources the agency uses to identify job applicants with disabilities, including individuals with targeted disabilities.

The CG established partnerships with diverse organizations with a target audience of PWD/PWTD. The CG participated in Equal Opportunity Publications (EOP) Career Expo. The CG will consider using as potential sources to hire PWD/PWTD.

2. Pursuant to 29 C.F.R. § 1614.203(a)(3), describe the agency’s use of hiring authorities that take disability into account (e.g., Schedule A) to recruit PWD and PWTD for positions in the permanent workforce.

Individuals requesting consideration as Schedule A persons with disabilities applicants are encouraged to apply for all CG job openings posted. The vacancy announcements includes information for applicants on how to apply using the Schedule A authority or any other non-competitive authority such as 30% or more disabled veteran. CG hiring managers are encouraged to use the 30% or more disabled veterans and the Schedule A hiring authorities. Hiring managers may contact the CG Selective Placement Program Coordinator or the Veterans Program Manager to discuss hiring authorities and to develop recruitment strategies to hire persons with disabilities using the Schedule A and 30% or more disabled veterans hiring authority.

3. When individuals apply for a position under a hiring authority that takes disability into account (e.g., Schedule A), explain how the agency (1) determines if the individual is eligible for appointment under such authority and (2) forwards the individual's application to the relevant hiring officials with an explanation of how and when the individual may be appointed.

Applicants applying under a hiring authority that takes disability into account are required to provide the appropriate documentation that is reviewed for eligibility. Once determined eligible and qualified, applicants are referred to appropriate selecting officials.

4. Has the agency provided training to all hiring managers on the use of hiring authorities that take disability into account (e.g., Schedule A)? If "yes", describe the type(s) of training and frequency. If "no", describe the agency's plan to provide this training.

Yes ☒ No ☐ N/A ☐

The CG provides mandatory training to managers on hiring PWD and PWTD through the Cornerstone Leadership Training. The CG also promotes "Schedule A" training. The CG's Office of Civilian Human Resources Operations conducted a series of training sessions for hiring managers on Civilian Hiring Authorities that included information on the Schedule A and 30% or more Disabled Veterans hiring authorities.

B. PLAN TO ESTABLISH CONTACTS WITH DISABILITY EMPLOYMENT ORGANIZATIONS

Describe the agency's efforts to establish and maintain contacts with organizations that assist PWD, including PWTD, in securing and maintaining employment.

The CG will continue to maintain and create collaborative partnerships with organizations that target PWD/PWTD and use as sources for recruitment and hiring. The CG will also continue to educate managers on Schedule A hiring. In addition, the CG will continue to promote and utilize the CAP program to retain employees with disabilities. The CG plans to expand and strengthen its relationships with organizations that advance the employment of PWD/PWTD such as Equal Opportunity Publications Careers & the disabled, the DC Metro Divisions of Vocational Rehabilitative Services, Ability Magazine, etc. through participating in career fairs, training sessions, and by disseminating information on upcoming DHS webinars and current CG job openings.

C. PROGRESSION TOWARDS GOALS (RECRUITMENT AND HIRING)

1. Using the goals of 12% for PWD and 2% for PWTD as the benchmarks, do triggers exist for PWD and/or PWTD among the new hires in the permanent workforce? If "yes", please describe the triggers below.

a. New Hires for Permanent Workforce (PWD)	Yes	No X
b. New Hires for Permanent Workforce (PWTD)	Yes	No X

2. Using the qualified applicant pool as the benchmark, do triggers exist for PWD and/or PWTD among the new hires for any of the mission-critical occupations (MCO)? If "yes", please describe the triggers below.

a. New Hires for MCO (PWD)	Yes	No X
b. New Hires for MCO (PWTD)	Yes X	No

The new hires qualified applicant pool rate for the Contracting (1102) MCO among PWTD was 5.09% compared with their selection percentage of 2.74%. PWTD new hires selections for the Contracting MCO were lower than their participation rate among the qualified applicant pool. The new hires qualified applicant pool rate for the Information Technology (IT) MCO (2210) among PWTD was 7.93% compared with their selection percentage of 3.77%. PWTD new hires selections for the IT MCO were lower than their participation rate among the qualified applicant pool.

3. Using the relevant applicant pool as the benchmark, do triggers exist for PWD and/or PWTD among the qualified internal applicants for any of the mission-critical occupations (MCO)? If "yes", please describe the triggers below.

a. Qualified Applicants for MCO (PWD)	Yes 0	No 0
b. Qualified Applicants for MCO (PWTD)	Yes 0	No 0

4. Using the qualified applicant pool as the benchmark, do triggers exist for PWD and/or PWTD among employees promoted to any of the mission-critical occupations (MCO)? If “yes”, please describe the triggers below.

a. Promotions for MCO (PWD)	Yes X	No
b. Promotions for MCO (PWTD)	Yes X	No

The qualified applicant pool (QAP) rate for promotion to the Contracting (1102) MCO among PWD was 40.00% compared with their selection rate of 19.57%. For PWTD the QAP rate for promotion was 13.33% compared with their selection rate of 0.00%. The PWD and PWTD promotion rate to the Contracting MCO were lower than their participation rate among the QAP. The QAP rate for promotion to the IT (2210) MCO among PWD was 42.86% compared with their selection rate of 15.38%. For PWTD the QAP was 28.57% compared with their selection rate of 0%. PWD and PWTD promotions to the IT MCO were lower than their participation rate among the QAP.

Section IV: Plan to Ensure Advancement Opportunities for Employees with Disabilities

Pursuant to 29 C.F.R §1614.203(d)(1)(iii), agencies are required to provide sufficient advancement opportunities for employees with disabilities. Such activities might include specialized training and mentoring programs, career development opportunities, awards programs, promotions, and similar programs that address advancement. In this section, agencies should identify, and provide data on programs designed to ensure advancement opportunities for employees with disabilities.

A. ADVANCEMENT PROGRAM PLAN

Describe the agency’s plan to ensure PWD, including PWTD, have sufficient opportunities for advancement.

The CG Civilian Career Management Team (CCMT) advertises professional and leadership development opportunities, detail opportunities, and provides career mapping information. CG employees are able to view and apply to detail opportunities online through the CCMT website.

B. CAREER DEVELOPMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Please describe the career development opportunities that the agency provides to its employees.

The CG Provides a variety of career and leadership development opportunities for its employees. These include an open enrollment for the mentoring program, leadership training programs and other career training programs. The CG tracks selectees and available program seats but does not track individual applicants for programs with the exception of the mentoring program, where enrollment is open to every person who applies on an open basis.

In the table below, please provide the data for career development opportunities that require competition and/or supervisory recommendation/approval to participate.

The voluntary and involuntary separation inclusion rate for PWTD was 10.06% and 2.44%. The voluntary and involuntary separation rate for employees without disabilities was 5.67% and 2.27% respectively. PWTD voluntarily and involuntarily separated at rates higher than persons without disabilities. A trigger exist for PWTD among voluntary and involuntary separations.

4. If a trigger exists involving the separation rate of PWD and/or PWTD, please explain why they left the agency using exit interview results and other data sources.

Of the total 263 (184 voluntary/79 involuntary) employees with disabilities who separated, 41 (33 voluntary/8 involuntary) were PWTD. The CG's separation process affords employees who are separating from the agency an opportunity to provide feedback through an exit survey. Only a minute number of employees with disabilities who separated utilized the exit survey to provide feedback. As a result, the CG was unable to capture a sufficient sample of responses to provide an explanation for why PWD and PWTD left the agency.

B. ACCESSIBILITY OF TECHNOLOGY AND FACILITIES

Pursuant to 29 C.F.R. § 1614.203(d)(4), federal agencies are required to inform applicants and employees of their rights under Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (29 U.S.C. § 794(b)), concerning the accessibility of agency technology, and the Architectural Barriers Act of 1968 (42 U.S.C. § 4151-4157), concerning the accessibility of agency facilities. In addition, agencies are required to inform individuals where to file complaints if other agencies are responsible for a violation.

1. Please provide the internet address on the agency's public website for its notice explaining employees' and applicants' rights under Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act, including a description of how to file a complaint.

The internet address is as follows: <https://www.uscg.mil/access/access/>

2. Please provide the internet address on the agency's public website for its notice explaining employees' and applicants' rights under the Architectural Barriers Act, including a description of how to file a complaint.

The internet address is as follows: <https://www.uscg.mil/access/access/>

3. Describe any programs, policies, or practices that the agency has undertaken, or plans on undertaking over the next fiscal year, designed to improve accessibility of agency facilities and/or technology.

The CG is currently in the process of implementing and evaluating its 504 compliance plan agency-wide. The CG adopted the use of the ACMS database to process RA request agency wide. We initially obtained 2 licenses but are in the process to acquire several more to ensure we can provide oversight to RA requests agency wide and improve the process.

C. REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION PROGRAM

Pursuant to 29 C.F.R. § 1614.203(d)(3), agencies must adopt, post on their public website, and make available to all job applicants and employees, reasonable accommodation procedures.

1. Please provide the average timeframe for processing initial requests for reasonable accommodations during the reporting period. (Please do not include previously approved requests with repetitive accommodations, such as interpreting services.)

The CG processed accommodation requests in an average of 8.6 days in FY 2021 compared to 12.6 days in FY 2020. The CG attributes this improvement to the greater awareness of reasonable accommodation procedures and efforts to enhance the process.

2. Describe the effectiveness of the policies, procedures, or practices to implement the agency's reasonable accommodation program. Some examples of an effective program include timely processing requests, timely providing approved accommodations, conducting training for managers and supervisors, and monitoring accommodation requests for trends.

The CG continues to explore improving effectiveness by adopting a new RA database. The CG adopted from DHS the Accessibility Compliance Management system (ACMS) to assist to process RA requests. CG continues to explore improving effectiveness by hiring two new attorneys' advisors, which one of them is serving as the new Disability Program Manager. The CG is also continuing to update and evaluate its policies and procedures to improve efficiency and clarity. The agency provided 94 Reasonable Accommodations during FY21.

EEOC FORM
FEDERAL AGENCY ANNUAL EEO PROGRAM STATUS REPORT

The amount for purchases for FY 21 was $4,293.15. DRC filled 84 request for interpreters. The total cost for interpreters was $24,817.95. The total number of RA request provided in FY 21 including purchases and interpreters was 199. The total amount of money expended during FY21 for purchases and interpreters was $29,111.10. The CG is also continuing to update and evaluate its policies and procedures to improve efficiency and clarity. The agency average to process the Reasonable Accommodation Request for FY21 was 8.6 days.

D. PERSONAL ASSISTANCE SERVICES ALLOWING EMPLOYEES TO PARTICIPATE IN THE WORKPLACE

Pursuant to 29 C.F.R. § 1614.203(d)(5), federal agencies, as an aspect of affirmative action, are required to provide personal assistance services (PAS) to employees who need them because of a targeted disability, unless doing so would impose an undue hardship on the agency.

1. Describe the effectiveness of the policies, procedures, or practices to implement the PAS requirement. Some examples of an effective program include timely processing requests for PAS, timely providing approved services, conducting training for managers and supervisors, and monitoring PAS requests for trends.

The CG has its RA and PAS procedures available on its website and in its Civil Rights Manual. The CG also provided training to the workforce on its updated RA and PAS procedures. Additionally, the CG tracks RA and PAS. The CG currently has a partnership with the Disability Resource Center that allows for PAS and RA at no cost to the Agency.

Section VI: EEO Complaint and Findings Data

A. EEO COMPLAINT DATA INVOLVING HARASSMENT

1. During the last fiscal year, did a higher percentage of PWD file a formal EEO complaint alleging harassment, as compared to the government-wide average?

Yes No X N/A

USCG FY21: USCG FY 21: 6.89% (2 complaints, 29 total filed)

Federal FY21: 22.10%

2. During the last fiscal year, did any complaints alleging harassment based on disability status result in a finding of discrimination or a settlement agreement?

B. EEO COMPLAINT DATA INVOLVING REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION

1. During the last fiscal year, did a higher percentage of PWD file a formal EEO complaint alleging failure to provide a reasonable accommodation, as compared to the government-wide average?

Yes X No N/A

USCG FY21: USCG FY 21: 20.6% (6 complaints, 29 total). One Complaint filed was COVID Related. Without this complaint, FY21 average would be 17%.

Federal FY21: 14.33%

2. During the last fiscal year, did any complaints alleging failure to provide reasonable accommodation result in a finding of discrimination or a settlement agreement?

Yes X No N/A

1 Settlement during the informal stage and 3 settlements during the formal stage.

3. If the agency had one or more findings of discrimination involving the failure to provide a reasonable accommodation during the last fiscal year, please describe the corrective measures taken by the agency.

The agency has appointed a POC in procurement division to ensure all purchases of equipment and devices are timely. This person will be also the main POC to discuss any potential issues and address any delays. The agency also hire two attorney advisors to work and provide oversight to the Persons with disabilities program and to the RA Process. The recent acquisition of ACMS will also be a great tool to ensure the program is in compliance.

Section VII: Identification and Removal of Barriers

Element D of MD-715 requires agencies to conduct a barrier analysis when a trigger suggests that a policy, procedure, or practice may be impeding the employment opportunities of a protected EEO group.

1. Has the agency identified any barriers (policies, procedures, and/or practices) that affect employment opportunities for PWD and/or PWTD?

Yes ☒ No

2. Has the agency established a plan to correct the barrier(s) involving PWD and/or PWTD?

Yes ☒ No ☐ N/A ☐

3. Identify each trigger and plan to remove the barrier(s), including the identified barrier(s), objective(s), responsible official(s), planned activities, and, where applicable, accomplishments.

Trigger 1	The percentage of formal complaints alleging harassment based on disability in FY17 was 17.24%. This percentage was higher than the Government-Wide average of 15.86% in FY16. In FY18, the percentage of PWD filing a formal EEO complaint alleging harassment decreased to 15.09%. This percentage was lower than the Federal government average of 18.05% in FY17. During FY19, the percentage of these type of complaints increased to 24.49%, compared to the Federal government average of 19.70% for FY18. During FY20, the percentage of these complaints decreased to 24.39% and continued to decrease during FY21 to a 6.89 Average.
Barrier(s)	Lack of sufficient training and education among employees and management has resulted in a misunderstanding of how to properly handle PWD. This creates conflict, which may result in the filing of formal complaints.
Objective(s)	Educate all employees and management on how to properly address issues that may arise with PWD.

FY19	Reviewed complaint activity.
FY19	PWDPM provided training to 15 human resources personnel regarding accommodation process and procedure.
FY19	Inter-departmental working group established to address issues that overlap civil rights, human resources, and the legal department.
FY20	Reviewed complaint activity, performed training, updated procedures and policies.
FY 21	The goal was met as the as the current average has reached below the Federal average.

4. Please explain the factor(s) that prevented the agency from timely completing any of the planned activities.

All activities were completed and the USCG met its goal.

5. For the planned activities that were completed, please describe the actual impact of those activities toward eliminating the barrier(s).

Regular reviews of complaint activity helped ensure the CG could remedy any issues that may develop. Updated training and procedures helped address issues relating to disability related complaints.

6. If the planned activities did not correct the trigger(s) and/or barrier(s), please describe how the agency intends to improve the plan for the next fiscal year.

The number of harassment complaints are trending downward, and now are below the federal average. Further training and guidance may aid in supporting this downward trend.

THE COMMANDANT OF THE UNITED STATES COAST GUARD
Washington, DC 20593

August 23, 2021

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY POLICY STATEMENT

As the national demand for strategic maritime safety, security and stewardship intensifies, the Coast Guard must support workplaces – ashore, afloat, aloft, and online – which ensure that members feel valued and that they can succeed to their full potential. Members being treated with dignity and respect is a hallmark of a mission-focused, Semper Paratus, workforce.

A mission-ready workforce respects, includes, and looks out for each other. Conversations in the public sphere focusing on differences – notably race, Anti-Semitism, and Asian-American harassment – have only bolstered our resolve to drive out all forms of discrimination, and foster a climate of equity and cohesion.

I direct all leaders, commanding officers/officers in charge, managers, supervisors, and team leads to follow the practices below to ensure the Coast Guard's continued success:

- Recruit, train, develop, promote, reward, retain, and deploy a skilled and capable diverse workforce who are treated in a fair and consistent manner.
- Provide reasonable accommodations for applicants and employees with disabilities.
- Ensure that opportunities in the Coast Guard are publicized to the widest extent possible to identify, from all areas of our country and all parts of our society, highly qualified applicants for enlistment, officer accession, civilian employment, and Auxiliary enrollment.
- Maintain a work environment free from unlawful discrimination, hate, and harassment of any kind. The Service must also be free of any attempts at reprisal or retaliation for participating in protected whistle-blowing activities. Guidelines for reporting and responding to unlawful discrimination and other prohibited behaviors can be found on the Coast Guard Civil Rights website: <https://www.uscg.mil/Resources/Civil-Rights/>.
- Ensure that all Coast Guard members are educated about their rights and responsibilities under civil rights laws, regulations, and policies.
- Protect the privacy of persons who report violations.
- Act expeditiously, appropriately, and decisively in support of this policy to ensure personal accountability throughout the Coast Guard.

Hiring and retaining a highly qualified and diverse workforce must continue to be a Service imperative. To that end, every member of the Coast Guard will treat all applicants and employed persons with dignity and respect without regard to race, color, religion, sex (including gender identity, pregnancy, and sexual orientation), national origin, age, disability, protected genetic information, marital status, parental status, and political affiliation, reprisal or retaliation. Behaviors and actions that are not in accordance with this policy oppose the time-honored traditions of our Service and will not be tolerated.

Admiral, U.S. Coast Guard

COAST GUARD STRATEGIC PLAN

2018–2022

U.S. Coast Guard

THE COMMANDANT OF THE UNITED STATES COAST GUARD

The Coast Guard is on the front lines of our Nation's effort to protect the American people, our homeland, and our way of life. We are a unique instrument of national power with specialized and adaptive capability across the full spectrum of maritime activities. As challenges to our national security and global influence grow more complex, the need for a Ready, Relevant, and Responsive Coast Guard has never been greater.

I am proud to deliver the Coast Guard Strategic Plan 2018-2022, which represents our Senior Leaders' shared vision to advance the Service over the next four years. This Strategic Plan supports the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and the National Security Strategy (NSS) to ensure a safe, secure, and prosperous homeland. The lines of effort in this plan emphasize our need to invest in Service readiness while fine-tuning mission execution and operational support to meet the needs of the Nation.

Maximizing Readiness Today and Tomorrow is my top priority. Service readiness begins with our people — our greatest strength — including our dedication to maintaining an inclusive workplace and striving to mirror the great diversity of the American public we serve. Supporting our mission-ready total workforce requires capable assets, modern systems, resilient infrastructure, and sufficient Operations and Support (O&S) appropriations to operate and sustain them.

Our unique position within DHS and our enduring role with the Department of Defense (DOD) allows our Service to effectively Address the Nation's Complex Maritime Challenges. We will employ our leadership within the maritime domain to foster domestic and international cooperation, build stakeholder capacity, and exert influence at home and abroad. As Commandant, I intend to leverage the Coast Guard's broad authorities, capabilities, and partnerships to safeguard the American people, promote economic prosperity, and advance national interests.

Upholding our legacy of on-scene initiative across our broad missions, we will Deliver Mission Excellence Anytime, Anywhere. This begins with orienting all of our Service's initiatives to promote organizational efficiency, agility, and effectiveness and extends to the daily work of Coast Guard women and men during steady state or in times of crisis.

While it is impossible to predict what the next four years will bring, I can assure you we will face complex challenges around the world that will require our very best – the best people, best tools, and our best performance. Collectively, we will ensure that the Coast Guard remains Always Ready to meet the needs of our great Nation.

Semper Paratus,

AMERICA'S COAST GUARD

The U.S. Coast Guard has the enduring responsibility to safeguard the American people and promote our security in a complex and persistently-evolving maritime environment. We are a military service, a law enforcement organization, a regulatory agency, a first responder, and a member of the intelligence community. With unique authorities, broad jurisdiction, flexible operational capabilities, and an expansive network of domestic and international partnerships, the Coast Guard advances national security, economic prosperity, and global maritime influence.

While the missions of the Coast Guard have evolved over the last two centuries, our commitment to be “Always Ready” has remained steadfast.

While the missions of the Coast Guard have evolved over the last two centuries, our commitment to be “Always Ready” has remained steadfast. Semper Paratus is more than a motto; it defines our legacy as the world’s best Coast Guard. We have matured throughout our history, adapting our people, assets, and capabilities in response to emerging national demands and international challenges. Today, our Service remains locally based, nationally responsive, and globally impactful.

The Coast Guard Strategic Plan 2018 – 2022 provides the framework for a Ready, Relevant, and Responsive Coast Guard to address America’s most complex maritime challenges across the full spectrum of maritime operations.

STRATEGIC ENVIRONMENT

The United States is a maritime Nation. With unfettered access to major oceans, internal waterways, deep-water ports, and protected straits and bays, we depend on the sea for our security and prosperity. To sustain its strength, America must protect its borders from unlawful intrusion and defend sovereignty while safeguarding and facilitating commerce. Our national and economic security depends on open trade, travel, and rules-based order. However, the vastness, anonymity, and inherent challenges of governance over the maritime domain make it vulnerable to dangerous threats, including transnational crime, terrorist activity, illegal exploitation of natural resources, and territorial expansionism. These sources of maritime disorder have global reach and pose a significant threat to U.S. national interests.

While keeping pace with the dynamic security environment and changing character of maritime operations, the Coast Guard faces readiness challenges in a resource constrained budget climate.

Transnational criminal organizations (TCOs) and other malicious non-state actors erode maritime governance, the rule of law, and regional stability. These networks thrive in crisis, leveraging instability to smuggle drugs, weapons, and people - wreaking havoc wherever they operate. Their nefarious activities weaken government institutions, stymie legitimate economic activity, and terrorize peaceful citizens. TCOs threaten America's neighbors and partners in the Western Hemisphere, driving migrants to our borders, emboldening human traffickers on our shores, and enabling the movement of narcotics into our communities. Left unbridled, TCOs will flourish and further erode maritime governance and regional order.

Another shift in the strategic environment is the return to great-power competition. Rival powers, such as China and Russia, are challenging rules-based international order through inter-state aggression, economic coercion, maritime hybrid warfare, gray zone activities, and overreaching territorial claims. Through their actions, they are attempting to diminish American and partner-nation influence abroad. By exploiting pockets of weak governance, these near-peer competitors could undermine democratic institutions, escalate conflict, poach maritime resources, jeopardize access to critical sea lanes, and ultimately disrupt peaceful regions.

The security environment is also affected by the rising importance of the cyber domain - where adversarial nation states, non-state actors, and individuals are attacking our digital infrastructure and eroding the protections historically provided by our geographic borders. At the stroke of a key, rivals in remote regions of the world can attack, disable, and alter our critical infrastructure and financial networks. These bad actors can unleash volatile malware that could have devastating consequences worldwide. While improved interconnectivity expands our capabilities, we must be wary of the corresponding increase in risk.

Rapid technological advancements are changing the character of maritime operations. The accelerating pace of innovation manifests itself through increasingly complex vessels, high traffic volumes, and greater demands on the Marine Transportation System (MTS). Advanced technologies, such as autonomous and robotic systems and new propulsion methods usher in an era of new regulatory, legal, and operational challenges. While these technologies increase the complexity of our operating environment, they also present great opportunities for improved safety and efficiency. Our ability to set and enforce effective standards that advance maritime safety and environmental stewardship must keep pace with rapid technology application in the afloat, ashore, and cyber elements of the MTS.

Our role in the Arctic is growing. Diminishing Arctic sea ice is expanding accessibility to the region and attracting the attention of rival states across the globe. Resource extraction, fisheries, tourism, and commercial shipping are driving increased maritime activity and a greater need for Coast Guard presence in the region. This reality will require new assets, integrated technologies, and creative ways of thinking. For more than a century, the Coast Guard has been a visible U.S. presence in the Arctic, ensuring security and sovereignty for American resources. Our role there has never been more crucial.

The increasing severity and scale of catastrophic incidents is another reality. Coastal regions are densely populated, and ports have become heavily developed. Catastrophic events, whether man-made or natural, can have enormous consequences to our coastal communities and disrupt regional and global commerce. Recent hurricanes, floods, and other maritime disasters have reinforced the Nation's need to prepare for the size and impact of such incidents.

While keeping pace with the dynamic security environment and changing character of maritime operations, the Coast Guard faces readiness challenges in a resource constrained budget climate. Aging surface and aviation assets, as well as antiquated shore- and information-technology infrastructure, challenge our operational readiness. While we are working to recapitalize essential assets, we also require the resources to sustain and operate them.

OUR VALUE TO THE NATION

The Coast Guard is positioned to steadfastly serve and staunchly defend the Nation - now and into the future. As the only branch of the Armed Forces within DHS, the Coast Guard applies military, regulatory, incident management, and law enforcement expertise to ensure safety, security, stewardship, and resiliency across the Homeland Security enterprise. In partnership with other DHS components, we prevent terrorism, secure our borders, and reduce the physical and cyber security risks faced by our Nation. We do this through a layered approach of rules, awareness, and capabilities that protects our Nation's security, exerts our sovereignty, and enables the efficient movement of global commerce.

