If an examination module is failed by a single question, you will be given the opportunity to review the module. Prior to leaving the examination room, you may submit a challenge on up to two questions that were scored as incorrect. In the space below explain why you believe there is something wrong with the question that prevents it from being answered correctly. For example: No correct answer, multiple correct answers, or the question is poorly worded. All calculations for mathematical problems must be included. No references, other than those allowed in the examination room, may be utilized for the purpose of substantiating a challenge. Forms that are illegible or too light for scanning (pen is recommended) may not be considered. Challenges will not be accepted under any circumstances once you leave the exam room.

Comments may also be submitted utilizing this sheet. Comments will not affect your score, but they may be used to improve the quality of questions used on future examinations.
