

U.S. Coast Guard Aviation History

Fairchild J2K-1/2

Historical Information:

The Coast Guard purchased two Fairchild J2K-1s and two J2K-2s in 1936. Two, V160 and V161, were assigned to Air Station St. Petersburg and the other two, V162 and V163, were assigned to Air Station Charleston. Three of the four were lost due to crashes.

Fairchild J2K-1, on tarmac, starboard view; no caption, date or photo number; location unknown.

Sources:

Arthur Percy, U.S. Coast Guard Aircraft Since 1916 (Annapolis: Naval Institute Press, 1991), pp. 181-182.