The key to Coast Guard success has always been our people—our diverse workforce of Active Duty, Reserve, Civilian, and Auxiliary.

As a military service, our unique authorities, capabilities, and partnerships complement both DHS and the DOD. As the challenges to our national security grow more complex across the full spectrum of international competition and conflict, the Coast Guard capably bridges the gap between the law enforcement prowess of DHS and the lethality of DOD. The Coast Guard cooperates in ways that other military services cannot in order to support our national goals of preserving peace through strength and advancing American influence. Across the full range of operations, our law enforcement capability discourages aggression, supports stability, and fortifies regional coalitions. At the same time, our military capabilities deter our adversaries, whether nation states, terrorists, or international criminals.

The Coast Guard is deployed globally to promote peace, fortify alliances, attract new partners, and challenge threats far from U.S. soil. For example, we provide United States Southern Command (USSOUTHCOM) detection, monitoring, and response capability in the Western Hemisphere to combat transnational crime in the Transit Zone while building the interdiction and crisis response capabilities of our partner nations. In United States Northern Command (USNORTHCOM), our Rotary Wing Air Intercept assets and Maritime Security Response Teams rapidly deploy as singular elements or as a supplement to joint- force packages in support of Homeland Defense missions. As the Federal surface presence in the Arctic, we advance safe, secure, and environmentally-responsible maritime activity by improving awareness, modernizing governance, and broadening partnerships. In the Indo-Pacific, we are actively building partner capacity and theater security cooperation throughout the region to enhance maritime governance and bolster stability in collaboration with United States Indo-Pacific Command (USINDOPACOM). In United States Central Command (USCENTCOM), our patrol boats and advanced interdiction teams conduct maritime security operations in the Arabian Gulf. Along the West African coast, we support United States Africa Command (USAFRICOM) to strengthen partner-nation capability for self-policing in order to thwart transnational threats such as piracy, illegal fishing, and contraband trafficking.

The Coast Guard plays a critical role in strengthening governance in areas of strategic importance. We mature other nations' inherent capabilities to police their own waters and support cooperative enforcement of international law through dozens of robust bilateral agreements. Our leadership on global maritime governing bodies and our collaborative approach to operationalize international agreements drives stability, legitimacy and order. As global strategic competition surges, adversaries become more sophisticated and the maritime environment becomes more complex. The Coast Guard provides a full spectrum of solutions, from cooperation to armed conflict. The demand for our Service has never been greater.

Fundamentally, the key to Coast Guard success has always been our people—our diverse workforce of Active Duty, Reserve, Civilian, and Auxiliary. The Coast Guard trusts and empowers its workforce at every level to lead with a bias for action – taking on-scene initiative and bringing solutions to complex problems. Our distributed leadership and trusted expertise draws together disparate stakeholders for an integrated response to incidents within the maritime domain. We leverage our partnerships to deliver output far greater than the sum of its parts. “All-in” collaboration is the only way to produce the “all-out” effort necessary to protect our Nation.

STRATEGIC FRAMEWORK

Shaped by the laws, executive orders, international conventions, and agreements that determine U.S. maritime policy, the Coast Guard Strategic Plan 2018-2022 sets the course for the future of our Service. It reflects and directly supports the National Security Strategy, DHS goals and priorities, and the National Defense Strategy. Further, the plan operationalizes existing Coast Guard strategies and outlooks addressing targeted challenges in our operating environment, linking long-term vision to ongoing operational and mission support efforts. It also serves as the framework, for the next four years, under which to nest priority work of the Service that is in addition to the existing strategies and outlooks. As a strategy-driven organization, we will continue to assess the external environment as part of our strategy development and renewal cycle. Our cumulative efforts will inform and shape the Service's policy and doctrine development, acquisition efforts, budget process, and risk and performance assessments.

We must embrace the fast pace of technology, be comfortable operating in a dynamic and complex environment, and build resilience in everything we do.

To meet the Nation's needs and address the most difficult maritime challenges, the Coast Guard must be nimble, adaptive, and anticipatory. To avoid the temptation to build and perfect the Coast Guard of the past, we must be bold, think anew, integrate new capabilities, challenge the status quo, and innovate how we conduct operations and provide related support. We must embrace ever-changing technology, be comfortable operating in a dynamic and complex environment, and build resilience into everything we do.

The Coast Guard Strategic Plan 2018-2022 provides the framework for a Ready, Relevant, and Responsive Coast Guard. To this end, the Coast Guard seeks to:

- Maximize Readiness Today and Tomorrow;
- Address the Nation's Complex Maritime Challenges; and
- Deliver Mission Excellence Anytime, Anywhere.

These strategic priorities position the Coast Guard to protect America's economic prosperity and national security.

STRATEGIC PRIORITY 1

MAXIMIZE READINESS TODAY AND TOMORROW

The Coast Guard's top priority is Service readiness. As with the other Armed Services, an uncertain, constrained budget environment has eroded our operational readiness. At the same time, the increasing global complexity and expanding demand for Coast Guard services necessitates the best people, modern technology, resilient infrastructure, and highly-capable assets. With a clear understanding of the fiscal environment, we will support our people, invest in mission-enabling technologies, and modernize our assets to guarantee we are ready for the challenges of today while preparing for the threats of tomorrow.

CULTIVATE

THE MISSION READY TOTAL WORKFORCE

Objective 1.1. | Service readiness starts with investing in our greatest asset — our people.

To meet the Nation's needs, the Coast Guard will recruit, train, support, and retain a Mission Ready Total Workforce that is empowered with the information, knowledge, skills, equipment, and support systems needed to excel across the full spectrum of Coast Guard operations.

We are also committed to broadening diversity and building a Service that is representative of the American public. To best position a mission-ready Service, we must treat personnel services as key enablers of operational success, embrace digital tools in the performance of duties, and seek creative solutions to maintain a highly-skilled workforce. Throughout the organization, we will find ways to make our organization appeal to current and potential members as an employer of choice.

1.1.1. Improve Support Programs for the Mission Ready Total Workforce

Our support programs must ensure that our workforce is ready to successfully perform frontline operations and provide world-class mission support. To meet the needs of our people, we will:

- Instill a customer service culture and improve the delivery of services to our workforce;
- Identify and implement policies and practices that improve quality of life;
- Foster positive work environments, embracing and leveraging the differences among us, while ensuring equal opportunity for all;
- Modernize support services, including improved access to quality health care; and
- Strive to eliminate sexual assault and sexual harassment from the Service.

1.1.2. Sharpen the Skills of the Mission Ready Total Workforce

Our organizational success is predicated on a highly-trained, properly-equipped workforce that employs technology to maximize its impact across all mission areas. To build our competencies and maintain our competitive advantage, we will:

- Leverage digital tools and relevant technologies, including mobility solutions to enhance frontline operations;
- Employ predictive analytics to identify and develop critical skills to meet emerging mission demands;
- Update training and education programs to develop specialized skills for current and future mission needs; and
- Invest in and sustain a Prevention workforce that meets the evolving needs of the maritime industry.

1.1.3. Recruit and Retain an Inclusive and Diverse Workforce that Reflects the American Public We Serve

The magnitude and complexity of our global operations and mission support activities necessitates a workforce possessing diverse backgrounds, different perspectives, unique experiences, and original ideas. To grow a diverse workforce supported by an inclusive culture, we will:

- Enhance recruiting, hiring, and personnel management policies that advance inclusion and diversity;
- Increase non-traditional accessions and expedite civilian hiring;
- Explore creative and adaptive workforce retention policies for mission critical skills; and
- Improve workforce career development to ensure we are an employer of choice.

1.1.4. Strengthen Our Ready and Responsive Reserve and Auxiliary Forces

The Reserve component is an essential force multiplier that merits optimized policies, efficient processes, and an integrated organizational structure. The Auxiliary, through their volunteer service, donates time, skills, and resources across Coast Guard operations and mission support activities. To advance the strategic value of both the Reservists and the Auxiliarists, we will:

- Modernize the Coast Guard Reserve workforce governance and support services;
- Bolster recruiting, advocacy, and retention for Reservists;
- Better identify and leverage the civilian skills of our Reserve workforce to solve complex problems facing the Service and the DHS;
- Accelerate onboarding for new Auxiliarists; and
- Match the unique skills and abilities of the Auxiliary with operational and mission support needs at all levels of the organization.

MODERNIZE

ASSETS, INFRASTRUCTURE, AND MISSION PLATFORMS

Objective 1.2. | In order to meet increasing demands on the Coast Guard, we must continue to build momentum on our current recapitalization efforts, including the timely acquisition and deployment of the Offshore Patrol Cutter, the Polar Security Cutter, and the Waterways Commerce Cutter. Our modernization needs extend beyond our surface assets and include the Command and Control, Communications, Computers, Cyber and Intelligence (C5I) enterprise; shore-side infrastructure; aircraft fleets; and other key mission enablers. We will prioritize investments in technology that will enable mission success today and revolutionize the way we conduct operations in the future.

1.2.1. Strengthen Reliability of C5I Enterprise Systems

Our increasingly digital world requires a balance between reliable access to Coast Guard information systems for our people and assets and the ability to capably defend our networks against cyber threats. To leverage the massive benefits of information technology, connectivity, and data, we will:

- Ensure information is readily and securely available to operators and mission support personnel in a full, degraded, or disconnected environment;
- Deliver reliable mobile capabilities and improved remote access for frontline operators;
- Prioritize resources and recapitalization efforts to ensure the reliability and effectiveness of C5I systems;
- Treat the C5I enterprise mission platform as a mission enabler like other operational assets, grounded in capability requirements; and
- Accelerate the adoption of cloud computing offerings.

1.2.2. Maintain Momentum on Current Acquisition Efforts

The Coast Guard is realizing unprecedented investments in our acquisition program that will enable us to better execute the full range of our missions. To continue on our current trajectory toward a modernized asset portfolio, we will:

- Continue the major acquisition program and operationalize key assets to include the Offshore Patrol Cutter, Polar Security Cutter, and Waterways Commerce Cutter;
- Make essential risk decisions regarding the practical service life of our aging rotary wing aviation fleet and plan for future aviation asset acquisition;
- Invest in and employ shore- and cutter-based unmanned aerial systems;
- Invest in and employ C5I Surveillance and Reconnaissance (C5ISR); and
- Sustain service life extension and improvement projects for our critical aviation and surface fleet.

1.2.3. Modernize Shore Infrastructure Support Programs and Mature Long-Term Homeporting Process

Resilient shore infrastructure is directly connected to operational readiness and successful mission execution. To ensure our shore infrastructure fully supports our operational needs, we will:

- Prioritize and execute the repair or replacement of degraded shore infrastructure that negatively impacts steady state operations or hinders workforce readiness;
- Develop and employ a shore infrastructure management system that anticipates future readiness needs; and
- Build a comprehensive, long-term homeporting plan.

1.2.4. Examine and Employ the Right Combination of Technologies and Information Sciences to Meet Future Readiness Needs

The rapid advancement in technology across our personal and professional lives presents game-changing opportunities for the Coast Guard, if properly harnessed. To fully understand the potential impacts of emerging technologies on Coast Guard operations, we will:

- Evaluate emerging technologies, such as unmanned platforms, data analytics, block chain encryption, artificial intelligence, machine learning, network protocols, information storage, and human-machine collaboration for possible use in mission execution;
- Capitalize on DHS and DOD research and development efforts, national labs research, and academic partnerships;
- Seek opportunities to leap from existing technologies and competencies to new capabilities; and
- Assess the Coast Guard total force laydown and capability mix across all mission areas.

STRATEGIC PRIORITY 2

ADDRESS THE NATION'S COMPLEX MARITIME CHALLENGES

As the Nation's unique instrument across the full spectrum of maritime operations, the Coast Guard cooperates and builds capacity to police, detect, deter, and counter maritime threats. From education, coordination, and regulation, to enforcement and lethal force, the Coast Guard has a range of capabilities to influence behavior. Through DHS integration and DOD interoperability, the Coast Guard acts with unity of effort and partners with Federal, State, local, tribal, private, and international stakeholders across the increasingly complex maritime domain.

STRENGTHEN

MARITIME GOVERNANCE

Objective 2.1. | Our ability to address challenges in the maritime domain spans the full range of activity from education and partnerships to regulation and enforcement to high-end, specialized operations. Full spectrum maritime governance provides the foundation for an adaptive and stabilizing framework that is essential to resilience. Nefarious activities destabilize and threaten vulnerable regions. To address these sources of maritime disorder, we will employ our singular capabilities, authorities, and established partnerships to maintain law and order and uphold accepted behaviors.

2.1.1. Enhance Situational Awareness to Secure our Maritime Borders

As the Nation's premier maritime agency, the Coast Guard must integrate information, intelligence, and operations to create actionable knowledge that informs decision-making. To protect our MTS and maritime borders, we will:

- Acquire and integrate a networked system of platforms, sensors, mission integration systems, communications equipment, and analytical tools across the Service;
- Leverage C5 intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance capabilities from military, law enforcement, and commercial sources to improve the processing, exploitation, and dissemination of critical and actionable intelligence; and
- Employ data-driven methodologies to optimize planning for the deployment of Coast Guard resources.

2.1.2. Promote Acceptable Behavior in the Maritime Domain

The Coast Guard is a recognized leader in maritime communities, from local ports to international regulatory bodies. Our position enables us to influence maritime operations around the world. To shape safe, secure, and environmentally-responsible maritime activities, we will:

- Preserve maritime norms and influence acceptable behavior to facilitate the unimpeded flow of lawful maritime commerce;
- Create opportunities and build avenues for regional information sharing;
- Ensure a common-sense domestic regulatory approach that strikes the right balance between facilitating and safeguarding commerce; and
- Lead America in international maritime affairs and promote a free and open international order in support of the National Security Strategy.

2.1.3. Employ Effective Presence to Deter and Disrupt Maritime Threats to the Nation

Driven by intelligence, our operational capabilities enable us to put the right asset in the right place at the right time. To maximize operational impact, we will:

- Incorporate strategically relevant technologies to harness real-time data and effectively direct assets for end-game intervention;
- Treat every operational asset as a sensor to collect and disseminate information and intelligence; and
- Harness the creativity and innovation of our workforce to challenge established operational approaches, apply new technology, and increase effectiveness in countering maritime threats.

ENHANCE

UNIFIED EFFORT

Objective 2.2. | The Coast Guard partners at every level, from individual mariners to local police departments, to the world's top navies and coast guards. We act in coordination with our government partners, private stakeholders, and international allies to safeguard our national interests and protect against threats to the homeland. Our aim is to integrate whenever possible and deliver output greater than the sum of its parts. Only with commitment to "all-in" collaboration can we produce the "all-out" effort necessary to achieve our collective goals.

2.2.1. Strengthen Integration with DHS

The Coast Guard employs both distinct and complementary capabilities to help DHS and its components meet their strategic objectives. To maximize our value to the Department, we will:

- Enhance integration with DHS at the strategic, operational, and tactical levels;
- Implement DHS best practices across the Service including joint requirements management, acquisition processes, research and development, and IT solutions; and
- Connect our capabilities with other DHS components to further DHS strategic priorities.

2.2.2. Leverage Joint Capabilities and Authorities to Complement DOD

Our unique authorities, specialized capabilities, and established relationships will complement DOD to provide an agile response to contingencies, address sources of maritime discord, and deter threats to our national interests. To better integrate capabilities for national defense, we will:

- Employ our authorities to support National Defense Strategy (NDS) objectives;
- Synchronize engagement, operations, and capacity-building efforts to strengthen maritime governance around the world;
- Leverage DOD to field interoperable equipment and reduce redundancies in the acquisition of new capabilities; and
- Target interoperability with the U.S. Navy and other maritime services to include the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) and the U.S. Maritime Administration (MARAD).

2.2.3. Enhance Partnerships with Maritime Stakeholders

The MTS is critical to our economic prosperity and national security. By cultivating relationships across the maritime community, we bolster our credibility, recognize industry trends, and understand emerging technologies. To safeguard the MTS, we will:

- Foster productive relationships with the maritime industry to build our own expertise and enable effective oversight;
- Continue to lead a community of Federal, State, and local partners to ensure all elements of the MTS are efficient, effective, and responsive; and
- Share universal best practices to strengthen maritime cybersecurity preparedness, response, and recovery.

2.2.4. Align International Engagement with National and Departmental Priorities

Our strong international standing and proven track record in partner-nation capacity building is directly linked to our national and economic security. To further our international impact, we will:

- Use our position within the international maritime community to shape and promote universal standards and regimes;
- Strategically orient time and resources toward international activities that maximize return on investment to national and Coast Guard priorities; and
- Foster international capacity-building efforts in regions that are both critical to U.S. interests and in alignment with DOD and U.S. Department of State (DOS).

RESPONSIVE

DELIVER MISSION EXCELLENCE ANYTIME, ANYWHERE

We are an agile, adaptive force whose greatest value to the Nation resides in our ability to rapidly shift among our missions to meet national priorities during steady state and crisis. Our empowered workforce, with a bias for action and propensity to exercise on-scene initiative, enables the Coast Guard to provide immediate and reliable response to any maritime incident. Rapid advancements in technology and the evolving operating environment demand mature enterprise-wide preparedness, resiliency, and responsiveness. The functions that enable operations, mission support, and organizational structure must evolve alongside the external environment, partner and stakeholder capabilities, and innovative adversaries. To promote national security and build resiliency, we will align all of our Service's initiatives to promote organizational efficiency, agility, and effectiveness – delivering excellence anytime, anywhere.

STRENGTHEN

RESILIENCE THROUGH CRISIS LEADERSHIP, EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS, AND SURGE RESPONSE

Objective 3.1. | We are the Nation's premier maritime first responder. Large-scale, catastrophic events will continue to impact the maritime domain and our Nation's citizens. Crisis management and response are critical functions that span all Coast Guard missions and directly support DHS. A ready and organized response force, with integrated and executable plans, enables the Coast Guard to respond and recover during times of crisis. To improve our capability in managing increasingly complex disasters, we will continue to hone our crisis leadership and emergency planning skills, with a focus on the rapid and proactive mobilization of our resources.

3.1.1. Lead in Crisis

Whether a maritime disaster or catastrophic event, the Coast Guard is a leader of the integrated response. Drawing on our vast organizational experience, we will:

- Cultivate crisis leadership as a core competency;
- Be the Nation's premier incident management experts for complex maritime disasters; and
- Enhance the management of surge capabilities and the mobilization of adaptive force packages.

3.1.2. Intensify Integrated Emergency Management Planning and Execution

Cultivating resilient maritime communities requires deliberate and coordinated crisis and surge incident planning. To deliberately prepare for today's risks while proactively anticipating tomorrow's threats, we will:

- Act on lessons learned and best practices from previous events for integrated emergency management;
- Enhance planning and evaluation to support the maritime community's emergency preparedness at all levels of government; and
- Implement realistic interagency emergency management exercises that incorporate future and emerging challenges.

3.1.3. Advance Resilient Information Technology and Command and Control in Crisis

The global reach of information and the speed that it flows can enhance both advanced readiness and mission effectiveness during disasters. To leverage technology solutions during crises, we will:

- Seek innovative, interoperable, and mobile solutions for rapid integration of information and resources across the broad spectrum of responders;
- Identify and employ a broad range of tools such as asset tracking and common operating picture technologies to enhance situational awareness; and
- Harness the power of social media applications in disaster response.

INNOVATE

FOR BETTER ORGANIZATIONAL PERFORMANCE

Objective 3.2. | Our bias for action and propensity to exercise on-scene initiative are ingrained in our Service's character, extending into our mission support enterprise. We will shape our Service based on a logical understanding of operational commitments, current and predictive budget realities, and potential long-term mission demands. We will strengthen our capability to assess enterprise risk in fulfilling our statutory missions during steady-state operations and when responding to crises. We will strive to lower the barriers to innovation, including programmatic stovepipes, and recognize that smart failures in low-risk venues in the short term often yield lessons-learned that lead to long-term organizational success.

3.2.1. Deliver Mission Support at the Speed of Need

The mission support enterprise is the backbone of effective mission execution. Mission support personnel must be armed with the appropriate structure, policy, procedures, and information to support frontline operators. In order to remain a nimble and adaptable force, we must continue to evaluate how we deliver mission support and seek to bring our operational and mission support efforts closer together. To deliver support at the speed of need, we will:

- Encourage and reward our workforce for developing innovative ways to increase delivery speed and efficiency of mission support functions;
- Strengthen our expedited acquisition process to adopt new technologies that will greatly enhance frontline operations; and
- Capitalize on relationships with DOD and DHS to identify shared solutions that augment internal Coast Guard logistics capabilities.

3.2.2. Strengthen Enterprise Risk Management

Innovation requires smart risk taking. The Coast Guard must establish clear risk tolerance levels across the full spectrum of operational and support missions with an understanding of the trade-offs between today's tactical crisis and tomorrow's strategic imperative. At the same time, the workforce structure must be needs-driven, based on operational and support requirements that are objectively determined and continually assessed. Balancing the demand for Coast Guard services in a constrained budget environment, we will:

- Establish analytical tools to model organizational capacity and force structure for steady-state and major emergency response and contingency operations;
- Refine workforce and capital asset management and budget processes to maximize operational results and manage risk through a repeatable process; and
- Shape our decisions based on a logical understanding of operational commitments, current and predictive budget realities, and potential long-term Service demands.

3.2.3. Enhance Organizational Agility and Decision-Making

To be successful in a dynamic and unpredictable strategic environment, the Coast Guard must have a lean, agile, and effective command and control structure. To optimize the organization, we will:

- Eliminate unnecessary bureaucracy to bolster organizational agility;
- Enhance information-sharing and decision-making frameworks to integrate operations and support; and
- Mature our organizational processes to ensure local actions are aligned with Service priorities.

3.2.4. Reinforce a Culture of Continuous Innovation

The Coast Guard brings enduring value to the Nation and must adapt to the changing character of maritime operations. To remain at the cutting edge, we will:

- Foster a culture of experimentation and encourage acceptance of warranted risk to affect change;
- Challenge our workforce to evolve and improve long-standing processes and operational constructs; and
- Strengthen Service innovation initiatives and accelerate the process of moving the best ideas to Service-wide implementation.

THE WAY AHEAD

The strategic context in which the Coast Guard operates will undoubtedly remain dynamic, demanding the best of our highly-capable and adaptable workforce. Grounded in our Core Values and guided by the Commandant's Guiding Principles – Ready, Relevant, and Responsive – we will safeguard the trust and confidence of the American people. These tenets ensure our Service remains best positioned to serve a Nation whose economic prosperity, national security, and global influence are inextricably linked to the maritime domain.

Strategy is fundamentally about choices. To implement this Strategic Plan, we will have to make difficult choices in critical mission areas. As we carefully balance our limited resources against a growing demand for our services, every level of the Coast Guard must tie their actions to these strategic priorities so we remain Semper Paratus to answer the call.

With honor and integrity, we will safeguard the American people, our homeland, and our values.

Honor, Respect, and Devotion to Duty.

ANTI-DISCRIMINATION and ANTI-HARASSMENT POLICY STATEMENT

The Coast Guard is committed to a workplace free of all forms of discrimination, including harassment. Discrimination violates the law and undermines the Service's Core Values of Honor, Respect and Devotion to Duty. Achieving an environment of high professionalism that is free from harassment is essential to successful maritime safety, security and stewardship - across agencies, aligned to other services, and attentive to the trust placed in us.

It is our duty as Coast Guard members to treat each other with dignity and respect - without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including gender identity, sexual orientation, and pregnancy), age, disability, genetic information, marital status, parental status, political affiliation, engagement in a protected Equal Employment Opportunity/Equal Opportunity (EEO/EO) activity, Whistleblower activity, or any other basis protected by law and policy. We will proactively address any reports of inappropriate behaviors before they rise to the level of prohibited discrimination and before they significantly affect our people, their performance, or our maritime mission. The entire Coast Guard workforce will continue to receive mandatory EEO/EO training to ensure that all members know their rights and responsibilities for preventing, eliminating, and addressing reports of harassment. Collectively, we must sustain a culture where all members feel empowered to act against any harassing or discriminatory behaviors.

Coast Guard members who believe they have been subjected to unlawful discrimination, which includes harassment, reprisal for participation in EEO/EO/whistleblower activity, bullying, hazing, or other disruptive behaviors, should report it promptly through their chain of command, their local civil rights service provider, the Department of Homeland Security, Office of the Inspector General (military), U.S. Office of Special Counsel (civilian), or other appropriate grievance forums. All complaints and reports will be processed swiftly, thoroughly, impartially, and through a process that protects privacy. For cases in which it is determined that discrimination or prohibited harassment has occurred, leaders and managers will take immediate and appropriate corrective action. Coast Guard Commandant Instruction M5350.4 (series) contains guidelines for addressing claims of discrimination and harassment. Guidelines for addressing misconduct (i.e. hazing, bullying, and other inappropriate behaviors) are outlined in Coast Guard Commandant Instructions M1600.2 (series) for military and M12750.4 (series) for civilian members.

Dialogues taken to the public square have highlighted the corrosiveness of discrimination, bullying, and intolerance. These behaviors breach trust in teams, reduce unit cohesion, and degrade individual and overall readiness. I am counting on every member of the workforce to be proactive, steadfast, and determined in preventing harassment and maintaining an atmosphere reflective of our Service's values.

CHAPTER 6 REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION AND PERSONAL ASSISTANCE SERVICES FOR QUALIFIED PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

- A. Introduction. This chapter addresses Coast Guard policies, procedures, and responsible parties for meeting reasonable accommodation needs for qualified employees and applicants for employment with disabilities. It also provides guidance on the requirements to provide Personal Assistance Services (PAS) under Section 501 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as amended.
- B. Reasonable Accommodation Policy.
1. Definition. Reasonable accommodation is a change or adjustment to a work environment that permits a qualified applicant or employee with a disability to participate in the job application process, to perform the essential functions of a job, or to enjoy the benefits and privileges of employment equal to those enjoyed by employees without disabilities. Reasonable accommodation may include acquiring or modifying equipment or devices; job restructuring; part-time or modified work schedules; reassignment to a vacant position; adjusting or modifying examinations, training materials, or policies; providing readers and interpreters; making the workplace readily accessible to and usable by persons with disabilities.
 2. Legal Authority and Application of Policies. The statutory obligation for the Coast Guard to provide reasonable accommodations is contained in Executive Order 13164 (July 2000), the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended; 29 C.F.R. Part 1614.203(d); and 29 C.F.R. Part 1630. Although many persons with disabilities can apply for and perform jobs without the provision of any reasonable accommodation, there are workplace barriers that keep others from performing jobs that they could perform given some form of accommodation. These barriers may be physical obstacles, such as inaccessible facilities or equipment, or they may be procedures or rules, such as rules concerning when work is performed, when breaks are taken, or how essential or marginal functions are performed. The reasonable accommodation process attempts to remove workplace barriers for persons with disabilities.
 3. Reasonable Accommodation Policies Applicable to Civilian Members. It is the policy of the Coast Guard to provide reasonable accommodation to all civilian employees or applicants for employment with a qualified disability within the defined scope and limitations of the law. Reasonable accommodation should be provided to qualified persons with disabilities, unless doing so poses a direct threat to the requestor or other employees, or poses an undue hardship to the Agency.
 4. Coast Guard Programs for Persons with Disabilities. An affirmative employment plan for the hiring, placement, and advancement of persons with disabilities has been developed and maintained by the Coast Guard, consistent with its obligations under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended.

- a. In keeping with 5 C.F.R. Part 720(c), the Coast Guard developed a plan to promote employment and advancement opportunities for qualified disabled veterans within the Federal Government.
 - b. The Coast Guard maintains a Persons with Disabilities Program (PWDP), which is designed to promote the hiring, placement, and advancement of employees with disabilities and to ensure they are employed within a broad range of grade levels and occupations commensurate with their qualifications. The Coast Guard, as all federal agencies, is tasked with assuring that its policies do not unnecessarily exclude or limit persons with disabilities because of working conditions. The PWDP enables the Coast Guard to take a positive and directive role in fully complying with Section 501 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, and the provisions of 29 C.F.R. Part 1614.203(b).
- C. Roles and Responsibilities. Commanding Officers/Officers-in-Charge (CO/OIC) or their equivalent at all levels of the Service are personally responsible and accountable for ensuring that civil rights laws, regulations, policies, and program standards are proactively applied and rigorously enforced within their commands. It is incumbent on those in leadership positions to create a workplace built on Coast Guard Core Values of Honor, Respect, and Devotion to Duty and to ensure that the workplace is free of discrimination or harassment on any prohibited basis. Likewise, it is incumbent on every member of the Coast Guard to promptly inform their chain of command or a Civil Rights Service Provider (CRSP) of any civil rights concerns or issues when they arise. The specific roles and administrative responsibilities of Coast Guard employees are addressed below.
1. Specific Administrative Responsibilities.
- a. Director, Civil Rights Directorate, Commandant (CG-00H). The Director, Civil Rights Directorate (CRD) is responsible for implementing the Coast Guard Persons with Disabilities Program (PWDP). The Director is specifically responsible for ensuring that:
 - (1) A nationwide Coast Guard PWDP is established.
 - (2) A national PWDP Manager from within the Civil Rights Directorate is designated to be responsible for administering the reasonable accommodation program throughout the Coast Guard.
 - (3) Coast Guard procedures for processing reasonable accommodation requests are developed and issued.
 - (4) Managers, supervisors, human resources specialists, CRSP, and employees understand applicable laws, regulations, policies, and procedures regarding reasonable accommodation.
 - (5) The PWDP is in compliance with the provisions of this Policy.

- (6) Appropriate Human Resources Specialists and Office of General Law Representatives, if applicable, are consulted regarding their role in the reasonable accommodation process.
- b. National Persons with Disabilities Program Manager. The national Persons with Disabilities Program (PWDP) Manager is specifically responsible for:
 - (1) Administering the reasonable accommodations program Coast Guard-wide.
 - (2) Serving as the deciding official on appeal of denial of reasonable accommodation requests.
 - (3) Maintaining records on all reasonable accommodation requests.
 - (4) Submitting a consolidated report on reasonable accommodation requests and activities to the Department of Homeland Security Office of Civil Rights and Civil Liberties (DHS CRCL).
 - (5) Engaging and informing the workforce regarding the Persons with Disabilities program.
- c. Civil Rights Service Provider (CRSP). The CRSPs will advise personnel on the reasonable accommodation process and submit quarterly reports on reasonable accommodation requests or denials to the PWDP Manager.
- d. Civilian Human Resources, Diversity and Leadership Directorate (CG-12). The Civilian Human Resources, Diversity and Leadership Directorate (CG-12) is responsible for:
 - (1) Ensuring that all vacancy announcements inform qualified applicants with disabilities that reasonable accommodation may be requested.
 - (2) Serving as decision maker on reasonable accommodation requests from job applicants and providing advice for requests involving undue hardship determinations.
 - (3) Providing assistance to all applicable parties, e.g., the supervisor, employee, and PWDP Manager, regarding reassignment opportunities to vacant or prospectively vacant positions within the Coast Guard.
 - (4) Ensuring that copies of this Policy are made available to all new employees during orientation and to all supervisory employees.
 - (5) Ensuring that reasonable accommodation information and a link to the CG Portal are made available to new employees and supervisors.
- e. Commanding Officer/Officer in Charge. The CO/OIC is specifically responsible for:

- (1) Consulting with appropriate agency representatives for assistance on reasonable accommodation issues: Civil Rights Service Providers, Human Resources Specialists, Medical Officers, and/or Attorney-Advisors.
 - (2) Submitting completed reasonable accommodation request forms and associated records to the servicing CRSP within 10 business days subsequent to the resolution of a reasonable accommodation request.
- f. First Level Supervisor. The First Level Supervisor is specifically responsible for:
- (1) Serving as the decision maker.
 - (2) Seeking guidance, as necessary, from appropriate sources, which include their servicing CRSP, CO/OIC, human resources specialists, medical officers, and attorney-advisors.
 - (3) Determining that the request is in fact a reasonable accommodation request.
 - (4) Acknowledging and responding, in writing, within 5 business days, using Acknowledgement of Reasonable Accommodation Request, Form CG-6080, to oral and written requests for accommodation.
 - (5) Determining the necessity of obtaining medical documentation and determining its sufficiency for the processing of reasonable accommodation requests.
 - (6) Determining, with appropriate guidance, if the requester is a qualified individual with a disability.
 - (7) Communicating with the requester regarding the type of accommodation needed and whether or not it would enable the requester to perform the essential functions of the position or enjoy a benefit or privilege of employment as are enjoyed by similarly situated employees without disabilities.
 - (8) Transmitting a written decision to the requestor within 15 business days unless extenuating circumstances dictate otherwise, and ensuring that the individual requesting the accommodation is informed of the reasons for delay.
 - (9) Maintaining confidentiality to the extent practicable.
- g. Employees with Disabilities. Employees with disabilities are specifically responsible for:
- (1) Requesting an accommodation from their first level supervisor, either orally or in writing, describing, if known, how the accommodation would enable them to perform the essential functions of the position, or enjoy a benefit or privilege of employment as are enjoyed by similarly situated employees without disabilities.
 - (2) Providing medical documentation of the disabling condition, upon request.

- (3) Engaging in the interactive process during the processing of the reasonable accommodation request.
 - (4) Appealing the denial of a reasonable accommodation request, if applicable, to the national PWDP Manager within 10 business days of notification of the denial of the request.
2. Form Availability. The following forms are available on the USCG Electronic Forms Database at the web addresses below, or by contacting a servicing CRSP:
- a. Request for Reasonable Accommodation, Form CG-6079.
https://cg.portal.uscg.mil/sites/externaldata/Forms/CG_6079.PDF
 - b. Acknowledgement of Reasonable Accommodation Request, Form CG-6080.
https://cg.portal.uscg.mil/sites/externaldata/Forms/CG_6080.PDF
 - c. Reasonable Accommodation Decision and Reporting Form CG-6081.
https://cg.portal.uscg.mil/sites/externaldata/Forms/CG_6081.PDF
3. Resources. The following resources are available to assist employees and supervisors with reasonable accommodations:
- a. Job Accommodation Network (JAN) provides free, expert, and confidential guidance on workplace accommodations and disability employment issues. Information is available on their website at www.askjan.org.
 - b. Employer Assistance and Resource Network on Disability Inclusion provides guidance and a range of free resources to help employers of all sizes tap the benefits of disability diversity. Information is available on their website at www.askearn.org.
 - c. Computer/Electronic Accommodations Program provides assistive technology and accommodations to support persons with disabilities, and wounded, ill, and injured service members throughout the Federal Government, in accessing information and communication technology. Information is available on their website at www.cap.mil.
 - d. Department of Transportation Disability Resource Center (DRC) provides job accommodations and related services to employees and job applicants. The Coast Guard and DRC maintain a service agreement to provide accommodations such as interpretive services and personal assistance services, at no cost. Information is available on their website at www.transportation.gov/drc.

D. Processing Reasonable Accommodation Requests.

- 1. Requests for Reasonable Accommodation.
 - a. Who May Request an Accommodation. Qualified individuals with disabilities who are employees or applicants for employment may request a reasonable accommodation. Reasonable accommodations may be requested by qualified employees regardless of whether they work part-time or full-time, or are considered “probationary.”

- (1) An applicant may request an accommodation orally or in writing from the Human Resources Specialist/Command Staff Advisor (HRS/CSA) who is handling the vacancy recruitment process.
- (2) A family member, health professional, or other representative acting on a requester’s behalf may request an accommodation on behalf of a Coast Guard civilian employee or job applicant. To the extent possible, the individual with a disability should be contacted to confirm that he/she is in fact seeking a reasonable accommodation. The individual may refuse to accept an accommodation that is not needed. See Third Party Request in this section for more information.

b. How to Submit a Request. A request for a reasonable accommodation is a statement from an employee or applicant for employment that, as a result of a medical condition, the individual needs an adjustment or change in the application process, in their job, or in a benefit or privilege of employment. The reasonable accommodation process begins as soon as the request for accommodation is made either orally or in writing. Management must immediately begin processing a request for accommodation, and should not wait to confirm or acknowledge the request with the requestor before acting on the request. A request does not have to use any special words, such as reasonable accommodation, disability, or Rehabilitation Act. A request is any communication in which an individual asks or states that he/she needs USCG to provide or to change something because of a medical condition. A supervisor, manager, or the PWDP Manager should ask an individual whether he/she is requesting a reasonable accommodation if the nature of the initial communication is unclear. Persons with disabilities may request a reasonable accommodation whenever they choose, even if they have not disclosed the existence of a disability and need not have a particular accommodation in mind before making the request. For further information or assistance with a request for reasonable accommodation, any Coast Guard employee or applicant may consult with a human resources specialist or CRSP.

2. Acknowledging Requests for Record Keeping Purposes.

- a. Acknowledging Requests. To enable the Coast Guard to keep accurate records regarding requests for accommodation, the person to whom the employee or applicant made the oral request for reasonable accommodation must follow up on the oral request by completing the “Acknowledgement of Request for Reasonable Accommodation,” Form CG-680, or otherwise confirming the request by email.
- b. Recurring Requests. A written acknowledgement is not required when an individual needs a reasonable accommodation on a repeated basis, for example, the assistance of sign language interpreters or readers. It is only required for the initial request. However, the employee must give adequate notice each time the accommodation is needed.

3. Determining Who Will Process the Request.

- a. Decision Maker. The person who processes the request for reasonable accommodation will be referred to as the decision maker. For employees, this role is fulfilled by the employee's first level supervisor. For applicants, the role can be fulfilled either by the CO/OIC or the senior Human Resources manager responsible for servicing the job vacancy. In addition, the servicing CRSP will be available as needed to provide guidance and assistance to employees and the decision maker.
- b. Backup Personnel. In the first level supervisor's absence, as a backup, the next available person above the supervisor in the chain of command would be responsible for continuing to receive, process, and/or serve as the decision maker on reasonable accommodation requests. The decision maker must ensure that persons with disabilities are informed about who has been designated as his/her backup. The time frames discussed below must not be suspended or extended because of the unavailability of a decision maker.

4. The Interactive Process.

- a. Initial Discussion. Once the decision maker receives a request for a reasonable accommodation, the 15 business day timeframe to make a decision begins. If additional information is needed in order to make a decision, the decision maker must engage with the requester. This is called the interactive process. During the interactive process, the individual requesting the accommodation and the decision maker interact to determine what, if any, accommodation should be provided, or to explore alternatives.
- b. Communication. Communication is a priority throughout the entire process. This involves the decision maker and the requesting employee or applicant taking a proactive approach in searching out and considering possible accommodations, including consulting appropriate resources for assistance. The employee or applicant requesting the accommodation must participate in the process of identifying an effective accommodation.

(1) As a first step in the process the decision maker will:

- (a) Inform the applicant or employee with a disability that he/she is the decision maker for the reasonable accommodation process;
- (b) Describe the details of the accommodation request process. This initial discussion should happen as soon as possible.

(2) In those cases where the disability, the need for accommodation, and the type of accommodation that should be provided are clear, extensive discussions are not necessary. The decision maker and requesting individual should maintain communication to ensure that there is a full and complete exchange of relevant information.

- (3) Ongoing communication is particularly important, especially in the event that the specific limitation, problem, or barrier is unclear; an effective accommodation is not obvious; or the parties are considering different solutions for providing reasonable accommodation.
- c. Third Party Request. When a third party makes a request for accommodation, the decision maker should, if possible, confirm with the applicant or employee with a disability that a reasonable accommodation has been requested before proceeding. It may not be possible to confirm the request if the employee has, for example, been hospitalized in an acute condition. In this situation, the decision maker will process the third party request and will consult directly with the individual needing the accommodation as soon as it is practicable. The individual may refuse to accept an accommodation that is not needed.
 - d. Importance of Communication in Unclear Situations. Ongoing communication is particularly important, especially in the event that the specific limitation, problem, or barrier is unclear; an effective accommodation is not obvious; or the parties are considering different solutions for providing reasonable accommodation. In those cases where the disability, the need for accommodation, and the type of accommodation that should be provided are clear, extensive discussions are not necessary. Even so, the decision maker and requesting individual should maintain communication to ensure that there is a full and complete exchange of relevant information.
 - e. Confidentiality. The decision maker or any other Coast Guard official who receives information associated with a request for reasonable accommodation may share information regarding that request with other agency officials (such as Legal and/or Human Resources) only when the agency officials need to know the information in order to make determinations about the reasonable accommodation request.
 - f. Request for Reassignment. There are specific considerations in the interactive process when responding to a request for reassignment:
 - (1) Reassignment should only be considered if no reasonable accommodation is available to enable the individual with a disability to perform the essential functions of his or her current position, or if the only effective accommodation would cause undue hardship. Reassignment must be considered as an accommodation prior to separating the employee from federal service.
 - (2) Reasonable efforts should be made in considering whether there are funded vacant positions available for reassignment; the decision maker should work with the appropriate servicing Human Resources Specialist and the employee requesting the accommodation to identify placement opportunities. Placement opportunities include:
 - (a) Coast Guard civilian positions for which the employee qualifies, which officials have reason to believe will become vacant over the following 60 calendar days and that are equivalent in terms of pay, grade, promotion potential, status, benefits, and geographic location to the employee's current position.

- (b) Lower-graded level Coast Guard civilian positions within the local commuting area for which the employee qualifies, which officials have reason to believe will become vacant over the following 60 calendar days, if no equivalent positions are available that are within the same commuting area as the employee's current position.
 - (c) Coast Guard civilian positions, either equivalent or lower level, for which the employee qualifies, outside the employee's current commuting area. As with other reassignments not required by management, the Coast Guard will not pay for relocation costs incurred by the employee.
- (3) In the case of multiple vacancies, while nothing prevents the Coast Guard from offering several reassignment opportunities, the Coast Guard is only obligated to offer one reassignment opportunity as a form of accommodation. If there are no vacant positions within the Coast Guard, a Department-wide search within the Department of Homeland Security is to be conducted as a reasonable accommodation of last resort. An employee must be qualified for the vacant position, with or without reasonable accommodation. Reassignment as a form of reasonable accommodation can only be offered to Coast Guard civilian employees and is not available as an accommodation for job applicants.
 - (4) When no vacant positions are located within Coast Guard, the decision maker must contact the Office of Civilian Workforce Management (CG-122) to initiate the process of locating vacancies in other DHS Components. (Ref: DHS Directive 259-001-02 of Sep 2016).

5. Request for Medical Documentation.

- a. When a Disability is Not Obvious. The decision maker is entitled to know that an employee or applicant has a covered disability that requires a reasonable accommodation when the individual requests a reasonable accommodation. In some cases, the disability and the need for accommodation will be obvious, or already known, to the decision maker. In these cases, the decision maker will not seek any further medical information. However, when a disability and/or need for reasonable accommodation is not obvious, or otherwise already known to the decision maker, the individual may be required to provide reasonable medical documentation explaining the existence of the disability and the individual's functional limitations.
- b. Determination of Necessary Medical Documentation. The decision maker will evaluate the request and make a determination as to whether medical documentation is necessary. If it is necessary, the decision maker will:

- (1) Request information sufficient to substantiate that the individual has a covered disability and needs the reasonable accommodation requested, but will not request unrelated documentation.
 - (2) Seek documentation about the disability and/or functional limitations from the individual and/or ask the individual to obtain such information from an appropriate professional such as a doctor. In order to obtain the most helpful information, all requests for documentation should describe the nature of the job, the essential functions the individual is expected to perform, and any other relevant information. The decision maker may consult with all necessary servicing CRSPs, legal, and job accommodation resource offices in determining its necessity and appropriateness.
- c. Information Must Be Sufficient. If the information provided by the employee's health professional or volunteered by the individual requesting the accommodation is insufficient to enable the decision maker to determine whether an accommodation is appropriate, further information may be requested.
- (1) First, however, the decision maker will explain to the individual seeking accommodation, in specific terms: (i) why the information, which has been provided, is insufficient; (ii) what additional information is needed; and (iii) why the additional information is necessary for a determination on the reasonable accommodation request.
 - (2) The individual may then ask their health care professional or other appropriate knowledgeable professional to provide the additional information.
- d. Release for Consultation with Doctor. The decision maker may request that the individual requesting the accommodation sign a limited release form so that the agency may, thereafter, submit a list of specific questions to the individual's health care provider, or may otherwise contact the individual's doctor, if additional information is needed to process the accommodation request.
- e. Determination of Sufficiency of Documentation. If after a reasonable period of time there is still not sufficient information to demonstrate that the individual has a disability and needs a reasonable accommodation, the decision maker reserves the right to obtain a second opinion to verify physician diagnoses and/or opinions. In determining when a reasonable period of time has passed, the decision maker should consider factors such as the availability of the requestor's medical provider, communications between the requestor and the agency, or others factors that may contribute to a delay in obtaining the requested information.
- f. Unsolicited Medical Documentation. In some cases, the individual requesting the accommodation will supply medical documentation directly to the decision maker without being asked. In these cases, the decision maker will consider such documentation, and if additional documentation is needed, the decision maker will work with the appropriate officials as set forth in this Section.

- g. Choice of Reviewing Medical Expert. If the decision maker is unable to evaluate the necessity of an RA based on the submitted medical documentation, she/he, working in conjunction with the CO/OIC, and servicing human resources Specialist, will choose the medical expert to review the submitted medical documentation. Every effort will be made to choose a Coast Guard physician. If an outside physician is chosen, the cost of the review will be at Coast Guard's expense. The agency medical expert assessments may be used as a factor in determining the medical condition, and the reasonable accommodation options. However, this medical expert's assessment is not solely determinative.
 - h. Failure to Provide Necessary Medical Documentation. The decision maker must advise the employee or applicant who is requesting a reasonable accommodation that his or her failure to provide appropriate documentation or to cooperate in efforts to obtain such documentation can result in a denial of the request.
6. Confidentiality Requirements Regarding Medical Documentation Obtained in the Reasonable Accommodation Process.
- a. Confidentiality of Medical Documentation. Under the Rehabilitation Act, medical documentation obtained in connection with the reasonable accommodation process must be kept confidential regardless of whether the information was provided voluntarily or in response to a disability related question. This means that all medical documentation, including information about functional limitations and reasonable accommodation needs that the Coast Guard obtains in connection with a request for reasonable accommodation, must be kept in files separate from the individual's personnel file. It also means that any Coast Guard employee who obtains or receives such information is strictly bound by these confidentiality requirements.
 - b. Custody of Records. The PWDP Manager will maintain custody of all records obtained or created during the processing of a request for reasonable accommodation, including medical records, and will respond to requests for disclosure of the records. All records will be maintained in accordance with the Privacy Act and the requirements of 29 C.F.R. Part 1611.
 - c. Disclosure of Records. This confidential medical information may be disclosed only as follows:
 - (1) If a decision maker requests that the PWDP Manager obtain medical documentation, that decision maker may be told about necessary restrictions on the work or duties of the employee and about the necessity of providing the accommodation, but the PWDP Manager should only disclose medical information if necessary.
 - (2) First aid and safety personnel may be informed when appropriate, if the disability might require emergency treatment.
 - (3) Government officials may be given information necessary to investigate Coast Guard compliance with the Rehabilitation Act.

- (4) Human Resources Specialists may require information in accordance with any pending personnel actions.
- (5) Whenever medical information is disclosed, the individual disclosing the information must inform the recipients of the information about the confidentiality requirements that pertain to it.

7. Time Frame for Processing Requests and Providing Reasonable Accommodation.

- a. Time Frame Depends on Nature of Request. The time limit for providing or denying an accommodation starts as soon as the accommodation is first requested. The Coast Guard will process a request for reasonable accommodation and provide an accommodation, where appropriate, in as short a timeframe as reasonably possible. The maximum time permitted is 15 business days. When a particular accommodation can be provided in less than the maximum amount of time permitted, failure to provide the accommodation in a prompt manner may result in a violation of the Rehabilitation Act. Decision makers must not interpret the maximum time frame to provide an accommodation as meaning that they should routinely take the full length of time allowed. The Coast Guard recognizes, however, that the time necessary to process a request will depend on the nature of the accommodation requested and whether it is necessary to obtain supporting information.
 - (1) It is recognized that the need for medical documentation, to determine whether the requesting individual has a disability and/or to identify the individual's functional limitations, may not become apparent until after the interactive process has begun. If the decision maker believes it is necessary to obtain such medical documentation, he or she will make the request as soon as possible after receipt of the request for accommodation, but before the expiration of the 15-business day period. The 15-business day period is not paused while the decision maker determines if medical documentation is needed.
 - (2) If the decision maker requests medical documentation, the 15-business day period is paused from the time the requestor is informed that the medical documentation is required and resumes when the medical documentation is provided to the decision maker. If, before the medical documentation is provided, the decision maker determines that medical documentation is no longer needed, the decision maker must continue processing the request.
 - (3) Examples of accommodations that can easily be provided within this 15-business day time frame include:
 - (a) An employee with diabetes works in an area where employees are prohibited from having food at their desks. The employee requires food or drink to adjust his/her blood sugar. An exception to accommodate the employee may be made immediately.
 - (b) An employee with a learning disability asks that an agenda, which his supervisor distributes at the beginning of each staff meeting, be distributed ahead of time because the disability makes it difficult to read and the employee needs more time to prepare.

- b. Expedited Processing. In certain circumstances, a request for reasonable accommodation requires an expedited review and decision in a time frame that is shorter than the 15 business days. These circumstances include where a reasonable accommodation is needed:
 - (1) To enable an applicant to apply for a job. Depending on the timetable for receiving applications, conducting interviews, taking tests, and making hiring decisions, there may be a need to expedite a request for accommodation in order to ensure that an applicant with a disability has an equal opportunity to apply for a job. Therefore, the decision maker needs to move as quickly as possible to make a decision and, if appropriate, provide a reasonable accommodation.
 - (2) To enable an employee to attend a meeting scheduled to occur shortly. For example, an employee may need a sign language interpreter for a meeting scheduled to take place in 5 business days. In these instances, the following should be completed:
 - (a) If no supporting medical documentation is required and no extenuating circumstances apply, a request for reasonable accommodation must be processed and the accommodation, if granted, provided in no more than 5 business days from the date the decision maker receives the request, but sooner, if possible. Failure to meet this time frame solely because a decision maker delayed processing the request is not an extenuating circumstance. (See “Extenuating Circumstances” in this Section).
- c. Extenuating Circumstances. These are factors that could not reasonably have been anticipated or avoided in advance of the request for accommodation. When extenuating circumstances are present, the time for processing a request for reasonable accommodation and providing the accommodation will be extended as reasonably necessary. The decision maker must notify the individual, in writing, of the reason for the delay and the approximate date on which a decision, or provision of the reasonable accommodation, is expected. Any further developments or changes should also be communicated promptly to the individual. Extensions based on extenuating circumstances must be limited to circumstances where they are strictly necessary. All decision makers are expected to act as quickly as reasonably possible in processing requests and providing accommodation. If there is a delay in providing an accommodation that has been approved, the decision maker must investigate whether temporary measures can be taken to assist the employee until the approved accommodation can be permanently provided. The following are examples of extenuating circumstances:
 - (1) There is an outstanding initial or follow-up request for medical documentation or the CO/OIC is evaluating medical documentation that has been provided;

- (2) The accommodation requires new staff to be hired or contracted or contracted or an accommodation involves the removal of architectural barriers; and
- (3) Acquisitions must be made as soon as reasonably possible. If the acquisition authority believes that there is a policy or law against providing an accommodation, they must raise the matter with an appropriate authority immediately. Failure to provide an accommodation due to a mistaken understanding of law could result in a violation of the Rehabilitation Act. These are some examples of extenuating circumstances involving acquisitions:
 - (a) The purchase of equipment may take longer than 15-business days because of requirements under Federal Acquisition Regulations and/or DHS acquisition policies and procedures;
 - (b) Equipment must be back-ordered, the vendor typically used by the Coast Guard for goods or services has unexpectedly gone out of business or the vendor cannot promptly supply the needed goods or services and another vendor is not immediately available; and
 - (c) The employee with a disability needs to work with the equipment on a trial basis to ensure that it is effective before the Coast Guard purchases it.
- d. Accommodation on a Temporary Basis. There may be occasions when it is prudent to provide an accommodation on a temporary basis. The employee must be clearly informed that they are being provided accommodation only on a temporary, interim basis. Examples include:
 - (1) There may be a delay in receiving adaptive equipment for an employee with a vision disability. During the delay, the decision maker might arrange for other employees to act as readers. This temporary measure may not be as effective as the adaptive equipment, but it will allow the employee to perform as much of the job as possible until the equipment arrives.
 - (2) If there is a delay which is attributable to the need to obtain or evaluate medical documentation and a determination has not been made that the individual is entitled to an accommodation, the Coast Guard may provide an accommodation on a temporary basis. In such a case, the decision maker will notify the individual in writing that the accommodation is being provided on a temporary basis pending a decision on the accommodation request. The decision maker must ensure that such temporary measures do not replace long-term accommodation and that all necessary steps to secure the long-term accommodation are being taken.
 - (3)(3)
- 8. Granting of a Reasonable Accommodation Request.
 - a. As soon as the decision maker determines that a reasonable accommodation will be provided, that decision should be communicated to the individual and the CO/OIC, absent extenuating circumstances, within 15 business days of the request, using the Reasonable Accommodation Decision and Reporting Form (CG-6081).

- b. If the accommodation cannot be provided within that time frame, the decision maker must inform the individual, and the CO/OIC, in writing, of the projected time frame for providing the accommodation.

9. Denial of a Reasonable Accommodation Request.

- a. As soon as the decision maker determines that a request for a reasonable accommodation will be denied, he or she must complete the Reasonable Accommodation Decision and Reporting Form (CG-6081). The decision maker must inform the individual and the CO/OIC, in writing, within 15 business days of the request, absent extenuating circumstances. The explanation for the denial should be written in plain language clearly stating the specific reasons for the denial.
- b. Where the decision maker has denied a specific requested accommodation, but offered an alternate accommodation that was not agreed upon during the interactive process, the denial notice should explain the reasons for denying the requested accommodation and why the decision maker believes the alternate accommodation would be effective.
- c. Reasons for the denial of a request for a reasonable accommodation may include the examples listed below. Keep in mind that the actual notice to the individual must include specific reasons for the denial, for example, why the accommodation would not be effective or why it would result in undue hardship:
 - (1) The requested accommodation would not be effective.
 - (2) Providing the requested accommodation would result in undue hardship. Before reaching this determination, the decision maker must have explored other effective accommodation options that would not impose undue hardship and, therefore, could be provided. A determination of undue hardship means that the Coast Guard finds a specific accommodation would be prohibitively costly, extensive, substantial, or disruptive, or that it would fundamentally alter the nature or operation of business. When considering costs, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission considers the overall impact to the Department of Homeland Security, not the costs to a specific Coast Guard unit. Contact the servicing CRSP for possible resources. Findings of undue hardship must be favorably endorsed by the servicing Legal office.
 - (3) Medical documentation is inadequate to establish that the individual has a disability and/or needs a reasonable accommodation.
 - (4) The requested accommodation would require the removal of an essential job function.
 - (5) The requested accommodation would require the lowering of a performance or production standard.

- d. The written notice of denial also informs individuals that they have the right to file an EEO Complaint within 45 calendar days and may have rights to pursue administrative or negotiated grievance procedures. The decision maker must review applicable collective bargaining agreements and the administrative grievance procedure to determine if grievance procedures apply. The written notice of denial must also explain procedures for informal dispute resolution. Inaction on the part of the decision maker in processing a reasonable accommodation request will be considered a denial of the request.
- e. If individuals do not agree with the denial, they may submit a request for reconsideration to the decision maker, in writing, within 5 business days of receiving the written notice of denial. Individuals may present additional information in support of their request for reconsideration within 5 business days of submitting the request.

10. Appeals to the PWDP Manager.

- a. If the decision maker does not reverse the denial decision, individuals may submit an appeal of the decision to the PWDP Manager, in writing, within 10 business days of receiving the reconsideration decision. The PWDP Manager will issue a response to individuals within 10 business days of receipt of the appeal. Pursuing dispute resolution procedures, including seeking a request for reconsideration or an appeal, does not affect the time limits for initiating statutory and collective bargaining claims. The participation of individuals in any dispute resolution process does not satisfy the requirements for bringing a claim under EEO, or administrative, or negotiated grievance procedures. Information regarding submission of an appeal is outlined on the Reasonable Accommodation or Personal Assistance Service Decision and Reporting Form, CG-6081.
- b. Determination of Appropriateness of Documentation. If an appeal of the RA denial has been made, the PWDP Manager will inform the decision maker whether the medical documentation demonstrates that a reasonable accommodation is appropriate and provide, if necessary, any additional information about the individual's functional limitations.

11. Information Tracking and Reporting.

- a. Form Requirements. The decision maker must report all reasonable accommodation requests, granted and denied, to the servicing CRSP. The decision maker must complete the Reasonable Accommodation Decision and Reporting Form (CG-6081), and submit a copy to the requesting employee and to the servicing CRSP within 15 business days of the decision. Information received by the decision maker as part of processing the request must be maintained locally for a period of five years.
- b. Record Maintenance. The PWDP Manager will maintain these records for the length of the employee's tenure with the Coast Guard or 5 years, whichever is greater.
- c. Reasonable Accommodation Report. The servicing CRSP will prepare quarterly reports on reasonable accommodation requests, approvals, and denials, and forward it to the PWDP Manager. The PWDP Manager will annually prepare a consolidated Coast Guard-wide report, to be submitted to the DHS Office of Civil Rights and Civil Liberties (DHS CRCL), which will be made available to all employees. This report will contain the following information:

- (1) The number of reasonable accommodation requests, by type, which have been requested during the application process and whether those requests have been granted or denied.
- (2) The jobs, including occupational series and grade level codes, for which reasonable accommodations have been requested.
- (3) The types of reasonable accommodation that have been requested for each of those jobs.
- (4) The number of reasonable accommodation requests, by type, for each job that have been approved.
- (5) The number of accommodation requests, by type, for each job, that have been denied.
- (6) The number of requests for reasonable accommodation, by type, that relate to the benefits or privileges of employment and whether those requests have been granted or denied.
- (7) The reasons for denial of requests for reasonable accommodation.
- (8) The amount of time taken to process each request for reasonable accommodation.
- (9) The sources of technical assistance that have been consulted in trying to identify possible provisions of reasonable accommodation.
- (10) The identity of the deciding official for each reasonable accommodation request.
- (11) Provide a qualitative assessment of the Coast Guard reasonable accommodation policy and procedures, and include recommendations for improvement.

E. Accessibility and Inquiries.

1. Accessibility of Reasonable Accommodation Procedures. These procedures are available for applicants for employment and employees in written and accessible formats. Requests may be made with the individual's applicable Decision Maker.
2. Inquiries. An employee seeking further information concerning these procedures, the final decision regarding his/her reasonable accommodation request, or the status of his/her reasonable accommodation request, may contact the PWDP Manager at CivilRightsRA@uscg.mil.

F. Reasonable Accommodation Definitions.

1. Accessible. Enter, operate, participate in, or use safely, independently and with dignity by a person with a disability (i.e., site, facility, work environment, service or program).
2. Appeal Process. Any voluntary mechanism through which an individual can request reconsideration of a denial of a reasonable accommodation, regardless of whether the person has entered the EEO complaint process.
3. Decision Maker. The person who processes the request for accommodation. This role can be fulfilled by one of the following officials: A human resources manager (for applicants only); an employee's immediate supervisor/manager, and CO/OIC or a manager in the employee's chain of command. The decision maker may consult with the agency medical expert, human resources, Legal, and their Civil Rights Service Providers, to determine if an individual has a medical condition that substantially limits a major life activity and is eligible for reasonable accommodation.
4. Denial. Decision maker makes an informed decision to deny the employee's specific reasonable accommodation and either does not offer an alternate in its place, or the alternate accommodation that is offered is declined by the employee.
5. Disability. For the purposes of providing a reasonable accommodation, "disability" is defined as a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more of the major life activities or a record (or past history) of such an impairment.
6. Essential Functions. The fundamental job duties of the position the individual with a disability holds or desires. It does not include the marginal functions of the position. A job function may be considered essential for any of several reasons, including but not limited to: (i) the reason the position exists is to perform that function; (ii) there are a limited number of employees available among whom the performance of that job function can be distributed; and/or (iii) the function may be highly specialized so that the incumbent in the position is hired for his or her expertise or ability to perform the particular function. Evidence of whether a particular function is essential includes, but is not limited to: (i) the employer's judgment as to which functions are essential; (ii) written job descriptions prepared before advertising or interviewing applicants for the job; (iii) the amount of time spent on the job performing the function; (iv) the consequences of not requiring the incumbent to perform the function; (v) the terms of a collective bargaining agreement; and/or (vi) the work experience of similar jobs.
7. Extenuating Circumstances. Factors that could not reasonably have been anticipated or avoided in advance of the request for accommodation or situations in which unforeseen or unavoidable events prevent prompt processing and delivery of an accommodation (e.g., identified software is not compatible with existing equipment).
8. Genetic Information. As defined by the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act (GINA) of 2008, genetic information includes information about an individual's genetic tests and the genetic tests of an individual's family members, information about the manifestation of a disease or disorder in an individual's family members (i.e., family medical history), an individual's request for, or receipt of, genetic services, or the participation in clinical research that includes genetic services by an individual or a family member of the individual, and genetic information of a fetus carried by an individual or an individual's family member, or an embryo lawfully held by an individual or family member receiving assistive reproductive services.

9. Granted. The decision maker makes an informed decision to approve the employee's specific reasonable accommodation request or an alternative accommodation that both the employee and manager believe will be effective.
10. Individual with a Disability. An individual who has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities; has a record of such impairment; or is regarded as having such impairment.
11. Interactive Process. The process by which the individual requesting an accommodation and the decision maker discuss the request for accommodation, determine whether an accommodation will be provided, and examine potential alternative accommodations.
12. Major Life Activities. Major life activities include, but are not limited to: (i) caring for oneself, performing manual tasks, seeing, hearing, eating, sleeping, walking, standing, sitting, reaching, lifting, bending, speaking, breathing, learning, reading, concentrating, thinking, communicating, interacting with others, and working; and (ii) the operation of a major bodily function, including functions of the immune system, special sense organs and skin; normal cell growth; and digestive, genitourinary, bowel, bladder, neurological, brain, respiratory, circulatory, cardiovascular, endocrine, hemic, lymphatic, musculoskeletal, and reproductive functions. The operation of a major bodily function includes the operation of an individual organ within a body system. In determining other examples of major life activities, the term "major" shall not be interpreted strictly to create a demanding standard for disability. Whether an activity is a "major life activity" is not determined by reference to whether it is of "central importance to daily life."
13. Personal Assistance Services. Assistance with performing activities of daily living that an individual would typically perform if he or she did not have a disability, and that is not otherwise required as a reasonable accommodation, including, for example, assistance with removing and putting on clothing, eating, using the restroom, pushing a wheelchair or assisting someone with getting into or out of a vehicle at the worksite.
14. Physical or Mental Impairment. (1) Any physiological disorder or condition, cosmetic disfigurement, or anatomical loss affecting one or more body systems, such as neurological, musculoskeletal, special sense organs, respiratory (including speech organs), cardiovascular, reproductive, digestive, genitourinary, immune, circulatory, hemic, lymphatic, skin, and endocrine; or (2) any mental or psychological disorder, such as an intellectual disability (formerly termed "mental retardation"), organic brain syndrome, emotional or mental illness, and specific learning disabilities.
15. Qualified Individual with a Disability. The individual with the disability satisfies the requisite skill, experience, education and other job-related requirements of the position such individual holds or desires and, with or without reasonable accommodation, can perform the essential functions of such position.

16. Reasonable Accommodation.

- a. Modifications or adjustments to a job application process that enable a qualified applicant with a disability to be considered for the position such qualified applicant desires.
- b. Modifications or adjustments to the work environment, or to the manner or circumstances under which the position held or desired is customarily performed, that enable a qualified individual with a disability to perform the essential functions of that position.
- c. Modifications or adjustments that allow a Coast Guard employee with a disability to enjoy equal benefits and privileges of employment as are enjoyed by other similarly situated employees without disabilities.
- d. Reasonable accommodation may include but is not limited to: (i) making existing facilities used by employees readily accessible to and usable by persons with disabilities; (ii) job restructuring; (iii) part-time or modified work schedules; (iv) reassignment to a vacant position; (v) acquisition or modifications of equipment or devices; (vi) appropriate adjustment or modifications of examinations, training materials, or policies; (vii) the provision of qualified readers or interpreters; and (viii) other similar accommodations for persons with disabilities.
- e. To determine the appropriate reasonable accommodation, it is necessary for Coast Guard responsible officials to initiate an informal, interactive process with the individual with a disability in need of the accommodation. This process should identify the precise limitations resulting from the disability and potential reasonable accommodations that could overcome those limitations.

17. Reassignment. Reasonable accommodation of last resort, that, absent undue hardship, is provided to employees (not applicants) who, because of a disability, can no longer perform the essential functions of their job, with or without reasonable accommodation. Reassignments are made only to funded vacant positions and for employees who are qualified to fill and are willing to accept the vacant position. If the employee is qualified for the position, he/she will be reassigned to the position and will not have to compete. If he/she declines a valid reassignment offer, the case must be referred to the servicing human resources specialist in the Office of Civilian Workforce Relations (CG-124) with all relevant documentation.

18. Regarded as Having Impairment. An individual is: “regarded as having an impairment” if the individual is believed to have a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits a major life activity, even if the individual does not.

19. Targeted Disability. Targeted disabilities are a subset of conditions that would be considered disabilities under the Rehabilitation Act. The federal government has recognized that qualified persons with certain disabilities face significant barriers to employment, which for some people may include lack of access to PAS in the workplace, that are above and beyond the barriers faced by people with the broader range of disabilities. The federal government calls these “targeted disabilities.” A list of targeted disabilities can be found on the Office of Personnel Management Standard Form 256 at https://www.opm.gov/forms/pdf_fill/sf256.pdf. Note, however, that not everyone with a targeted disability will be entitled to PAS under the new regulations, because only some persons with targeted disabilities require assistance with basic activities such as eating and using the restroom. Medical conditions that are more likely to result in the need for PAS include, for example, missing limbs or paralysis due to spinal cord injury.

20. Undue Hardship. Undue hardship means significant difficulty or expense and focuses on the resources and circumstances of the particular employer in relationship to the cost or difficulty of providing a specific accommodation. Undue hardship refers not only to financial difficulty, but to reasonable accommodations that are unduly extensive, substantial, or disruptive, or those that would fundamentally alter the nature or operation of the business. An employer must assess on a case-by-case basis whether a particular reasonable accommodation would cause undue hardship. An employer must assess, on a case-by-case basis, whether a particular reasonable accommodation would cause undue hardship. In determining whether an accommodation would impose an undue hardship on Coast Guard, factors to be considered include: (i) the nature and net cost of the accommodation needed under this part, taking into consideration the availability of tax credits and deductions, and/or outside funding; (ii) the overall financial resources of the facility or facilities involved in the provision of the reasonable accommodation, the number of persons employed at such facility, and the effect on expenses and resources; (iii) the overall financial resources of the covered entity, the overall size of the business of the covered entity with respect to the number of its employees, and the number, type and location of its facilities; (iv) the type of operation or operations of the covered entity, including the composition, structure and functions of the workforce of such entity, and the geographic separateness and administrative or fiscal relationship of the facility or facilities in question to the covered entity; and (v) the impact of the accommodation upon the operation of the facility, including the impact on the ability of other employees to perform their duties and the impact on the facility’s ability to conduct business.

G. Personal Assistance Services (PAS).

1. Legal Requirement. The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission amended 29 C.F.R. Part 1614.203, the regulation that provides implementation of Section 501 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. This law prohibits the Federal Government from discriminating in employment on the basis of disability and requires it to engage in affirmative action for persons with disabilities. This amendment requires the Coast Guard to provide PAS to persons with targeted disabilities, in addition to other reasonable accommodations, unless doing so would impose an undue hardship on the agency.
2. Personal Assistance Services for Daily Living. Personal Assistance Services is a government term for providing help with performing activities of daily living that an individual would typically perform if not for his/her disability. Some examples include assistance with removing and putting on clothing, eating, using the restroom, powering a wheelchair or entering and exiting vehicles or worksites.

3. PAS Do Not Include Assistance with Job Functions. Personal Assistance Services (PAS) do not help individuals with targeted disabilities perform their specific job functions, such as reviewing documents or answering questions that come through a call-in center. PAS differ from the typical “Reasonable Accommodations” discussed in the beginning of this chapter that help individuals perform job-related tasks, such as providing a sign language interpreters or a reading aide.

Typical Reasonable Accommodations:	Personal Assistance Services:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It is a non-discrimination requirement under the Rehabilitation Act. • It provides job-related services to enable persons with disabilities to perform job and employment functions. • It provides accommodations to perform job duties, such as: special software, sign language interpreters, ergonomic keyboards and chairs, and mobility devices. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It is an Affirmative Action obligation that goes beyond non-discrimination requirements under the Rehabilitation Act. • It enables persons with targeted disabilities to participate in the workforce. • It does not provide services to allow persons with disabilities to complete job-related functions. • It provides assistance with activities of daily living, such as: removing and putting on clothing, eating, and using the restroom.

Table 6-1: Personal Assistance Service v. Typical Reasonable Accommodations

4. Eligibility. The Coast Guard is only required to provide PAS to an individual if:
 - a. The individual is an employee of the agency;
 - b. The individual has a targeted disability;
 - c. The individual requires the services because of his or her targeted disability;
 - d. The individual is able to perform the essential functions of the job, without posing a direct threat to safety, once PAS and any required reasonable accommodations have been provided; and
 - e. Providing PAS will not impose undue hardship on the agency.
5. PAS Request Process. The process for a PAS request and a reasonable accommodation request are the same. Furthermore, both processes utilize the same forms. The reasonable accommodation request process is discussed earlier in this chapter.

6. Denial of Personal Assistance Services. The Coast Guard is only required to provide PAS to requesting employees who are entitled to them under the regulation. As such, the Coast Guard can deny PAS requests when:
 - a. The requestor is not an employee of the agency;
 - b. The requestor does not have a targeted disability;
 - c. The targeted disability does not create a need for PAS;
 - d. The requester is not able to perform the essential functions of the job, even with PAS and any reasonable accommodations;
 - e. The requester would create a direct threat to safety on the job, even with PAS and any reasonable accommodations; or
 - f. Providing PAS would impose undue hardship on the agency.
7. Confidentiality. PAS information is protected under the Privacy Act. All information must be kept confidential and released only to those with a need to know.
8. Information Tracking and Reporting. Personal Assistance Services shall be tracked and reported in a similar manner as reasonable accommodations.

E. Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR).

1. Definition of ADR. ADR is a process in which a third party neutral (an impartial party who has no stake in the outcome of the proceeding) assists disputing parties with reaching an amicable resolution through the use of various informal methods. The Coast Guard's ADR program offers a variety of approaches, with mediation as the most common process of choice. Resolving disputes is an essential aspect of the administrative complaint process. ADR is encouraged not only as a means of accomplishing prompt resolution, but also as a way to improve workplace communication, raise morale, and return focus to the mission.
 - a. ADR is encouraged during the pre-complaint process, and must be explored before an individual may file a formal complaint. ADR is also available throughout the complaint process. However, in each case, the offer of ADR is subject to servicing CRSP determination of appropriateness.
 - b. Whenever the Coast Guard determines that ADR is appropriate in a particular case, and the employee elects ADR, managers and supervisors are required to participate and make every reasonable effort to resolve the dispute. ADR may also be used for workplace disagreements that do not involve allegations of discrimination. If a ADR is used for a non-EEO related workplace disagreement and bargaining unit employees are involved, the CRSP will contact the servicing workforce employee relations specialist to address labor relations matters.
 - c. All Third Party Neutrals must receive at least 24 hours of ADR training prior to conducting an ADR session. CRD will determine training needs and coordinate this effort.
2. The ADR Request – Formal Complaint. The formal complaint stage offers several opportunities to participate in ADR:
 - a. The formal complaint form offers the complainant the opportunity to participate in ADR.
 - b. The ADR offer is repeated when the Regional Civil Rights Director acknowledges receipt of the formal complaint.
 - c. If a claim is accepted for investigation, the complainant is offered ADR in the acceptance letter.
 - d. When the ROI and Election letter are issued, complainant again is offered an opportunity to request ADR.
 - e. If complainant requests ADR, the Regional Civil Rights Director consults with command/management to determine suitability and an agreement to participate in ADR. A request for ADR in top the formal complaint stage will not prevent the agency from continuing the processing of the complaint in accordance with regulatory timelines prescribed by EEOC Management Directive 110.

3. Remedies Available Through ADR. ADR provides the parties with the opportunity to agree upon remedies that are tailored to address specific situations and areas of concern. This enables parties to mutually agree on creative solutions that would not otherwise be available.
 - a. Remedies most often are nonmonetary solutions that improve the aggrieved party's work environment or terms and conditions of employment such as, but not limited to, professional development opportunities, supervisor training, leadership training, schedule changes, restored leave, priority consideration, and modifications of performance evaluations. In some cases agreement terms may include monetary remedies.
 - b. Some remedies available to civilian employees are unavailable to military members, based on different rules, codes, regulations, and policies for making the aggrieved party whole.
4. Resolution and Settlement Options. A manager with settlement authority, or delegated settlement authority, and the aggrieved party participate in the ADR process. The parties may have their respective representatives participate as well. All CRSPs, EEO/EO Counselors, or external neutrals serve as facilitators only. They do not have decision-making authority. Through facilitated discussions, the parties establish settlement terms. The terms are reduced to writing and signed. A settlement agreement is legally binding.
 - a. In all cases, the CO/OIC, or another appropriate management official, must review and approve any proposed settlement agreements. They must also be notified of the outcome of all discussions between the parties that may result in further proceedings in either the pre-complaint or formal complaint processes, including ADR.
 - b. Prior to entering settlement agreements that involve the expenditure of agency funds greater than two thousand dollars ($2000), personnel actions, or any other management action that lies outside the scope of management authority, management is required to consult with appropriate agency officials, e.g., Office of General Law, Human Resource Directorate, etc.
 - c. All settlement agreements involving EEO/EO will be monitored and enforced by CRD and DHS CRCL.
5. Remedies Available to Military Members. The remedies available to military members through the discrimination complaint process are limited to make whole relief that would place them where they would have been in the absence of the alleged discrimination. They may not obtain actual or compensatory damages, costs, or attorney's fees and may not be awarded promotions or pay unless improperly withheld. Furthermore, only the Board of Corrections for Military Records (BCMR) may alter records of military personnel. Before being presented to the aggrieved parties, informal resolutions that include awards, assignments, promotions, or pay for military members must be reviewed and approved by the appropriate CO/OIC, and the Coast Guard Personnel Service Center (CGPSC). Copies of all EO settlement agreements must be forwarded to Solutions and Complaints Division (CG-00H-2S) upon finalization.

6. Remedies Available to Civilian Employees and Applicants for Employment. The employee and or applicant for employment may be offered either the position applied for, only if available, or an equivalent position if it is clear that person would have occupied the position but for the alleged discrimination. Other remedies may include, back pay, front pay, reasonable attorney's fees and costs, awards of compensatory damages, and other forms of equitable relief not to exceed the amount the aggrieved party would be entitled to if discrimination were actually found.
 - a. Settlement offers that include back pay, reasonable attorney's fees and costs, or personnel actions for civilian employees require pre-approval from Human Resources and the office of General Counsel, review by the Civil Rights Directorate, and the CO/OIC should be in agreement.
 - b. Copies of all EEO settlement agreements must be forwarded to Solutions and Complaints Division (CG-00H-2S) upon finalization.
7. Confidentiality. Confidentiality is an important aspect of the ADR process, whereas the Administrative Dispute Resolution Act requires parties to maintain confidentiality of communications prepared for the purpose of ADR (with certain exceptions). The parties' agreement to keep ADR session discussions confidential encourages candid and open conversation about the matters in dispute. Parties are entitled to confidentiality during the ADR process as follows:
 - a. Nothing said or given to the Third Party Neutral in confidence during separate meetings with individual parties may be voluntarily disclosed or offered into evidence in a future legal proceeding, unless all parties and the Third Party Neutral agree in writing.
 - b. There will be no written records of the ADR sessions.
 - c. Facts discovered during ADR will not become a part of the official complaint record.
 - d. The Management Representative may consult with Legal and/or Human Resources for questions regarding the legality or enforceability of proposed settlement provisions.
 - e. At the conclusion of ADR discussions, the Third Party Neutral will destroy all notes taken.
8. Exceptions to ADR Confidentiality. Confidentiality does not extend to threats of imminent harm to any person or property, any physical violence during the ADR session, or criminal activity. A settlement agreement that is developed as part of the ADR process becomes a record document once signed by the parties. The neutral facilitator may be required by subpoena to disclose information necessary to:
 - a. Prevent a manifest injustice.
 - b. Help establish a violation of law, or

- c. Prevent serious harm to the public health or safety.
9. Stages of the ADR Process. The ADR process includes the following stages:
- a. The ADR Election (Pre-Complaint) or ADR Request (Formal).
 - b. The ADR suitability determination.
 - c. Command/management representative with settlement authority identification.
 - d. The ADR preparation.
 - e. The ADR session.
 - f. Settlement agreement.
 - g. Coordination of resolution terms.
 - h. Implementation of agreement terms.
 - i. Compliance monitoring.
10. Request and Preparation Phases: Roles and Responsibilities. The following describes the roles and responsibilities of the participants in the ADR request and preparation phases:
- a. Aggrieved party/complainant elects ADR during the pre-complaint and formal complaint processes, informs CRSP of designated representative, cooperates during ADR proceedings, and participates in good faith.
 - b. The CRD Headquarters provides technical advice to CRSPs on ADR matters, consults with Regional Civil Rights Directors on appropriateness assessments and resolution potential, advises and provides direction to command officials on ADR matters including consultation with his or her servicing HR official and servicing legal office, provides ADR services in complex or sensitive cases, monitors and maintains records of all ADR activity, monitors compliance with resolution agreements, and responds to DHS CRCL regarding noncompliance allegations.
11. Civil Rights Service Providers:
- a. The EEO Specialists/EO Advisor serves as a CRSP within their AOR, who explains ADR to the aggrieved party and provides written information about ADR, receives the ADR Election or ADR Request, consults with the Civil Rights Zone Manager or Regional Civil Rights Director regarding the matters appropriateness for ADR, identifies command/management representative, arranges for a third party neutral, serves as a third party neutral in some cases, coordinates ADR Session scheduling and any requested reasonable accommodations, contacts the Office of General Law and/or Human Resources to coordinate review of settlement terms, prepares resolution agreement for signature (or prepares notice of right to file if ADR fails, records any corrective actions and closes the file).

- b. The Civil Rights Zone Manager serves as the lead CRSP within their AOR, who advises command/management on ADR policy and process, makes ADR appropriateness assessments in consultation with the Regional Civil Rights Director, serves as neutral facilitator for ADR sessions, assures timely coordination of ADR sessions, assures the Office of General Law and/or Human Resources review of settlement terms, reviews final resolution agreement, oversees prompt implementation of resolution agreement, and monitors and documents resolution agreement compliance.
 - c. The Regional Civil Rights Director serves as the senior CRSP within their AOR who advises command/management on ADR policy and process, makes ADR appropriateness assessments, designates third party neutrals for AOR, reviews ROIs to identify early resolution potential, consults with CRD Headquarters and senior management on ADR matters, coordinates ADR sessions for formal complaints, transmits results of all ADR efforts to CRD Headquarters.
 - d. The Third Party Neutral explains the ADR process to the parties, obtains Participation and Confidentiality Agreement and form resolution agreement, conducts the ADR session, assures preparation of the resolution agreement for review and execution by the parties, and informs Civil Rights Zone Manager or Regional Civil Rights Director of ADR outcome.
 - e. The Command/Management Representative will arrange for the logistics of the ADR session, including a suitable location and any funding for third party neutral fees or travel. The Command/Management Representative may consult with the Office of General Law and civilian personnel specialist for advice on the nature and scope of resolution options.
 - f. The DHS CRCL monitors settlement implementations and addresses all non-compliance notifications.
12. Legal and Personnel Consultation and Authorization. Prior to entering settlement agreements that involve the expenditure of agency funds greater than two thousand dollars ($2,000.00), management must consult with the Office of General Law. When the dispute concerns a civilian employee which involves a personnel action, management must consult with the servicing human resources specialist in the Office of Civilian Workforce Relations (CG-124). The appropriate Coast Guard legal counsel for advice on legal sufficiency of resolution options and proposed resolution terms is the legal counsel of the unit from which the dispute comes, the Legal Service Center, or the Office of General Law. When the dispute concerns a military member, the appropriate personnel reviewing authority for advice on proposed resolution terms is the CO/OIC.

13. The ADR Suitability Factors. Although not exhaustive, the following lists of factors may be helpful in determining whether ADR is appropriate for a particular dispute. No single factor is necessarily determinative.
 - a. Factors suggesting that ADR is appropriate.
 - (1) Availability of an identifiable command/management official with authority to grant the relief requested or that would make the aggrieved party whole.
 - (2) The aggrieved party's preference for resolving the dispute rather than punishing the other person.
 - (3) The parties' interest in maintaining a continuing relationship.
 - (4) The likelihood that the parties would benefit from intervention by a trained mediator to keep them focused on issues and resolution options.
 - b. Factors suggesting that ADR is inappropriate.
 - (1) The dispute does not involve any allegation of discrimination in violation of the anti-discrimination statutes enforced by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission or in violation of the Coast Guard's policy against discrimination in membership or employment.
 - (2) The dispute implicates collectively bargained rights and/or has substantial potential effect on non-parties.
 - (3) The only conceivable resolution options would set significant legal or policy precedents.
 - (4) The aggrieved party has similar/related EEO/EO claims pending.
 - (5) The dispute involves allegations of waste, fraud, or abuse.
 - (6) The dispute involves alleged criminal activity or violations of the Uniform Code of Military Justice.
 - (7) The aggrieved party requires a finding of fault or culpability to be made.
 - c. ADR Appropriateness. The decision on the appropriateness of the case for ADR must not be the basis for any EEO/EO complaint.
14. Essential Elements of Settlement Agreements. The typewritten settlement agreement must specify:
 - a. The name of the aggrieved party.

- b. The matter being resolved identified by: issue, basis, case number and the date pre-complaint counseling was initiated if the matter is at the pre-complaint stage; or docket number if the matter is a formal complaint that is pending a hearing with EEOC or District Court.
 - c. A statement that the aggrieved party and the Coast Guard voluntarily enter into the agreement.
 - d. The effective date of agreement, including whether effectiveness is contingent upon expiration of a specific period for review of resolution terms by appropriate legal counsel and personnel reviewing authorities.
 - e. What will happen if subsequent review determines that the terms of the agreement are inconsistent with:
 - (1) Applicable laws and regulations; collective bargaining agreements; Coast Guard policy; or cannot be completed within the agreed timeframe.
 - (2) The procedures for addressing alleged noncompliance with resolution terms.
15. Legal and Personnel Review of Resolution Terms. Prior to entering settlement agreements that involve the expenditure of agency funds greater than two thousand dollars ($2,000.00), personnel actions, or any other management action that lies beyond the scope of management's authority, management must consult with the Office of General Law. If the matter involves a personnel action, management should consult with Human Resource Directorate as well. Prior to a planned ADR meeting the CRSP and/or Third Party Neutral should arrange for the appropriate reviewing authorities to be on call to render a timely review (in-person, by telephone, or by email).
16. Post-ADR Roles and Responsibilities. The following describes the roles and responsibilities of participants in the post-ADR phase of the ADR process:
- a. The CRD Headquarters monitors and maintains records of all ADR activity; coordinates with contract mediator on contractual matters.
 - b. The ADR Facilitator reconvenes ADR to reformulate or renegotiate terms, or terminates ADR process if resolution terms cannot be implemented as written.
 - c. The Regional Civil Rights Director serves as senior Civil Rights Manager for their AOR at the regional level over the zones; is accountable for effective and timely resolution of discrimination allegations; transmits results of all ADR efforts to CRD.
 - d. The Civil Rights Zone Manager serves as senior Civil Rights Manager for their AOR at the zone level under the region; is accountable for effective and timely attempts at resolution; facilitates aggrieved party's return to the complaint process if resolution efforts are unsuccessful.

- e. The Aggrieved party returns to pre-complaint or formal discrimination complaint process for issuance of Notice of Right to File Discrimination Complaint if resolution efforts are unsuccessful.
17. Allegations of Breach of Resolution Agreement and Remedies. If the aggrieved party or complainant believes the agency has not complied with any of the settlement terms, they must notify Department of Homeland Security Office for Civil Rights and Civil Liberties (DHS CRCL) in writing within 30 calendar days after they knew or should have known of the alleged noncompliance. DHS CRCL will make inquiry to CRD Headquarters and request response to the allegations. The Civil Rights Directorate will coordinate the response to DHS CRCL.
- a. Civilian aggrieved parties/complainants may also appeal to the EEOC for a compliance determination if DHS CRCL does not issue a determination within 30 calendar days of its receipt of the allegations of noncompliance.
 - b. If DHS CRCL makes a determination of noncompliance and the aggrieved party/complainant requests enforcement of the agreement term, then aggrieved party/complainant is required to relinquish any benefits received under the resolution agreement, including return of any funds paid.
18. The ADR Process Flowchart. The flow chart Figure 5-2 on the following page describes the ADR process. The ADR Process Flow chart is a general ADR process and does not replace informal ADR requirements for civilian and military members.

DIVERSITY and INCLUSION POLICY STATEMENT

At the core of Service Readiness is our most valuable asset – our people. I am fully committed to broadening the diversity of our Coast Guard workforce to be more reflective of the population we serve, and committed to fostering an environment that embraces that diversity. Our strength resides in our people and the different perspectives, talents and abilities each individual brings to the organization. The Coast Guard will recruit and retain a world-class workforce derived from the richness of American society and foster an inclusive work environment grounded in our Core Values of Honor, Respect and Devotion to Duty. The Coast Guard's ability to respond to emerging threats in a fast-paced, ever changing world requires that we maximize the full potential of our diverse workforce. It is our duty to ensure that all members belong and are valued in solving the complex problems that the Coast Guard faces. This is paramount to improving productivity, performance, innovation, job satisfaction, and achieving mission excellence.

Diverse representation without inclusion degrades our readiness. Barriers to inclusion are the unconscious biases we carry without our awareness. As individuals, we will identify and mitigate our biases and work to build bridges that connect us to one another. As an organization, we will identify bias and barriers within the system, policies, and procedures and take action to mitigate them. Achieving and maintaining a culture of respect begins with understanding and exhibiting inclusive behaviors that are fair, open, cooperative, supportive, and empowering.

Diversity and inclusion are cornerstones of high organizational performance and mission effectiveness. A diverse workforce stimulates innovation, new approaches, and fresh perspectives to solve complex organizational challenges. Our Service benefits greatly when we incorporate diversity at all levels of our total Coast Guard workforce - Active Duty, Reserve, Civilian, and Auxiliary. Diversity and inclusion breeds new ideas, supports a stronger team, and fosters service readiness to allow us to thrive in our challenging maritime missions.

Our Diversity and Inclusion Plan will guide our efforts to engrain such behavior and achieve our goals. I encourage each member of our workforce to become familiar with the plan located on our diversity and inclusion website <https://www.dcms.uscg.mil/Our-Organization/Assistant-Commandant-for-Human-Resources-CG-1/Civilian-Human-Resources-Diversity-and-Leadership-Directorate-CG-12/Diversity-and-Inclusion/>.

Join me in my personal commitment to make our United States Coast Guard the Service of choice for all Americans who seek to serve our Nation.

HUMAN CAPITAL STRATEGY

JANUARY 2016
WASHINGTON, D.C.

THE COMMANDANT OF THE UNITED STATES COAST GUARD

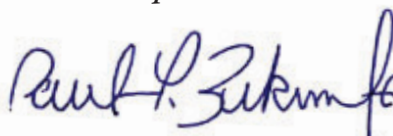

It is my pleasure to present the Coast Guard Human Capital Strategy. The U.S. Coast Guard excels as a multi-mission, maritime service providing for the safety, security, and stewardship of the Nation's waters. Excellence in mission execution relies on the Coast Guard's greatest strength – our workforce. The demands of our operations require a resilient, capable workforce that draws upon the broad range of skills, talents, and experiences found in the American population. We must build and maintain a proficient, diverse, and adaptable workforce to respond to changing technology, an increasingly complex operating environment, and dynamic partnerships. We must prepare effective leaders who are locally based, nationally deployed, and globally connected. Every member of our Service must be responsible for cultivating a culture of respect and fostering a positive workplace climate to sustain mission excellence.

Increasingly, significant challenges in Coast Guard human capital management have been introduced through new strategic priorities, the need for technical and perishable skills, fiscal constraints, and changing workforce demographics. Our practices and foundational principles have not appreciably changed for many decades. Now is the time to develop and deploy new and innovative human capital management approaches to access, develop, sustain, and retain the Coast Guard workforce needed for complex, global missions.

The Human Capital Strategy sets a 10-year course to ensure that our functions and processes – including requirements, resource allocation, training, and human resource systems – work together to ensure a thriving and effective workforce prepared for the complexities of tomorrow. The Human Capital Strategy underscores the critical nature of unit-level leadership in developing the workforce of tomorrow. It also defines efforts critical to the resiliency and safety of our people. It ensures our processes deliver talented individuals, with the necessary training and performance support tools, ready to execute the mission.

The Coast Guard's core values of honor, respect, and devotion to duty are ingrained in every member of our workforce. As this Strategy is implemented, we will ensure that we have the workforce critical for our Service to Nation, priorities that uphold our Duty to People, and focus that strengthens our Commitment to Excellence.

Semper Paratus.

I.

Introduction

For more than two centuries, the U.S. Coast Guard has performed increasingly complex missions in the most challenging marine environments. We protect those on the sea, protect the Nation from threats delivered by the sea, and protect the sea itself. Across the Coast Guard's diverse mission set, on all our platforms and in every location, it is our people who get the job done.

Grounded in the Coast Guard's core values of honor, respect, and devotion to duty, more than 90,000 talented men and women perform and support Coast Guard missions day and night, at home and abroad. This Human Capital Strategy provides our people – the high-performing, motivated cadre of professionals – a system to develop the necessary leadership, expertise, and commitment for mission accomplishment.

Our missions, and support for those missions, drive our human capital requirements. The Coast Guard's Western Hemisphere Strategy (September 2014), Arctic Strategy (May 2013), Cyber Strategy (June 2015), and Energy Action Plan make clear that the scope of operations is changing and increasing, and the Service must continue to adjust to meet new requirements. To meet these changing mission demands, this Human Capital Strategy charts an ambitious course for evolving our competencies, qualifications, career paths, staffing and deployment capabilities, workplace climates, incentives, support systems, training programs, professional development, and leadership.

As missions evolve, the Coast Guard must also address externally driven workforce challenges. An increasingly competitive labor market, generational and demographic changes, and new personnel approaches across the Federal Government are changing the landscape. The cost of human capital is also driving the demand for new and innovative human capital management approaches. Human capital, in the form of military and civilian pay and allowances, consumes approximately 63 percent of the Coast Guard operating base. Our human capital system* must be agile, flexible, adaptive, and efficient to successfully attract, access, develop, retain, and reward a talented, diverse, and inclusive workforce.

The ultimate goal of the Coast Guard's Human Capital Strategy is providing the right people, with the right competencies and experience, to the right place, at the right time in order to accomplish Coast Guard missions, while continually developing our workforce through superb leadership. To achieve this, we will focus on the following priorities:

- Meet MISSION Needs
- Meet SERVICE Needs
- Meet PEOPLE Needs

This Strategy is informed by research and guidance from the President, Department of Homeland Security (DHS), Office of Management and Budget (OMB), and Department of Defense (DOD). It applies to all elements of the Coast Guard's multi-sector workforce: active duty and Reserve military, civil service, and our volunteers in the Auxiliary.

II.

Executive Summary

Many organizations assert that people are their most important resource, but for the U.S. Coast Guard, this part of our culture is the key to the Service's success. Our cutters, boats, aircraft, facilities, and supporting systems do not accomplish the Coast Guard's missions – people do. Coast Guard people serve the American public every day. Developing and maintaining our most important resource, human capital*, requires a comprehensive strategy.

Simply stated, human capital is our people and everything that they bring to the Coast Guard – their knowledge, skills, and abilities; expertise and experience; and motivation, commitment, and leadership. Their continual development requires positive, reinforcing environments.

The U.S. Coast Guard's human capital vision has two dimensions that must work together. The stewards of the workforce must provide an agile, flexible, and adaptive Human Capital System. Coast Guard people must thrive and be proficient to meet increasingly complex missions, and to effectively serve the Nation. To achieve these ends, the Coast Guard's Human Capital Strategy emphasizes the following three strategic priorities:

Meet MISSION Needs: Coast Guard mission requirements set the demand for human capital. Requirements determine the size, shape, structure, and eventual cost of the workforce. To meet mission needs, we must ensure the Coast Guard has a force that can meet steady-state demands while simultaneously maintaining surge capacity for major incidents. Program managers are primarily responsible for workforce requirements. In both operations and mission support, they must define the workforce that they need to perform or support Coast Guard missions and advocate for their priorities in the resource process. Planning will also allow human performance* experts to design the training and performance support* systems for current and future needs. Appropriate competency* and specialty frameworks are also critical to meeting mission demands. Finally, we must bring oversight and attention to achieving and maintaining proficiency* to accomplish Coast Guard missions. Doing so will ensure a solid foundation for the future workforce and leaders required to meet tomorrow's challenges.

Meet SERVICE Needs: Rooted in leadership, the foundation of Coast Guard effectiveness is the climate and performance of each unit. In partnership with human resource (HR) professionals, every supervisor and leader must take responsibility for developing the people in their charge. We must foster positive, cohesive, inclusive, and respectful workplace environments that value each element of the Coast Guard workforce – active duty, Reserve, civil service, and Auxiliary – augmented by our support contractors. Recruiting, retaining, and rewarding excellence are essential to meet the Service's needs. We must value the importance of merit to reward positive performance and address areas that need improvement – at all levels. Finally, building the efficiency and effectiveness of our human resource system is essential. While we have taken many actions to advance our procedures and processes, ample opportunities exist to refine service delivery.

* Denotes first use of term in this strategy; term defined in the Appendix.

Meet PEOPLE Needs: By cultivating the resiliency of our members and their families and nurturing the professional development of our Coast Guard workforce, we can optimize each person's contributions to the Service. We will meet the needs of our people by providing a life cycle of support that enhances personal resiliency. Morale, well-being, and recreation (MWR) programs; employee assistance services; religious support services; work-life arrangements; and other support services all contribute to this process. Keeping our people safe and healthy is essential to meeting their personal needs, as well as Service needs; readiness of our personnel for duty depends on quality health care for them and their families. At the same time, all have a personal responsibility for safeguarding themselves, their families, and fellow workers from harm. Within a respectful environment that supports freedom of religion, faith has been shown to foster strength, character, and resiliency. For our people to keep pace in today's rapidly changing environment, we must invest in career-long professional development and learning by providing opportunities that are relevant and rewarding, and ensure that the workforce can meet mission needs. Finally, we need to leverage incentive structures for tomorrow to motivate our employees to stay committed to the organization by compensating them adequately for the work that they perform and providing the appropriate level of developmental opportunities.

Ensuring Long-term Success. Seven foundational principles support our three strategic priorities and guide the management of the Coast Guard’s workforce; they are critical to the success of this Strategy. These priorities and principles include:

- Meet MISSION Needs:
 - o Efficiency and Proficiency: We will execute our responsibilities as wisely and efficiently as possible, sustaining personnel and unit readiness in support of achieving operational goals and missions.
 - o Requirements and Data-based Decisions: Our human resource system* will be responsive to the funded demand for personnel reflected in the Personnel Allowance List* (PAL).
- Meet SERVICE Needs:
 - o Diversity and Inclusion: We will attract, access, develop, and retain a respectful, diverse, and inclusive workforce that reflects the richness of our society.
 - o Equity and Opportunity: We will make human resource decisions in a fair and equitable manner, and always consider how we can create opportunities for professional growth in all segments of our workforce.
- Meet PEOPLE Needs:
 - o Predictability: We will strive to operate on the basis of stable and predictable opportunities that enable people to make better decisions in managing their careers.
 - o Professional Growth: We will value and support career aspirations and upward mobility for all military and civil servants of our workforce.
 - o Safety and Wellness: We will ensure that essential support services are provided for members, employees, and their families to build workforce resiliency.

With the guidance of these foundational principles, the Coast Guard will move into the next decade aggressively pursuing our three strategic priorities. Their achievement is the responsibility of all Coast Guard program managers, supervisors, and leaders in partnership with the Coast Guard’s HR professionals. The Assistant Commandant for Human Resources (CG-1) and Force Readiness Command (FORCECOM), assisted by other workforce professionals, including the Civil Rights Directorate and Rating Force Master Chiefs, will coordinate and track efforts to ensure we are implementing those plans that meet mission needs, meet service needs, and meet our people needs!

III.

Workforce Composition, Authorities, and Capabilities

The Coast Guard workforce consists of active and Reserve military members and civil service employees, augmented by volunteers (the Coast Guard Auxiliary), and contractors. They are located in more than 185 locations both within and outside the United States. This multi-sector force includes approximately:

- 6,714 active duty commissioned officers (including Permanent Commissioned Teaching Staff, Band, and Reserve Program Administrators);
- 1,725 active duty warrant officers;
- 32,428 active duty enlisted men and women;
- 7,200 officers and enlisted reservists;
- 8,511 civil service employees;
- 1,360 civilian non-appropriated funds* (NAF) employees;
- 30,057 uniformed volunteer members in the Coast Guard Auxiliary; and
- 4,200 contract personnel with access to Coast Guard facilities and networks.

The full-time Coast Guard workforce of nearly 50,000 personnel is predominately military. Title 10 and Title 14 of the U.S. Code specify that the Coast Guard is at all times a military service and a branch of the Armed Forces of the United States. Military discipline and training are critical to the Coast Guard's national defense duties. Maritime security requires a breadth of expertise and skills—seamanship, diplomacy, legal and law enforcement expertise, and combat readiness. Military organizational structure and discipline serve the Coast Guard well in both war and peacetime duties, such as search-and-rescue operations and other large-scale response efforts. The Coast Guard is unique in that it offers this combination of law enforcement and military capabilities, together with the legal authorities to carry them out.

Each workforce component has unique characteristics, capabilities, and experience that ultimately result in mission performance. The civil service component performs inherently governmental activities and provides continuity where needed. Two other components augment the Coast Guard workforce and fill critical roles. The Coast Guard Auxiliary consists of volunteers who provide temporary, full-time and part-time work for augmentation and contingency response. Contractors provide specialized skills that are “commercial activities” (neither inherently governmental nor military-essential) in support of Coast Guard operations.

IV.

Current Environment

Throughout its dynamic operating environment and across its missions, the Coast Guard depends on its greatest strength—its workforce. Changing mission areas and increased demand in the maritime sector must be met through changing emphases in the workforce. Labor markets, the demographics of the United States, and approaches to human capital management are changing at the same time as our missions change and transform. To thrive in the future, the Coast Guard’s workforce and its approaches to human capital management must also continue to evolve and advance.

Changing Mission Demands

The Coast Guard has developed a series of regional and functional strategies to address these evolving maritime challenges and threats. The Western Hemisphere Strategy, Arctic Strategy, Cyber Strategy, and the Energy Action Plan explain how the Coast Guard will adapt to perform its missions and safeguard the Nation’s commerce and infrastructure in these rapidly changing operating domains. In keeping with the Coast Guard’s long-standing ability to meet new mission demands, the implementation of these strategies will require continuous evaluation of overall human capital requirements.

Arctic

The Coast Guard’s Arctic Strategy (May 2013) provides goals of improved awareness, modernized governance, and broadened partnerships in order to ensure safe, secure, and environmentally responsible maritime activity in the Arctic. Human capital implications include ensuring competency and proficiency in the unique Arctic environment. This requires regular analysis to determine the competencies needed and human capital requirements for both operations and support/logistics.

Western Hemisphere

The Western Hemisphere Strategy (September 2014) provides goals to confront challenges in this prominent geographic theater of operations. Its three priorities are combating transnational organized crime networks, securing borders, and safeguarding commerce. Human capital implications include fulfilling the demand for foreign language competencies, supporting surge staffing or deployable unit needs, delivering the specialized training needed to operate our capital assets, and increasing partnership abilities to enable cooperation with other nations and the interagency under the DHS Southern Border and Approaches Campaign Plan, DOD Joint Interagency Task Forces, and DHS Joint Task Forces.

Cyber

The Cyber Strategy (June 2015) provides goals to strengthen the cyber security of the Nation's maritime domain and continue to develop a robust internal cyber security capability. Its three priorities are defending cyberspace, enabling operations, and protecting infrastructure. Objectives include defending the Coast Guard's cyber terrain against all threats, including building a culture of security in cyberspace; maximizing cyberspace operational capabilities to facilitate mission execution; and protecting the maritime transportation system infrastructure. Human capital implications include developing new competencies, qualifications, and performance support; fulfilling personnel staffing requirements and analyzing the relationships between career fields; and ensuring viable career progression required to sustain proficiency.

North American Energy

The Energy Action Plan provides goals to ensure the maritime safety, security, and stewardship of increased American energy production and its transport. The plan focuses on three key capabilities: incident prevention, preparedness, and response. The way in which the Coast Guard performs its maritime safety and inspection functions must adjust in response to changing North American energy markets. The Coast Guard must have the flexibility to nimbly shift proficient inspectors as energy markets fluctuate. Increased domestic energy production will create a larger demand for all services on the waterways to include safety and law enforcement as well as the expanded inspections role. Human capital implications include properly staffing marine inspection units, maintaining marine inspector proficiency and the expertise needed to improve regulatory frameworks, and increasing flexibility in marine inspector assignments and position locations, while ensuring adequate career progression opportunities.

Labor Market

As mission requirements are changing to meet risks in today's global environment, talent pools for human capital are changing, as well. A 2014 survey showed that less than seven percent of 19-year-olds would "definitely" or "probably" affiliate with the military. When combined with military entry criteria, only 1 in 30 have the qualifications (physical, educational, and other) combined with a propensity to serve. The competition for this talent will continue to be significant.

Active duty military recruiting focuses on entry-level men and women, while Reserve recruiting and civil service hiring largely focuses on those with work experience. Generational changes are affecting applicant pools for all parts of the labor market. The "millennial" generation is becoming the largest labor force. Many are technologically connected and innovative, and have invested in their own education. The millennial generation is also more racially and ethnically diverse than any other generation in the post-WWII era, and it is imperative that the Coast Guard access the richness of talent across the society it serves. While current research shows that they stay with their employers longer than "generation X," the long-term changes in generational outlook and employment behavior are still unclear.

Labor Force Composition by Generation

PEW RESEARCH CENTER

The average Coast Guard military member is in their early thirties; part of the millennial generation, while the average civilian employee is in their early fifties (generation X/baby boomer). Generational change also has impact on the workplace, as leaders must consider the differences between these generational outlooks.

Changing Workforce Environment

The Coast Guard's workforce environment is also shifting as approaches for personnel management evolve at the DOD, OMB, and DHS. In 2015, the DOD Under Secretary for Personnel and Readiness published a draft Force of the Future report, which outlines how the DOD must evolve its personnel system to keep pace with increasing demands and the private sector. Congress has approved a new blended military retirement plan that will go into effect 1 January 2018 and DOD is also considering other changes to military force management policies, some of which would require associated legislative changes. As one of the Nation's five Armed Forces, the Coast Guard aims for parity with the DOD and must carefully evaluate the changing DOD policies for applicability to our Service.

The OMB recently noted multiple efforts underway to address Federal workforce challenges. These include expanding mission-focused, data-driven personnel management systems, creating a culture of excellence and engagement to enable performance, hiring the best talent from all segments of society, increasing family-friendly workplace policies, closing skill gaps, and informing our work with diverse perspectives.

The Department of Homeland Security 2014-2018 Strategic Plan includes goals linked to maturing and strengthening DHS. A top priority is to "Recruit, hire, retain, and develop a highly qualified, diverse, effective, mission-focused, and resilient workforce." The Department has also issued a Human Capital Strategic Plan 2015-2019. Its four goals include: (1) providing human capital strategies to successfully achieve the DHS mission and mitigate risks; (2) acquiring a highly qualified and diverse workforce; (3) fostering a departmental culture of excellence through inclusion and engagement; and (4) achieving HR operational excellence.

The Coast Guard remains vigilant in attending to new workforce challenges. To address rapidly changing mission sets, we must ensure coordinated effort between program and workforce managers within the human resource (HR) system. In addition, the HR system must continue to monitor and respond to the enhancements implemented by DOD, OMB, DHS, and the Congress.

Human Capital Governance

The workforce operates within an overall human capital system that includes mission and performance planning, the resource system*, and the HR system. Figure 1 provides a simplified view of the system. The “billet” lane shows the high-level processes that place a position on the personnel allowance list. The “person” lane, largely controlled by the HR system, shows the high-level processes that match and assign a person to a billet. Human capital governance and processes contain numerous complexities and feedback loops (not shown in figure 1 for clarity). For example, the tasks performed by the workforce and the equipment that people use are strong inputs for Coast Guard-wide performance planning, long-term requirements generation, and standards and curricula designed to build proficiency.

The overall demand for people is specified in the personnel allowance list. The PAL is a listing, by unit, of the Coast Guard workers allocated (billets) at a location. Positions on the PAL are based on workload and available funding, optimally with the workload analyzed in partnership between the unit's program manager at Headquarters and the Manpower Requirements Determination (MRD) experts. Resource Management Offices* (RMO or -8 shops) throughout the Coast Guard are also involved, since each position represents a portion of the Coast Guard's overall pay, benefits, and developmental costs. These expenses total 63 percent of the Coast Guard's operating budget.

In addition to the quantity and type of personnel, training and performance support needs are analyzed by Human Performance Technology (HPT) experts in FORCECOM. Based on mission requirements, doctrine, and policy, HPT experts provide tools to support performance, training design, and instructional standards, and recommend ways to close policy gaps – all geared to meet mission requirements.

The HR system controls many of the processes that lead to the assignment (for military) or the hiring (for civil servants) of an individual to a billet. Military members are recruited and trained by centralized units; however, their proficiency and professional development are overseen by their supervisors. In this way, their growth is strongly influenced by their local supervisor and chain of command. Military members are assigned to specific positions by the Personnel Service Center as guided by Headquarters policy, while civil servants are selected for positions by selecting officials, based on skills, knowledge, and abilities, with guidance from the Office of Personnel Management classification standards and the Civilian Personnel Office. Like military, their growth is heavily influenced by their supervisor.

V.

Strategic Priority 1: Meet MISSION Needs

Our human capital framework depends on a listing of funded requirements. Program managers and the resource system have a major role in controlling this requirement set, with the HR system taking an essential role. Requirements set the demand for people with the right knowledge, skills, and abilities in the right locations to perform Coast Guard missions. The aggregate of these unit-level requirements determines the actual size, shape, structure, and eventual cost of the workforce.

The following objectives for this strategic priority will strengthen the Coast Guard's ability to use informed analysis – linked to mission requirements – to ensure its workforce has the capability and capacity to execute missions for the Nation it serves.

Objective 1.1. Alignment between the force planning construct and human capital planning.

The Commandant's Strategic Intent calls for an overall force that can meet steady-state demands while simultaneously maintaining surge capacity for major incidents. These incidents include hurricanes, mass migration, pollution, and other major surge operations. The force planning construct will use scenarios to model and simulate the Coast Guard's ability to respond to simultaneous missions to inform the development of the force structures and personnel strength required.

The force planning construct is designed to anticipate human capital, workforce, equipment, assets, and training requirements as well as the right mix and location of each. It considers both contingencies and steady-state mission efforts, using prioritized potential incidents and events to which the Coast Guard would be required to respond. In addition, the construct defines and manages risk, based in part on today's uncertain resource environment. As a set of high-order requirements, this construct will determine the overall force size and required capabilities for missions. Human capital planners must be able to translate these capabilities into the competencies required for the workforce.

Objective 1.2. Responsive human capital requirements systems and processes.

Program (mission) planners in both operations and mission support must define their requirements and advocate for their priorities in the resource process. Human capital planners must help by defining how to specify those requirements in a way that can be sustained by the HR system. Planners must also assess how performance tools, such as training; tactics, techniques, and procedures (TTP); and other aids, can assist in reaching the desired objectives. When an adjustment to personnel strength or competencies is necessary, the MRD process is the primary tool used by planners to define the human capital required to accomplish the mission. In both today's steady-state missions and in future mission areas, human capital planners partner with program managers to determine: the work, competencies, training, and experience required; a unit's overall workload and the appropriate personnel to meet the mission; and, for major acquisitions or mission shifts, the workforce pyramid and relationships necessary to sustain the required skills and competencies. These complex factors are analyzed based on the mission requirements of the organization, rating, or initiative and are based on a stated level or standard of performance.

Under the leadership of the HR Capabilities Staff (CG-1B), MRD provides a summary of the number and characteristics of workers needed to accomplish each requirement. FORCECOM develops the needed training and analyzes the relationship with other factors influencing human performance. The HR system provides these results to mission planners and program managers who can assess inherent risk, if funding levels demand alternative approaches.

Objective 1.3. Appropriate competency/specialty frameworks.

The Service's Human Capital System must adjust to changing labor markets, expanding mission sets, and a changing workforce. Program and workforce managers, partnering with human capital planners, should use existing competency structures to assess the commonality between new requirements and existing workforce skills. This foundation will allow the Service to evaluate the optimal path from today's workforce and its skill sets to the workforce of the future. It will also balance steady-state mission demands with new challenges and contingency needs.

Key enablers for this objective are the well-established enlisted rating review process as well as the maturing Officer Specialty Management System. Systematic training and needs assessment methods are in place for the entire workforce, founded on on-the-job performance needs. The civilian workforce system will continue to rely on standards set by the Office of Personnel Management.

Objective 1.4. Build workforce proficiency.

Oversight and attention to improving proficiency will ensure a solid foundation for today's missions and is essential to building the force required to meet tomorrow's challenges. Proficiency begins with each service member and civil servant's accession/on boarding, rating/specialty selection, and professional milestone training. Proficiency is built and sharpened with attainment of the needed qualifications and certifications, by gaining further knowledge and honing skills through experience. The self-discipline and drive of each individual leads to excellence at the unit level, and is the backbone of the Coast Guard's ability to carry out its demanding missions.

We will continue to develop a forward-looking human capital system with resources, road maps, and incentives that set clear proficiency standards for career fields. Ongoing initiatives by DOD, OPM, and DHS will inform the process, and a partnership between the resource system and program managers is essential. We will continue to provide clear links to professional and leadership development that ultimately lead to improved mission performance and efficiency.

VI.

Strategic Priority 2: Meet SERVICE Needs

Rooted in leadership, the foundations of Coast Guard effectiveness are the climate and performance of each unit. Over the next 10 years, the ability to lead in uncertain environments and complex contingencies, and build governmental unity of effort through intergovernmental or interagency partnerships will be increasingly important.

Developing their people is a principal responsibility of every leader and supervisor. The HR system provides them a cadre of people intended to carry out their unit's mission. Their people must be built into an effective team at the unit level, and training delivered by centers must be reinforced, as well. Their teams provide rich differences in backgrounds, perspectives, attributes, and experience both within and outside of the Coast Guard. The Reserve component, in particular, brings valuable skills gained in the broader community. To meet the challenges of multiple and ever-changing missions, leaders must ensure that they positively build on these differences. The Coast Guard has recognized for decades that mission accomplishment requires recruiting, hiring, and retaining a diverse workforce. This is essential to attract and retain the full range of talent available in the Nation.

The context of this strategic priority is broader than the traditional use of the term “service needs,” which is most often associated with the military assignment process. It includes a focus on the effectiveness of the HR system at all levels: Headquarters, major commands, service centers, and training centers. The HR system is responsible for equipping each unit with the trained and ready men and women required for unit performance.

Objective 2.1. Competency in leadership as a human capital requirement.

The importance of leadership in the Coast Guard is woven throughout the seven principles of Coast Guard operations. Perhaps, the clearest statement is found under the Principle of On-Scene Initiative: “By exercising proficiency in leadership, commanders can be confident that the person on-scene will be proficient in craft and can be depended on to exercise disciplined initiative.” Proficiency in leadership is one of the anchors that define the Coast Guard man or woman. Leaders must uphold our core values, reflect character and integrity, and exercise their authority with a sense of accountability for their actions.

Leadership is taught and leaders are developed starting with accession points, at the Coast Guard Academy and our training centers. Proficiency in leadership must be viewed with the same rigor as the Service treats proficiency in other professional dimensions. The Coast Guard embeds leadership competencies into the requirements for advancement or selection for promotion, but does not explicitly note or retain that information beyond the performance reports. Service leadership principles are well stated in doctrine, enlisted advancement courses, and performance report standards. However, the Coast Guard must deploy products developed at the Leadership Development Center and the Academy's James M. Loy Institute for Leadership across the Coast Guard so all workforce components can use them on the mess deck, in the wardroom and break room, and on the shop floor. We will advance a leadership development program with a framework and an appropriate assessment system. Competency structures must reflect the need for leadership at all levels in all communities.

Objective 2.2. Foster positive workplace environments.

The workplace environment of each Coast Guard unit contributes to mission effectiveness. The more cohesive, inclusive, and respectful the workplace, the greater each member or employee will contribute to the mission. In a positive workplace, the passion, pride, and professionalism of the team is apparent. Members are energized and engaged because they feel valued – these climates bring the Coast Guard core value of respect to life. As a result, they are better able to cope with high-pressure, challenging situations that are a regular part of Coast Guard operations.

The Coast Guard must carefully develop plans, policies, and procedures that foster positive workplace environments. Recently, the Coast Guard published two strategic plans that support this effort. The Coast Guard's Diversity and Inclusion Strategic Plan (July 2015) focuses effort to improve multi-cultural intelligence and inclusivity through three performance goals: attracting, recruiting, and retaining a high-performing diverse workforce; fostering a culture of respect; and preparing leaders to be accountable and responsible for refining their approaches to inclusion. The Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Strategic Plan for Fiscal Years 2013-2017 aims to eliminate sexual assault in the Coast Guard by providing a strong culture through policy and procedures for prevention, education and training, response to assault, victim support, intimidation-free reporting, fair and impartial investigations, and accountability. For the civil service, the Annual EEO Program Status Report quantifies efforts to attain a well balanced and diverse civilian workforce and identifies areas for improvement.

Each of these plans has their underpinnings in a series of surveys that the Coast Guard uses to examine workplace trends. The Defense Equal Opportunity Climate Survey (DEOCS) provides the unit commander with a non-attribution report on the climate of their unit. The Organizational Assessment Survey (OAS) is a government-wide survey that the Coast Guard has used since the late 1990's. This well-developed and consistent survey instrument allows comparison of trends that can be examined from the unit level to the entire Coast Guard. The Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey (FEVS) applies to civilian talent, and also compares the Coast Guard to other Government organizations. In addition, the Service has invested in human performance technology for decades. These assessment methods can examine a range of issues related to training, other performance interventions, climate, policy gaps, and other issues affecting performance. The Coast Guard will continue to leverage these assessment tools to evaluate workplace climates and evaluate the best ways to improve human performance in a dynamic mission environment.

Objective 2.3. Excellence recruited, retained, and rewarded.

The same disciplined initiative that the Coast Guard applies to its operations must also extend to actions that build a positive command climate and contribute to the career aspirations of our military members and civilian employees. Feedback, coaching, and counseling must stress both positive performance and clearly identify areas for improvement. Evaluations must adhere to the Service standards articulated within them.

At the Headquarters level, we will assess performance management reports (for officers and enlisted members, and civil servants) for their effectiveness in identifying the talents and potential in our workforce. This includes the role of credentials and certifications for special skills. In addition, a number of the military workforce flexibilities under consideration in the DOD aim to provide tools to retain specialized talent. The Coast Guard will carefully evaluate their application to our Service with consideration of our needs, size, and characteristics, and carefully weigh the attributes of the “up or out” paradigm of military service while considering the unintended consequences that could arise.

For the civilian workforce, retaining and rewarding excellence falls primarily on the employee’s supervisor, many of whom are military personnel. Credentials, certifications, and developmental opportunities are critical to civilian employee growth and must be supported throughout the leadership chain. We will develop a concept and structure for civilian workforce career development, including methods to be competitive in a new job series. We will include tools for leaders of civilians, both military and civil service, in this effort.

The excellence of our workforce also relies on “knowledge centers” within the Coast Guard. These staffs maintain and understand our assets and processes, and underpin our technical prowess in many mission areas, such as marine safety, engineering, acquisition, and response. The Force Readiness Command’s Performance Technology Center analyzes workforce needs and directly feeds updated rating standards, while the National Centers of Excellence support both the prevention and response missions. These centers promote training, performance support, and research, and develop a repository of information on particular missions and specialties. The mission support product and service lines own the configurations and engineering specifications for our cutters, aircraft, shore infrastructure, and electronics/information technology. We must ensure that they are appropriately staffed and recognized for the wide span of impact on our people and their proficiency.

Objective 2.4. An efficient and effective human resource system.

The mission of the Assistant Commandant for Human Resources (CG-1) is to “Meet the people needs of the Coast Guard while meeting the needs of Coast Guard people.” FORCECOM prepares the workforce through its training centers and assessment units. The FC mission is to, “Optimize human performance for premier mission execution through clear tactics, techniques, and procedures; relevant training; and quality assessments.” The Coast Guard Academy develops leaders of character. These organizations report to the Deputy Commandant for Mission Support. As part of continual organizational development, we will examine ways to refine the relationship and alignment between CG-1 and FORCECOM, with the goal of delivering mission-ready personnel. This includes reviewing subordinate command relationships, including recruiting, training, and assignment processes, as well as the integration essential to personnel management. The goal of this effort is to improve the delivery of integrated service based on the Mission Support Business Model and the overall enterprise architecture.

Civil service administrative processes are managed by the Office of Civilian Personnel (CG-121). Their personnel are distributed across the Coast Guard, and the office has embarked on a systematic process review to ensure that actions by centralized staffs and decisions by the hiring officials are synchronized and timely. This is a shared responsibility between CG-121 and leaders across the Coast Guard. Regular communication and reporting of applicable metrics to leadership, hiring officials, and customers are continuing efforts.

People entering the Service are either hired for their competencies and experience (civil service) or tested to determine aptitude (military). Civil servants are hired into positions for which they are qualified based on previous work experience and education, and are provided an orientation to the Coast Guard when hired. Military members undergo initial training or education (recruit training, officer candidate training, or education at the Coast Guard Academy) to attain basic qualifications, followed by assignment to positions commensurate with their skills. From that point on, a repeating cycle of assessment, advancement, promotion, training, qualification, and reassignment to positions of greater responsibility mark a career. Eventually, people are either discharged, released from active duty short of retirement, or retired. Some people, and/or their survivors, earn post-service benefits. A select number transfer to the Reserve and continue to serve.

As described earlier, missions and actions create requirements for work; after careful analysis, work requirements are converted into authorized positions at locations where people will be assigned. Positions have many characteristics that guide human capital management activities; the major ones are force (active duty or Reserve military, civil service, contractor, Auxiliary, NAF), grade, specialty, competencies, location, and required experience. Military members are assigned and reassigned to positions taking into account individual desires for personal and professional development, and family considerations, both to accomplish the work and to provide for continual development.

Throughout all of this, whether for a short time or a career, people must be compensated, provided benefits and incentives, offered a healthy and safe workplace, be respected in their sincerely held personal beliefs, and allowed to find the right balance of work and family life – within an environment that promotes diversity and inclusion, and enables professional and personal development.

All of this has a point: to ensure that people with the right skills will be ready, able, and willing to do the Coast Guard’s work – now and in the future.

VII.

Strategic Priority 3: Meet PEOPLE Needs

Meeting the needs of our people is essential to mission success. Part of proficiency in leadership is to take responsibility for self and fellow crewmembers while accomplishing the mission. At the heart of the Coast Guard Ethos is the perspective that individual characteristics contribute to collective success. The results that the Coast Guard achieves for the Nation depend on the collective abilities of its people and their willingness to perform challenging duties. We enhance each person's contributions to mission performance by cultivating their well-being and the well-being of their families, and fostering professional development.

While the Coast Guard workforce is primarily motivated by its missions, formal support systems play a critical motivational role. Supporting each employee's desire for knowledge and improvement not only benefits our missions, it shows our workforce that we are committed to them as individuals. Our enduring commitment to the needs of our people sets us apart from other organizations – building the Coast Guard's reputation as a positive organization, a Service of choice in the Armed Forces, and an employer of choice within the Federal government.

The term "Coast Guard family" is more than a slogan. It denotes the care and connection that the Service places in its people and their families, and the way in which Coast Guard men and women look out for one another in both good and challenging times. While about half the military members are located in 12 "hubs," the others are stationed at many small units located in more than 185 locations around the world, performing the mission every day. Most of our military members rotate from mission-related duties in one location to missions at another location, creating a strong demand for personal development and care concurrent with mission performance.

Objective 3.1. Resilient Personnel and Families.

Capable leaders and strong support programs contribute to team effectiveness. The Coast Guard depends on capable leaders to look out for those who are beside them and those in their charge, detect early signs of difficulty, and take positive action to support those in need. Positive action by leaders plays a large role in countering behaviors, such as substance abuse and other misconduct.

Formal programs provide resources for military members and their families, and also for civil servants. These include work-life programs; religious support programs; and child development centers and subsidies. In addition, MWR programs; ombudsman programs; military housing; Coast Guard Mutual Assistance and the Coast Guard Foundation support the unique demands of Coast Guard service. Each of these resources enhances personal resiliency and contributes to the life cycle of support for our members. This life cycle of support continues after the end of one's military status. Our retiree programs help connect military annuitants with current Coast Guard support programs. We will capture best practices across the organization and develop accessible enterprise-wide programs based on successes.

Objective 3.2. Safe and healthy workforce.

Personal readiness for demanding duties depends on quality health care. Due to the distributed nature of Coast Guard units, the Service depends less on organic clinics and more on TRICARE and DOD Military Treatment Facilities (MTFs) for both military members and their families. The Service will continue its efforts to make quality health care accessible to military members throughout the Service.

The safety of our members and employees must never be compromised. As the Coast Guard continues to operate cutters that exceed their expected lifespan; inspect commercial facilities and ships; work in aging shore infrastructure; and conduct aviation missions in the most demanding environments, our safety programs must stay strong. All Coast Guard members have a personal responsibility for managing the risks associated with their individual activities, both on and off duty, in order to safeguard themselves, their families, and fellow workers from harm. This duty extends beyond safety programs to tactics, techniques, and procedures and safety consciousness in all aspects of work and life.

Objective 3.3. Career-long professional development and learning.

In today's rapidly changing environment, the individual skills that are invaluable to the Service today may change in the future. To keep pace, we must treat continuous learning as an investment in mission success by ensuring that professional development activities are relevant, professionally rewarding, and linked to mission needs. By providing access to formal education, training, tuition assistance, career counseling, and mentoring programs, and encouraging self-directed learning, participation in professional organizations, and individual development planning, we will help our workforce continually develop their talent and renew their skill sets.

In recent years, the Federal government has placed greater emphasis on professional credentialing, such as certifications in a number of professional fields. By encouraging and supporting programs leading to certification and licensure, we raise the professionalism of the workforce and ensure that our members are qualified to perform their jobs. Credentialing also supports the transition of our military members into civilian careers after they separate from the Service. Professional development must also include adequate opportunities for career advancement. This need links to the crafting of billet structures to foster sustainable career progression while never losing sight of sea/shore rotation goals. Our military members and civil servants should have a clear understanding of career paths for their specialties, have access to resources for available career opportunities, and trust that our promotion systems are fair and equitable.

To assist each military member and civilian employee as they pursue knowledge, we must create an environment of learning across our organization. We must implement processes, tools, and organizational relationships that allow our workforce to share critical knowledge and work collaboratively across organizational boundaries. Programs, such as tuition assistance, provide a unique opportunity to pursue personal advancement and knowledge. The benefits of educational programs also provide new perspectives and open new avenues for career development. Opportunities to participate in cross-functional teams, details, and collaborative information and knowledge sharing all advance the Coast Guard's learning environment and drive continuous improvement.

Objective 3.4. Incentive structures for tomorrow.

The Coast Guard has used a combination of special pays and other non-pay incentives for its military members to gain volunteers for arduous duty and to compensate for the special demands of certain duty types. These include bonuses (enlistment, critical skills training, critical skills retention, and selective re-enlistment) and special pays (sea pay, flight pay, and hazardous duty pay). All bonuses and special pays are authorized in law, and tailored to the Coast Guard's needs by policy and panels that set and adjust amounts based on Service needs. For example, sea pay was first tiered by unit type in 2001, and the Coast Guard has tailored bonuses to overall workforce needs for many decades.

The Coast Guard is already moving forward with focused incentives that recognize the need to target competencies, and also toward tailoring the overall environment to meet the demands of particularly arduous duty. Considerations include maximizing cutter sea time, while keeping in mind personnel tempo, deployment lengths, and maintenance needs. Increasingly, the Coast Guard is targeting incentives toward pay-grade ranges where they will have the most impact. Certain competencies are also targeted for bonuses recognizing the training and proficiency required for certain ratings. We expect the trend toward targeted incentives to continue over the next 10 years.

The incentive structures for civil servants differ from the military workforce. In addition to competitive pay and benefits for Federal employees, research shows that other variables are playing an increasing role in keeping employees satisfied, motivated, and committed to the organization. According to the Government Accountability Office (GAO), work environments that offer flexible options such as telework and alternative work schedules; recognition for a job well done through monetary, non-monetary, and/or career enhancing incentives; and job rotation programs may be critical to reducing turnover and retaining a workforce capable of addressing future challenges.

VIII.

Ensuring Long-Term Success

Several foundational principles guide the management of the Coast Guard's workforce, and are critical to the success of this Strategy. These principles create the lens through which we must view, plan, and execute all human capital management actions. They provide a foundation to ensure accountability and responsibility to our workforce (Duty to People), and likewise, the expectation of accountability and responsibility from the workforce back up the chain of command (Service to Nation). They are particularly important as the Coast Guard considers changes to human capital planning and management (Commitment to Excellence), since changes often risk unintended consequences.

With few exceptions, each principle applies equally to military and civil service, active duty and Reserve, officer and enlisted, and, in most cases, our Auxiliary. They will shape our strategic thinking and guide our efforts as we face the challenge to continually develop the Coast Guard workforce for complex global missions.

A. Meet MISSION Needs:

(1) The Principle of Efficiency and Proficiency.

We recognize that we are stewards of America's resources--its people, money, and natural environment--and maritime commerce and safety. We must execute our responsibilities as wisely and efficiently as possible, sustaining personnel and unit readiness in support of achieving operational goals and missions.

Our military workforce performs the largest share of our missions. We should leverage opportunities to: increase proficiency and ensure sustainable expertise; select and assign personnel to maximize return on investments in training, education, and competencies; and provide members with the opportunity for geographic stability, by type and duration of assignment.

These opportunities must be carefully balanced with career progression requirements, fair and equitable assignment opportunities, and overall Service needs. We also must be innovative and push authority to appropriate levels.

For our civilian workforce, the need for proficiency is no less. We must provide our civilians with the training and professional development needed to perform their duties. In many cases, our civilians provide much needed continuity of specialized expertise and proficiency. Maintaining processes to develop this proficiency is important to our success.

(2) The Principle of Requirements and Data-based Decisions.

We operate a human capital management system driven by requirements. Mission performance standards create a need for activities, to which resources are applied (people, money, materials, assets, and time). The demand for human capital (numbers of people and their individual capabilities) is the signal to which the HR system responds.

Requirements are not generated and determined by the people who work in HR; they are generated and determined by program managers, informed by operational commanders. All are an integral part of the human capital system. Analysis of facts, data, and stated assumptions influence decisions and policies. This information provides a degree of transparency and predictability that instills trust and produces better decisions in the Coast Guard's and member's best interests, but the HR system must have flexibility to adjust to specific circumstances unique to each situation.

B. Meet SERVICE Needs:

(1) The Principle of Diversity and Inclusion.

We will access, develop, and sustain a diverse and inclusive workforce. People have individual characteristics that make them distinct from others, including age, language, culture, religion, race, ethnicity, gender, knowledge, competencies, talents, and perspectives. The more diverse the organization, the more it reflects the richness of our society, and the more resilient it will be as conditions and demand for services change.

(2) The Principle of Equity and Opportunity.

We will make all human capital policy and management decisions in a fair and equitable manner, and always consider opportunity. In a “needs of the Service”-based human capital system, every decision should be made so as to not disadvantage any person or group.

C. Meet PEOPLE Needs:

(1) The Principle of Predictability.

People want to exercise control over their destinies. This is not always possible in a military organization; however a human capital system that strives to operate on the basis of stable and predictable flows enables people to make better decisions in managing their careers. People must trust that the Coast Guard applies all policies and practices with fairness and equity, based on merit.

(2) The Principle of Professional Growth.

People strive to be the best that they can be; when new members have the requisite knowledge and skills to be successful, productivity is enhanced and long-term job satisfaction is ensured. Our workforce management systems, tools, and military pyramids will value and support career aspirations and not only enable upward mobility, but expect it. By providing opportunities for professional and personal development, the Coast Guard will create and sustain a proficient workforce, and develop the expertise necessary to serve the long-term needs of the Service and the Nation.

(3) The Principle of Safety and Wellness.

We will ensure that a healthy, safe, and supportive environment is provided for members, employees, and their families. This serves our people, and, in doing so, creates confidence that leaders will have ready and resilient people when they need them.

IX.

Conclusion

The history of the Coast Guard is full of innovative responses to new demands and new conditions. Requirements, practices, and processes have changed frequently since 1790 under the press of emerging needs and shifting roles within the Federal Government. The current changes to Coast Guard missions are demanding, but this is not a new situation for our Service. Adapting to new missions and changes in focus have been a hallmark of Coast Guard history. The people of our Service have always modified their practices and relationships to carry out new tasks. They have done so through new ideas and new methods built upon the Coast Guard's underlying "Semper Paratus" culture. The current focus will be met with similar resolve.

In this time of new demands, this Human Capital Strategy will be implemented through an annually reviewed plan, championed by the Assistant Commandant for Human Resources and the Force Readiness Command. Execution of this Strategy extends beyond Headquarters. Leadership at all levels, Headquarters program managers, Resource Management Offices, and all layers of command must be engaged in building the readiness and potential of our people.

Our workforce is essential to meeting the call of our Nation in the maritime realm. Boats, cutters, aircraft, and facilities do not perform our missions by themselves. Our Coast Guard military personnel and civil servants, augmented by contractors and Auxiliary, perform in an exemplary way to execute Service missions. This Strategy charts a course so that our Service and its extraordinary people continue to perform in the finest traditions of the world's best Coast Guard.

Appendix

Selected Definitions

Competency: A collection of tasks with the associated knowledge, skills, abilities, and wherewithal (tools, methods, information, doctrine, procedures, materials, etc.) needed to perform the tasks to a predetermined, measurable, performance standard. The tasks are usually related as parts of a larger process in support of or contributing to the goals of the organization, unit, or work group. See Commandant Instruction M5300.2A. A shorter definition is found in M1500.10C. The job-related knowledge, skills, abilities, and personal attributes that a person exercises while performing the duties of any given position.

Human Capital: The Coast Guard's workforce. This term includes their knowledge, skills, abilities, attitudes, expertise, experience, and leadership.

Human Capital System: This includes the Human Resource System plus program managers who specify and advocate for workforce requirements. It also includes the Resource System in its work prioritizing personnel funding to the various requests from program managers. (See figure 1.)

Human Performance: Human Performance Technology is a careful and systematic approach to solving problems – or realizing opportunities – related to the performance of people, groups, or organizations. It results in solutions that improve a system in terms of achievement that the organization values. Based on the information gathered, we can determine what has to be changed in the system to achieve effective and efficient mission execution.

Human Resource System: The elements that perform Human Resource functions for the Coast Guard. These activities include recruiting, hiring, training and education, providing pay and benefits, promotions, assignments, as well as separations and retirements. The system includes CG-1 and subordinate directors and units including the Personnel Service Center (PSC) and subordinate units; and the Health, Safety and Work-Life Service Center (HSWL). The system also includes FORCECOM and its subordinate units and training centers. Rating Force Master Chiefs (RFMC) are also part of the system in their activities supporting an enlisted rating.

Non-Appropriated Funds (NAF): Employees who are compensated by funds other than those appropriated by Congress. NAF employees are most frequent in the Coast Guard Exchange System and in Morale, Well-being, and Recreation activities at larger installations.

Performance Support: Performance Support interventions target shortcomings and/or problems with motivation, tools, and capacity, to enhance the entire Integrated Performance System, and provide a foundation of support for people to perform their jobs in an exemplary manner.

Personnel Allowance List (PAL): A database maintained by the Assistant Commandant for Resources (CG-8) listing the authorized and funded positions by grade, specialty, unit, location, and other attributes. A person can be provided to a unit by the HR system based on a PAL position.

Proficiency: A measurable, established level of skill or ability required for the competency attached to a specific position. This characteristic is assigned to a competency when it is attached to a position. See Commandant Instruction M5300.2A. Proficiency is often referred to using an apprentice, journeyman, master scale.

Resource System (RMO or -8 shops): Offices which administer Coast Guard personnel, operating, and other appropriated funds. A position on PAL accounts for a portion of the overall workforce funding. Funding attributable to a position includes pay (civilian and military), medical, military rotation, and other support costs. Resource Management Offices (RMO) are established within the Area Commands, Deputy Commandant for Operations, and Deputy Commandant for Mission Support organizations.

THE COMMANDANT OF THE UNITED STATES COAST GUARD

The demand for United States Coast Guard services has never been greater, and Coast Guard men and women work tirelessly across a multi-cultural global environment to ensure American security and advance economic prosperity. We are also integral members of the diverse local communities where we are stationed. Our highly dedicated and professional Mission Ready Total Workforce is forged from the DNA of American society.

In order to remain the world's best Coast Guard we must be the world's most diverse and inclusive Coast Guard. Anything less means that we will fail to garner the talent, innovation, creativity, and performance necessary to meet the challenges of an increasingly complex maritime operating environment. We owe it to our Nation, and ourselves, to create a Coast Guard where everyone can contribute the full power of their diverse backgrounds, experiences, and thoughts.

My vision is a fully inclusive Coast Guard where all people are respected, empowered, and valued. A Service where every single person can pursue and achieve personal growth and professional success. A culture that not only attracts the best of America's diverse population, but fosters an environment that encourages America's best to stay.

Building the Coast Guard that America needs will not happen through study and/or aspiration. Inclusion is an action, and your senior leadership team is committed to making tangible differences in the diversity of our ranks and the inclusivity of our workplaces. Moving towards such change is exactly what this plan represents. Developing diversity & inclusion acumen, strengthening awareness & accountability, and building & maintaining an inclusive total workforce involve concrete steps that we can all take to help improve our Service and best position us for the challenges of tomorrow.

Many elements of success already exist in our shared commitment to the Coast Guard, each other, and our Core Values of "Honor, Respect, and Devotion to Duty." Now, we need to apply the foundations of sound leadership at all levels of the Service to implement and strengthen this action plan. We must treat diversity and inclusion as mission imperatives. The time to act is now!

Semper Paratus.

Introduction

America relies on the U.S. Coast Guard to preserve our Nation's maritime safety, security and stewardship. To ensure we remain Ready, Relevant, and Responsive, we must continue to recruit and retain a highly skilled total workforce that reflects the people we serve.¹ Diverse representation alone will not increase our readiness if we do not retain our diverse total workforce. Inclusion in the workplace drives employee engagement and is paramount for attracting and retaining employees.

Diversity and Inclusion are mission imperatives for the Coast Guard. Our Service is made stronger with our diversity, and we must continue to foster a culture of inclusion that will require Coast Guard members to embrace new ideas, accommodate different styles of thinking, and create a work environment that enables people to connect, collaborate, and empower different types of leaders. It is expected that Coast Guard leaders will demonstrate competence in managing cultural diversity, race, gender, background, experience, and other individual differences in the workplace. The Coast Guard Leadership competency of "Leading Others - Respect for Others and Diversity Management" aligns with the New Inclusion Quotient (New IQ) inclusive behaviors of fair open, cooperative, supportive and empowering.

¹ Executive Order 13583- Establishing a Coordinated Government-wide Initiative to Promote Diversity and Inclusion in the Federal Workforce, The White House. 2011

Our 2019-2023 Diversity and Inclusion (D&I) Action Plan develops a foundation that will help our people to identify and mitigate biases, work together to nurture a sense of community, and continue to improve the culture of our Service. Our plan outlines our approach to further develop our Service's diversity and inclusion initiatives. It establishes diversity and inclusion goals, strategies, and measures of success with a holistic approach that will produce meaningful, sustainable transformation. In creating this plan, we are building on previous D&I strategic plans, establishing clear lines of accountability for Coast Guard leaders, and embedding D&I in our organizational DNA.

A diverse and inclusive culture is strongly linked with Coast Guard's Core Values of Honor, Respect, and Devotion to Duty. We recently celebrated their 25th anniversary, which provided an opportunity to emphasize the fundamental behaviors and beliefs that shape our organization and build our personal character for an active journey to inclusion. The Coast Guard must address the concerns and needs of our total workforce head-on to guarantee the fair treatment, access, and opportunity for every single person in our organization. This means the establishment of systems within our units to track our progress and to share regular updates in order to catalog effective programs and practices. By sharing and learning with each other, the total workforce will be able to strengthen existing programs and commitments to better serve our employees and our Nation.

Establishing the Foundation for a More Inclusive Coast Guard

This action plan outlines the actions, priorities, and strategies that establish the foundation to build a more diverse and inclusive Coast Guard. As we discuss the necessary actions, a universal understanding of Diversity, Equity, & Inclusion must become prevalent in our Coast Guard culture.

Diversity

Diversity refers to the variety of similarities and differences among people, including but not limited to: gender, gender identity, ethnicity, race, native or indigenous origin, age, generation, sexual orientation, culture, religion, belief system, marital status, parental status, socio-economic difference, appearance, language and accent, disability, mental health, education, geography, nationality, work style, work experience, job role and function, thinking style, and personality type.

Equity

The guarantee of fair treatment, access and opportunity for advancement for all (employees) while at the same time striving to identify and eliminate barriers that have prevented the full participation of some groups. The principle of equity acknowledges that there are historically underserved and underrepresented populations and that fairness regarding unbalanced conditions is needed to assist in fostering equality in the provision of effective opportunities to all groups.

Inclusion

A dynamic state of operating in which diversity is leveraged to create a fair, healthy, and high-performing organization or community. An inclusive environment ensures equitable access to resources and opportunities for all. It also enables individuals and groups to feel safe, respected, engaged, motivated, and valued for who they are and for their contributions toward organizational goals.

Line of Effort 1: Development of D&I Acumen

Developing our D&I acumen means that we will be broadening our current scope of D&I focus areas from a basic understanding to an increased level of wisdom, acuity, and intuition with the ultimate goal to make that understanding actionable in an inclusive work environment. A Diverse and Inclusive workplace will enhance our organization's competitive edge.

D&I education and awareness are essential components of organizational effectiveness. We must be prepared to talk about belonging, social justice, human rights, and inclusive leadership.

A holistic planned approach is necessary to ensure we are prepared to have informed and courageous conversations around complex D&I topics and the future of our workforce. In order to be successful, the Coast Guard total workforce must be equipped with the tools and resources needed to build common ground for D&I conversations, learning, and cross-cultural relationship building. These tools will help the Coast Guard foster an inclusive work environment that supports creativity, innovation, and a high performing Mission Ready Total Workforce.

We must continuously monitor and assess D&I programs, clarify the meaning and behaviors associated with our Core Values, and develop and maintain a cadre of personnel with the needed D&I acumen to influence a culture of inclusivity at all levels of the organization. The world is changing – our journey to inclusion must be deliberate and impactful.

Note: Key Stakeholders listed are not all encompassing.

Success Measures:

- Conduct internal assessments of the Coast Guard's baseline GDIB annually and report progress to the Leadership Council.
- Provide professional D&I education to a cadre of employees who will serve as a resource to promote D&I education and awareness to the total workforce.
- Unit leaders will utilize D&I Coaches and Practitioners to continue to evolve diversity and inclusion strategic opportunities, increase cultural intelligence, recognize the value of each employee's unique contribution, and work effectively with diverse teams at their units.
- Recommendations are identified in the Holistic Study & Analysis of Recruiting & Retention of Underrepresented Minorities.

Line of Effort 2: Strengthen Leadership D&I Awareness and Accountability

We will provide tools for leaders to assess organizational climate and develop strategies and action plans to enhance D&I effectiveness. We will ensure Coast Guard-wide engagement, including senior leadership support for D&I initiatives and competency development. Leaders will be able to measure, track, and improve their culture of inclusion by aligning awareness with action.

Once leaders achieve well-developed D&I acumen, they will be equipped with the necessary tools to lead by example and instill accountability throughout the total workforce. Leaders and managers who consistently demonstrate inclusive behaviors will instill these same qualities into subordinates.

The implementation of a metrics dashboard will enable, incentivize, and ensure accountability for D&I performance and progress that aligns with our defined D&I objectives.

Success Measures:

- Increase the Coast Guard Inclusive Leadership Index Environment (CGILE) and the results of FEVS/OAS assessments, to highlight awareness and culture improvements.
- Some command billets should be filled by members that possess the D&I OSMS-type competency code.
- The D&I Metrics Dashboard gets reported to Senior Leadership.

Line of Effort 3: Build and Maintain an Inclusive Total Workforce

We will continue to build an inclusive culture where everyone will be valued, respected, encouraged to contribute to their fullest potential, and feel connected to the Coast Guard mission. Team performance, decision-making, and collaboration increases an average of 22% when leaders intentionally modify their inclusive behaviors.²

This is a call to action for all members of the Coast Guard. Every member of our workforce has a duty to take action to preserve and promote dignity and respect in our Service. Our diversity helps us bring unique perspectives and skills to our missions. Attracting and retaining a diverse workforce, with the right skills and capabilities to meet current and future mission requirements, requires an inclusive culture.

The Coast Guard is committed to increasing the representation of women and minorities at all levels of the organization. We will develop a comprehensive outreach strategy to recruit a more diverse workforce. Additionally, a continuous review of talent management processes and procedures to remove barriers in the career lifecycle, will aid in creating systems that are equitable and that lead to improved retention of women and underrepresented minorities.

We will equip our leaders with unique and customizable D&I awareness learning tools created to increase the development and understanding of inclusion across the total workforce. We will continue to make strides in diversity while sharply focusing our emphasis in creating an inclusive culture to drive agility, innovation, and resilience by executing a Coast Guard-wide learning initiative on respect and inclusion, strengthening our relationships with Affinity Groups, developing a Coast Guard-wide mentoring program framework, and implementing efforts to increase dialogues about diversity and inclusion. A Coast Guard that better reflects diverse backgrounds, unique experiences, and original ideas, will inspire innovation and perspectives to solve complex challenges.

Success Measures:

- Increase the diversity of the Coast Guard's total workforce.
- Deploy a D&I learning solution that reaches the Coast Guard total workforce.
- Institutionalize D&I based Cultural Competencies to emphasize an advanced education and learning curriculum for a mission ready total workforce.
- Unit leaders will measure "Inclusion Stand-Up" effectiveness through feedback identified in a unit-level assessment. Unit leaders will share lessons learned, feedback and best practices gained during the inclusion awareness dialogues at the unit level.

Conclusion

Our Service is focused on recruiting and retaining a total workforce dedicated to mission success and advancing the interest of the nation we are actively serving. The culture of the Coast Guard is vital to our success and support. An honest assessment of the organization and ourselves, combined with an open-minded approach to improvement, is an imperative as we seek to remain an employer of choice. The success of the initiatives in this Action Plan will be measured by the increase of diversity within the workforce. Inclusion success will be identified by an increase in our inclusion index scores in the results of organizational surveys.

The efforts and the desire to identify D&I based barriers to recruitment and retention are reflective in the commissioning of two studies; the Women's Retention Study and Holistic Analysis, and the Holistic Study & Analysis for Recruiting & Retention of Underrepresented Minorities. The Coast Guard will continue to prioritize recommendations from both studies and develop implementation plans that will benefit the total workforce. Diversity and inclusion encompass an array of issues that need to be addressed holistically and our Service will continue to maintain focus on efforts to ensure the Coast Guard is an inclusive organization.

The leadership and total workforce commitment to this action plan will enable the Coast Guard to invest in new and novel approaches to inclusion and diversity, and identify areas for improvement. Our future focus is to systematically and intentionally root diversity, inclusion and equity in our operating environments, processes and talent management systems. By embedding inclusion and diversity more fully into our culture, we will leverage the full range of talent to meet mission execution in the emerging challenges of a fast-paced, ever changing world.

Diversity & Inclusion-Based Key Terms and Definitions

Affinity Groups: Affinity Groups (AGs) or Employee Resource Groups (ERGs) are organizationally recognized and strategic partners internal and external to the Coast Guard linked by a common purpose, ideology, or interest. They play a vital role in ensuring an inclusive environment where all are valued, included, and empowered to succeed. AGs and ERGs provide the potential for “critical mass” of employees to increase workplace inclusion.³ They are instrumental in helping the organization meet diversity and inclusion goals by helping to attract, retain and develop diverse individuals. The Coast Guard currently collaborates with thirteen affinity groups that represent various demographics.

Bias: A prejudice in favor of or against one thing, person, or group compared with another usually in a way that is considered unfair. Biases may be held by an individual, group, or institution and can have negative or positive consequences. Types of bias: Affinity Bias, Confirmation Bias, Bandwagon Effect, and Attractiveness Bias.

Blind Spots: The collection of unconscious biases that lead to assumptions that influence behaviors. Hidden biases impact our perceptions of social groups without our awareness or conscious control. It shapes our likes and dislikes as well as influences our judgments about people’s character, abilities, and potential. It’s called a blind spot because we cannot see it, we are not aware of the bias. The blind spot is our inability to see the bias as well as its impact on our own judgment process.

Coast Guard D&I Coaching Program: Coaching training for members in the U.S. Coast Guard. Participants will learn coaching skills that are aligned with the International Coaching Federation core coaching competencies and skills to effectively facilitate tough-talks centered on identity, race, class, gender, religion, ethnicity, sexual orientation, and ability, which underpin the challenges faced throughout our institutions and communities.

Coast Guard Inclusive Leadership Environment Index (CGILE): A standardized way to measure inclusion across the total workforce. The CGILE Index incorporates 26 questions from the Organizational Assessment Survey (OAS) questions that are identical and/or compatible to the 20 questions used in the Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey (FEVS) to track the five inclusive behaviors of the New IQ: Fair, Open, Cooperative, Supportive, and Empowering.

Culture: The way we learn to interpret, give meaning to, and function in the world based on the shared values, beliefs, history, transitions, standards, language, behavioral norms, communication styles, etc. of the communities with which we primarily identify.

Cultural Fluency: A process of lifelong learning resulting in knowledge, communication skills, behaviors, and attitudes that allow us to work effectively with others from different cultural backgrounds - increasing the ability to maximize the benefits of diversity within our workforces.

Devotion to Duty: We are professionals, military and civilian, who seek responsibility, accept accountability, and are committed to the successful achievement of our organizational goals. We exist to serve. We serve with pride.⁴

Diversity: Diversity refers to the variety of similarities and differences among people, including but not limited to: gender, gender identity, ethnicity, race, native or indigenous origin, age, generation, sexual orientation, culture, religion, belief system, marital status, parental status, socio-economic difference, appearance, language and accent, disability, mental health, education, geography, nationality, work style, work experience, job role and function, thinking style, and personality type.⁵

D&I Practitioner: Members of the Coast Guard who have a job assignment/position responsible for recognizing, creating and implementing programs to strengthen Diversity and Inclusion within the organization (e.g. CG- 127, CGA OID Staff, PAC/LANT Area Diversity Action Officers (DAO)).

Equity: The guarantee of fair treatment, access and opportunity for advancement for all (employees) while at the same time striving to identify and eliminate barriers that have prevented the full participation of some groups. The principle of equity acknowledges that there are historically underserved and underrepresented populations and that fairness regarding unbalanced conditions is needed to assist in fostering equality in the provision of effective opportunities to all groups.

Equity-Minded: Used to describe actions that demonstrate individuals' capacity to recognize and address racialized structures, policies, and practices that produce and sustain racial inequities.⁶

Global Diversity & Inclusion Benchmarks (GDIB): Diversity and Inclusion (D&I) standards and benchmarks for organizations around the World to support organizations globally in the development and implementation of D&I best practices. The GDIB helps organizations: realize the depth, breadth, and integrated scope of D&I practices; assess the current state of D&I; determine strategy, and; measure progress in managing diversity and fostering inclusion. The important GDIB elements consists of 14 categories of benchmarks, organized into four groups (foundation, internal, external, and bridging).

Honor: Integrity is our standard. We demonstrate uncompromising ethical conduct and moral behavior in all of our personal and organizational actions. We are loyal and accountable to the public trust.⁷

Inclusion: A dynamic state of operating in which diversity is leveraged to create a fair, healthy, and high-performing organization or community. An inclusive environment ensures equitable access to resources and opportunities for all. It also enables individuals and groups to feel safe, respected, engaged, motivated, and valued for who they are and for their contributions toward organizational goals.⁸

Inclusion Dialogue: A creative process for leading collaborative dialogue, sharing knowledge and creating possibilities for action in groups of all sizes; it is a method for engaging people in meaningful conversations. The goals of Inclusion Dialogues are to maximize collective intelligence, welcome and listen to diverse viewpoints, encourage full participation and civility, and harvest ideas that propel the conversation forward into action.

Key Stakeholder: An office, directorate, or entity (including those subordinate to the same) that has a vested interest in the communication, implementation and success of the proposed actions and/or initiatives.

Microaggression: Statements, actions, or incidents regarded as indirect, subtle, or unintentional discrimination against members of a marginalized group. It is also defined as brief but commonplace daily verbal, behavioral, or environmental indignities, whether intentional or unintentional, that communicate hostile, derogatory, or negative slights and insults toward an individual based on race, gender, sexual orientation, age, weight, etc.

Micro-inequities: Subtle slights and snubs that devalue individuals and often prompt employees to leave an organization. A theory that refers to the hypothesized ways in which individuals are either singled-out, overlooked, ignored, or otherwise discounted based on unchangeable characteristic such as race or gender.

New Inclusion Quotient (IQ): Inclusive quotient is built upon the concept that individual behaviors, repeated over time, form the habits that create inclusive work environments. These behaviors are calculated into an index using a subset of 20 questions from the Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey (FEVS). They are categorized into five subfactors: Fair, Open, Cooperative, Supportive, and Empowering. The NEW IQ index indicates a degree to which an environment is inclusive.⁹

Respect: We value our diverse workforce. We treat each other and those we serve with fairness, dignity, and compassion. We encourage creativity through empowerment. We work as a team.¹⁰

Stereotype: An oversimplified generalization about a person or a group. These can be about both negative and positive qualities but regardless, they lump people together. Stereotypes are cognitive shortcuts and become a bias when you apply the stereotype to an action.

Total Workforce: The Coast Guard's total workforce consists of all Active Duty, Reserve, Civilian and Auxiliary components. Every active duty, reserve, civilian, and auxiliary member plays an integral role in mission execution.

Unconscious Bias (or implicit Bias): Social stereotypes about certain groups of people that individuals form outside their own conscious awareness. Everyone holds unconscious beliefs about various social and identity groups, and these biases stem from one's tendency to organize social worlds by categorizing.

Unit Leader: Leads a discreet work group, staff, command, or unit. An individual who has the ability to shape and impact the culture, environment and work of a defined group. A list of Unit Leader examples include but are not limited to: Command Cadre, Department Heads, Division Officers, OICs, Chiefs, Supervisors, or any person identified by any of the above positions.

A Message from the Director

The Coast Guard Civil Rights Strategic Plan January 15, 2020 - January 14, 2025 is a framework for achieving the mission of the Civil Rights Directorate (CRD); this plan focuses on the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's (EEOC) standards of a model EEO Program. In addition to enforcement and compliance of federal law and Coast Guard policies, the plan conveys strategic actions for resolving complaints, preventing unlawful discrimination, and strengthening important partnerships with schools and key communities.

The Coast Guard's approximately 47,000 military and 8,600 civilian personnel directly support and contribute to operational readiness and effective execution of all Coast Guard missions. Consistent with the Coast Guard Strategic Plan (2018-2022), CRD strives to ensure a positive work environment for those employees, so that mission focus is not hindered by discrimination or harassment, which contribute to hostile work environments.

Strategic Plans of Action 2012, 2016 and 2018 preceded this strategy; these documents mapped out critical activities of CRD consistent with EEOC laws and regulations. They focused attention to improvement areas, successful restructuring to meet statutory obligations, and identification of quantifiable measurements established in 2012. The activities and actions resulted in measurable success. The service's civil rights performance now exceeds the federal average in most factors measured by EEOC and many CRD functions are considered to be Department of Homeland Security "best practices."

In building on CRD's success over the past years, this plan illustrates the Directorate's commitment to continuous process improvement, transparency and accountability, along with ways to facilitate the Coast Guard's civil rights efforts into the future. CRD will continue its:

- Commitment to robust attempts at Alternative Dispute (Early) Resolution (mediation);
- Goal of all personnel understanding civil rights and knowing how to access processes;
- Investment of resources to effectively communicate with Coast Guard stakeholders;
- Effort to build a culture of collaboration both internally and externally.

The process for developing this plan has been highly inclusive and collaborative. Coast Guard subject experts worked jointly to reaffirm or modify original goals, objectives, and action plans. The resulting document provides the basis for ensuring non-discrimination, and the existence of valid processes within which claims of discrimination can be addressed.

With the help of its leaders, managers, staff and partners, and with the successful implementation of the Coast Guard Civil Rights Strategic Plan 2020-2025, the Coast Guard affirms its vision of a discrimination-free workplace where every member and applicant has the opportunity to reach his/her/their full potential based on ability and nothing more.

Dr. Terri A. Dickerson

Director, Civil Rights Directorate

Introduction

The Coast Guard Civil Rights¹ Strategic Plan 2020-2025 provides the foundation on which the Civil Rights Directorate (CRD) facilitates the continuous improvement and re-scoping of the original plans developed in 2012 and 2016. The Bird's-Eye View, found in Appendix A on page 18, delineates the Civil Rights Program's mission, vision, and the strategic goals and objectives which underlie Coast Guard responsibilities. The CRD's goals conform to the Commandant's Guiding Principles: Relevant, Ready and Responsive. Our members' bias for action must focus inward, protecting against violations of Coast Guard Core Values, including all forms of discrimination and harassment which breach trust, erode unit cohesion, and degrade readiness. These goals also embrace the Department's goal of retaining a highly qualified and diverse workforce that enjoys fairness and equality. For easy reference, CRD's strategic goals are depicted and explained on page 6. These are derived according to Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) Management Directive – 715's (MD-715s) expression of six elements of a model civil rights program. The six elements establish standards by which federal agencies may develop and maintain model EEO programs, and set benchmarks to measure their progress. MD-715 standards are utilized throughout government to measure and report on its efforts to become a model employer. As described in MD-715, the six elements of a model EEO organization are:

- Demonstrated commitment from agency leadership;
- Integration of EEO into the agency's strategic mission;
- Management and program accountability;
- Proactive prevention of unlawful discrimination;
- Efficiency; and
- Responsiveness and legal compliance

The EEOC envisions that the service - principally leadership and facilitated by Civil Rights / EEO - carries responsibility in achieving model status. Using MD 715 standards, Exhibit 1 defines each strategic goal and a summary of the actions expected by each entity within the enterprise of the Coast Guard [i.e. "USCG" (strategic-level), "CRD" (operational-level), and respective leaders (e.g. "Commanding Officer (CO)/Officer in Charge (OIC)" (tactical-level)] in attaining a model civil rights environment.

¹ Civil rights is defined in the Coast Guard Civil Rights Manual, COMDTINST M5350.4(series), as the "Rights belonging to an individual as a matter of law, especially fundamental freedoms and privileges guaranteed by the U.S. Constitution and subsequent acts of Congress, including the rights to equal employment opportunity."

CRD's Five Strategic Goals

This Strategic Plan delineates the path that CRD intends to follow toward achieving its vision through five strategic goals which are further broken down into 15 objectives. The five strategic goals describe CRD's role vs. the Command's role in achieving the five strategic goals. Each strategic objective has accompanying action plans, which are the steps needed to achieve the objectives. Each strategic objective also is associated with performance measures, which are the means by which progress will be tracked.

Goal 1: Lead.

CRD conducts activities to assist and support Coast Guard CO/OIC to foster civil rights leadership.

USCG: Lead

CRD: CRD conducts activities to assist and support Coast Guard CO/OIC in Charge to foster civil rights leadership.

CO/OIC: Command leadership is ultimately responsible for the Coast Guard's civil rights outcomes.

Goal 2: Adopt Strategies.

CRD facilitates CO/OIC in their efforts to integrate civil rights into the Coast Guard's strategic mission.

USCG: Adopt Strategies

CRD: CRD facilitates CO/OIC in their efforts to integrate civil rights into the Coast Guard's strategic mission

CO/OIC: Command leadership communicates through words and actions, the importance of civil rights to mission effectiveness.

Goal 3: Hold All Accountable.

CRD conducts activities which uphold CO/OIC accountability for civil rights.

USCG: Hold All Accountable.

CRD: CRD conducts activities which uphold CO/OIC accountability for civil rights.

CO/OIC: All managers and supervisors are responsible for the successful implementation of civil rights program elements.

Goal 4: Prevent.

CRD conducts activities and develops tools to assist and support CO/OIC to proactively prevent unlawful discrimination.

USCG: Prevent.

CRD: CRD conducts activities and develops tools to assist and support CO/OIC to proactively prevent unlawful discrimination.

CO/OIC: Proactively prevent unlawful discrimination.

Goal 5: Efficient, Fair, Impartially Enforce Non-discrimination Laws.

USCG: Efficient, Fair, Impartially Enforce Non-discrimination Laws.

CRD: CRD identifies and implements efficient practices, aimed at promoting equal opportunity for all.

CO/OIC: Command leadership embraces opportunities to resolve matters quickly and equitably, at the level closest to the issue/conflict.

What the CRD Does

The Civil Rights Directorate advances civil rights imperatives in the Coast Guard by carrying out multiple roles of:

- Promoting and enforcing civil rights in order to create a discrimination-free workplace for employees and applicants;
- Conducting Civil Rights Awareness (CRA), Sexual Harassment Prevention (SHP), and subject related training;
- Conducting Equal Opportunity (EO) reviews as needed;
- Receiving and investigating complaints and allegations of civil rights violations;
- Offering recommendations for improving policies and practices which promote EO in the Coast Guard workplace;
- Partnering with stakeholders to review current performance and proactively assess future needs in the civil rights arena; and
- Partnering with leadership to manage Partnership-in-Education, Special Observances and Special Emphasis Programs.

CRD's FUTURE

The overarching purpose of the Coast Guard Civil Rights Strategic Plan is to state CRD's intent to be a leader in civil rights service delivery and a model of civil rights practices within the Coast Guard and the Department of Homeland Security. Further, the strategic objectives outlined in this document are the initiatives through which CRD continuously pursues model civil rights program status. Both headquarters and field level staff, in their performance and achievement of desired outcomes, are instrumental in this undertaking.

CRD's VISION

A discrimination-free workplace where every member of and applicant to the Coast Guard has the opportunity to reach his/her/their full potential, and believes it is possible to do so without regard to: race; color; national origin; religion; sex (including gender identity, sexual harassment, pregnancy and sexual orientation); age; disability; genetic information; marital status; parental status; political affiliation; engagement in a protected Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO)/Equal Opportunity (EO) activity or any other basis protected by the law.

CRD's MISSION

Lead programs and facilitates practices which foster a discrimination-free workplace.

CRD's GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

The Civil Rights Directorate established five strategic goals and 15 strategic objectives that align with Management Directive 715 (MD-715) model program elements and to bring into line its organizational resources to achieve desired results. The below illustration shows how the objectives (exhibit 2.) are linked to the goals.

GOAL 1: Lead.

CRD conducts activities to assist and support Coast Guard CO/OIC to foster civil rights leadership. Command leadership is ultimately responsible for the Coast Guard's civil rights outcomes. CRD further identified two strategic objectives for this goal.

This goal models the first EEOC element: Demonstrated Commitment.

- 1.1 Proactively communicate the mission/vision of CRD to reach the entire Coast Guard workforce.
- 1.2 Institutionalize an efficient, customer-focused CRD team through training, developing, and retaining a fully-qualified workforce.

GOAL 2: Adopt Strategies.

CRD facilitates CO/OIC in their efforts to integrate civil rights into the Coast Guard's strategic mission. Command leadership communicates through words and actions, the importance of civil rights to mission effectiveness. CO/OIC incorporates EEO strategies into their strategic mission, which imbues it into the Coast Guard's everyday strategies. This model program element also highlights "structure from the top" and "strategic commitment" as key features. As a result, CRD identified three strategic objectives.

This goal models the second EEOC element: Making EEO an Integral Part of the Agency's Strategic Mission.

- 2.1 Ensure an effective organizational structure to carry out the functions of CRD.
- 2.2 Increase civil rights awareness at all levels of the Service so that the workforce can fulfill and comply with their EEO/EO requirements and responsibilities Coast Guard-wide.
- 2.3 Secure adequate resources to effectively and efficiently carry out the planning, performance, budgeting, and execution management duties and responsibilities of CRD.

GOAL 3: Hold All Accountable.

CRD conducts activities which uphold CO/OIC accountability for civil rights. All managers and supervisors are responsible for the implementation and enforcement of civil rights program elements. There is only one key characteristic in this model element, which is the overall accountability aspect of the EEO program. Therefore, CRD made this an accountability-based goal while identifying three strategic objectives.

This goal models the third EEOC element: Ensuring Management and Program Accountability.

- 3.1 Create and foster a collaborative, professional workplace within CRD.
- 3.2 Promote the recognition (formal and/or informal) of CO/OIC who exhibit exemplary performance in EEO/EO program management.
- 3.3 Implement processes and procedures (reports, training, etc.) which improve quality and timeliness of CRD services.

GOAL 4: Prevent.

CRD conducts activities and develops tools to assist and support CO/OIC to proactively prevent unlawful discrimination. This goal rises to a higher level by defining and describing the means of proactive prevention. CRD identified four strategic objectives to promote this goal.

This goal models the fourth EEOC element: Proactive Prevention.

- 4.1 Encourage periodic self-assessments of the Coast Guard workplace at all levels consistent with EEOC's MD-715 factors.
- 4.2 Develop and promote data management tools which help Coast Guard managers to understand local factors affecting the workforce EO climate.
- 4.3 Implement and encourage EEOC MD-715 activities within CRD that exemplify model civil rights program elements.
- 4.4 Provide an accessible, single resource for civil rights policy and requirements to the Coast Guard workforce.

GOAL 5: Efficient, Fair, Impartially Enforce Non-discrimination Laws.

CRD identifies, implements, and enforces efficient practices, aimed at promoting equal opportunity for all. Command leadership embraces opportunities to resolve matters quickly and equitably, at the level closest to the issue/conflict. Goal 5 encompasses three strategic objectives.

This goal combines the fifth and sixth EEOC elements: Efficiency [and] Responsiveness and Legal Compliance.

- 5.1 Ensure highest EEO/EO quality for compliance and responsiveness by improving and measuring key operational processes.
- 5.2 Identify and develop tools, resources, and activities which can be utilized early in the EO process to affect positive outcomes.
- 5.3 Facilitate and encourage partnerships with public and private entities to increase participation by groups within the Coast Guard workforce with low participation rates compared to the Civilian Labor Force (CLF).

Implementation

Implementing the Strategic Plan is a process that involves all of CRD's stakeholders. This includes CRD's headquarters and field offices, the entire CG workforce and leadership, and partnering agencies throughout the U.S. Government. Planning tasks or action plans that fall in line with the objectives will help achieve the plan. A number of external factors could impede the implementation process; however, CRD will seek solutions to overcome those challenges and employ performance measures to gauge progress. The graphic below depicts the process for implementing the strategic objectives.

Phases of Strategic Objective Implementation

Developing Objectives and Actions

Moving from the mission to five strategic goals and from five strategic goals to 15 strategic objectives requires further planning at the action level. These 15 strategic objectives were reviewed and accepted as still relevant and not requiring changes. Like other features in this document, the supporting actions rely on transparency, collaboration, and acceptance by stakeholders. Each strategic objective is composed of subordinate initiatives that CRD will implement or improve in order to meet the goals to which they are committed. Furthermore, the strategic objectives and action plans, as previously mentioned, are not static; they may be revised based on changes in policy, procedures, mission, and vision or unforeseen circumstances. Development of the strategic objectives and action plans is just the first step in reaching the goals of the organization, as these require the full support from internal and external stakeholders.

Implementing Objectives and Actions

CRD vetted the Strategic Plan both internally and externally. CRD staff members collected data from previous years in order to establish realistic benchmarks. These benchmarks were re-evaluated and modified to make current measurements more rigorous or appropriate for the various courses of action. Cooperation from internal and external CRD stakeholders is paramount to ensure proper measurements are monitored and achievement metrics are achievable and relevant. Performance will continue to be measured and analyzed periodically based on the nature of each specific measurement.

In 2016, CRD's leadership conducted a complete review of the Directorate's major functions to ensure that staff efforts were still in line with the 15 objectives adopted in 2012. Each staff function was mapped to the appropriate subject matter expert within the Directorate. Additionally, each of the metrics used to assess CRD's performance meeting those objectives were reviewed by stakeholders. CRD conducted this activity again in 2018. The Civil Rights Directorate formed a strategic planning working group comprised of leadership and staff level members. This group: (1) conducted a comprehensive review of earlier strategic plans (2012, 2016 and 2018); (2) reviewed the Directorate's major functions, and (3) created this current plan. The team's work was highly collaborative with all members of the Directorate, both at headquarters and in the field, being offered the opportunity to provide input. At the conclusion of this effort, the working group proposed modifying 21 metrics, adding four new metrics and deleting two obsolete metrics, resulting in a total of 35 metrics to be measured on either an annual or quarterly basis. The modifications, additions and subtractions are illustrated later in this document in Appendix B "Data Dictionary."

Gauging Performance

Performance measures are vital to analyzing and understanding the achievement of the Strategic Plan. The Data Dictionary represents the formula by which the performance is evaluated. It delineates all aspects of the performance measure, including defining the metric, aligning the metric with goals and objectives, identifying a responsible office/ party and specifying the frequency of the evaluation. Appendix C is a sample of the Strategic Dashboard with all 35 measures, while Appendix D describes the tools used to quantify those measures. As Exhibit 7 describes, performance measurement leads back to developing and refining objectives and actions. This feedback-loop represents CRD's commitment to constant and consistent improvement over time.

External Factors Affecting Achievement

Factors outside CRD's control affect its ability to achieve the objectives herein; principally budget, the national economy, demographic changes, available technology, and new regulatory requirements. While unforeseen factors are to be expected, it is worth noting that they have a bearing on future plans.

- Budget and Resources. This document assumes a level of funding commensurate with the strategies and priorities delineated, and changes to fiscal assumptions may result in reductions to resources necessary to implement this strategy. However, the Coast Guard continuously reviews available resources and priorities to ensure that appropriate levels of support are programmed to its key functional areas, including CRD.
- Demographic Factors. CRD will continue to work with Coast Guard Human Resources to maintain awareness of demographic changes and their impacts.
- Technology. With new developments comes the ability to interact with employees and applicants in new ways. CRD must be alert to the effects of new technology on compliance and oversight. Additionally, where technology is permissible, the workforce will expect CRD to utilize it in enforcement, education, and outreach activities. Technologies are likely to emerge that will require vetting for appropriateness for civil rights functions and implementation.
- Legal and Regulatory Changes. Because of its enforcement and compliance role, CRD must act and react to new Federal requirements. As new regulations are announced, each must be codified into guidance that will be widely understood by employees and applicants. Each ensuing change must also be incorporated into CRD's education and outreach efforts for the workforce. Such requirements can potentially divert resources from other planned activities.

In view of the foregoing external factors and others not delineated here, CRD will continually assess and prioritize resources to best meet mission requirements.

Reorganization of Action Items from Self-study in 2009

In September of 2008, amid myriad organizational challenges, the Director of CRD conducted a functional review and evaluation of the Coast Guard civil rights program.

For that purpose, CRD retained Booz-Allen and Hamilton (BAH), Inc. to assess the current state of the organization and to provide findings and recommendations with the goal of modernizing and professionalizing CRD. Prior program assessments had been conducted in 1999 and 2001 proposing structural and personnel changes, some of which were implemented and some of which were not. However, as anticipated, the study revealed some areas for improvement and organizational change, and recommended various structural improvements and program enhancements. As a result, CRD memorialized the recommendations and labeled them as the 53 Recommendations.

During 2010-11, the original 53 Recommendations were grouped into 29 action plans; and many of these were accomplished with the 2009 reorganization. With considerable project management training, the CRD staff further condensed the 29 action plans to 12 (these conform to the five CRD goals mentioned on page 6). In 2011, CRD added two more action plans, resulting in a total of 14 action plans covering all organizational goals and strategic objectives. These 14 action plans have been completed or were incorporated into the Strategic Plan, and are part of a recurring review process conducted by the CRD senior staff throughout each year.

U.S. Coast Guard Civil Rights Directorate (CRD) VISION, MISSION, GOALS and OBJECTIVES

Vision

A discrimination-free workplace where every member of, and applicant to the Coast Guard workforce has the opportunity to reach his/her/their full potential, and believes it is possible to do so without regard to: race; color; national origin; religion; sex (including gender identity, sexual harassment, pregnancy, and sexual orientation); age; disability; genetic information; marital status; parental status; political affiliation; engagement in a protected Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) / Equal Opportunity (EO) activity or any other basis protected by law.

Mission

Lead programs and facilitate practices which foster a discrimination-free, mission-ready workplace.

Goals		Objectives
1	Lead. CRD conducts activities to assist and support Coast Guard Commanding Officers (CO)/Officers in Charge (OIC) to foster civil rights leadership. Command leadership is ultimately responsible for the Coast Guard's civil rights outcomes.	1.1	Proactively communicate the mission/vision of CRD to reach the entire Coast Guard workforce.
		1.2	Institutionalize an efficient, customer-focused CRD team through training, developing, and retaining a fully-qualified workforce.
2	Adopt Strategies. CRD facilitates CO/OIC in their efforts to integrate civil rights into the Coast Guard's strategic mission. Command leadership communicates through words and actions, the importance of civil rights to mission effectiveness.	2.1	Ensure an effective program to carry out the functions of CRD.
		2.2	Continue to ensure civil rights awareness and understanding at all levels of the Service so that the workforce can fulfill and comply with their EEO/EO requirements and responsibilities Coast Guard-wide.
		2.3	Secure adequate resources to effectively and efficiently carry out the planning, performance, budgeting, and execution management duties and responsibilities of CRD.

3	Hold All Accountable. CRD conducts activities which uphold CO/OIC accountability for civil rights. All managers and supervisors are responsible for the successful implementation of civil rights program elements.	3.1	Create and foster a collaborative, professional workplace within CRD.
		3.2	Promote the recognition (formal and/or informal) of CO/OIC who exhibit exemplary performance in EEO/EO program management.
		3.3	Implement processes and procedures (reports, training, etc.) which improve quality and timeliness of CRD services.
4	Prevent. CRD conducts activities and develops tools to assist and support CO/OIC to proactively prevent unlawful discrimination.	4.1	Encourage periodic self-assessments of the Coast Guard workplace at all levels consistent with EEOC's MD-715 factors.
		4.2	Develop and promote data and tools which help managers to understand local factors affecting the workforce EEO/EO climate.
		4.3	Implement and encourage EEOC MD-715 activities within CRD that exemplify model civil rights program elements.
		4.4	Provide an accessible, single resource for civil rights policy and requirements to the Coast Guard workforce.
5	Efficient, Effective, Fair, Impartial Enforcement of Non-discrimination Laws. CRD identifies and implements efficient practices, aimed at promoting equal opportunity for all. Command leadership embraces opportunities to resolve matters quickly and equitably, at the level closest to the issue/conflict.	5.1	Ensure highest EEO/EO quality for compliance and responsiveness by improving and measuring key operational processes.
		5.2	Identify and implement tools, resources, and activities which can be utilized early in the EEO/EO process to affect positive outcomes.
		5.3	Facilitate and encourage partnerships with public and private entities to increase participation by groups within the Coast Guard workforce with low participation rates compared to the Civilian Labor Force (CLF).

Addendum: Civil Rights Strategic Plan 2025

The following additional actions fall within CRSP-2025, specifically Goal 2 Adopt Strategies;

Objective 2.3 Continue to ensure civil rights awareness and understanding at all levels of the Service so that the workforce can fulfill and comply with their EEO/EO requirements and responsibilities Coast Guard-wide. Specifically, the following activities will be added.

Objective 2.02.06

Stronger Together Listening Sessions - NEW

Racism continues to threaten pillars of justice and equality on which our nation stands. Its presence in our workforce threatens readiness. We must accept the difficult truth that members of society, and our workforce continue to feel un-heard, under-valued, and less than fully accepted members of the overall Coast Guard community.

Listening sessions are indicated with the goal of understanding what African American workforce members experience in society and elsewhere, and to have others recognize ways in which they can be attentive to this problem. In a learning sense, listening allows the total workforce to demonstrate that they are paying attention to thoughts, feelings and needs of African American employees (seeing the world through their eyes). This is crucial to establishing and maintaining productive relationships. Some of what we are experiencing as a nation has roots in failure to creating spaces for listening, and being able to express grief, frustration, anger and fear before it becomes unbearable. CRD will reach out to other appropriate entities to conduct activities collaboratively, for example Employee Assistance Programs, HSWL, and the Chaplain network.

Target: 5 Sessions

Measure: CRD will evaluate comments from members who participate.

Employee Resource Page - NEW

It is not enough to acknowledge, condemn, or passively disapprove systemic inequity. We can also provide opportunities to continue the journey into learning and putting that learning into action. To that end, an employee resource page with books, DVDs, movie titles, podcasts, links, museum displays will help employees to take this journey.

Target: 1 Employee Resource Page

Objective 2.02.08

Professional Development for African American Aspiring Executives (Focus is attendance by Low-Participation Groups, however everyone in the workforce is welcome) - NEW Employees also must believe and experience that they can succeed as far as their talent and ambition take them. For this reason, a session on senior executive leadership be offered through affinity groups to target particularly under-participating work groups. Though everyone may not aspire to leadership in the public sector, either as a civilian member or for others post-military service, it is nonetheless important that the Coast Guard support activities which de-mystify the process, and to invite workforce members at all levels to understand and begin to develop and document their performance of the competences proven to curate effective Federal leadership.

Target: 2 Sessions

Measure: Number of sessions held

Objective 2.02.09

Conflict Resolution Conversations - NEW

The Civil Rights Directorate will be hosting conversations using a collaborative platform aimed at expanding workforce members' knowledge of resolving workplace conflict. During periodic 1-hour sessions, guest and speakers, experts will discuss leading practices. Speakers will be sought for traditional topics such as Alternative Dispute Resolution, and settling claims focused on the EEO protected classes: race, color, religion, creed, gender, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, ancestry, age, and marital status.
